NEW CATHOLIC SCHOOL HOUSE IS DEDICATED

The new school house erected by St. James Catholic congregation of Arlington Heights was dedicated with impressive ceremonies last Sunday. Rev. Mons. Peter Bierman of Evanston officiated, assisted by Rev. Frank Mattes of Buffalo Grove.

The dedication proper, was held in the afternoon, yet the entire day was given over to celebration of the event. There were many visitors from neighboring parishes. Thirty men from former parishes served by Rev. Peter Gall also some classmates and school chums were present to give honor to the occasion in memory of old times.

At the morning Rev. Gall gave a special sermon on "Rendering an Account of Thy Stewardship," recalling the duty of parents in making provisions, not merely for the bodily needs of their children, but also for their spiritual needs. "The good work has begun, now remain faithful until the end and the sacrifices that a school naturally imposes upon a parish, will bring its own reward."

Dedicatory Ceremonies

The dedicatory services started from the parish home, the children singing as they marched to the church. The invocation and opening prayer were given by the celebrant. The procession then reformed and marked to the entrance of the new school building, through a lane formed by the men of the parish who acted as escorts. The children sang as they marched. At the entrance, the choir sang and the outside ceremonies were held, including the blessing of the exterior of the building.

The ceremonies held in the assembly hall on the second floor of the building included singing and the hanging of the cross, the emblem of a Christian school.

The procession returned to the church with the children singing, a special hymn was given by the choir and children in honor of the patron saint, the Apostle James. The ceremonies closed with the benediction given by the visiting dignitary. All joined as the bells rang, in singing "Holy God, Thy Name."

Following the dedicatory exercises, the school building was thrown open to all visitors. The assembly hall was opened for the first coming together of all members of the parish for a social time and luncheon in their own home and upon their own grounds. The net receipts of the evening were early $250.00.

Building is Complete

St. James school building is probably as complete as any other such structure in the Chicago area. There is no building that could be better constructed. It is solid thru out, staunch and true in every respect. Expense was not spared in providing the best possible materials and workmanship. Local contractors, materials and laborers were used through its construction.

The hall are all commodious, entrances and exits are provided at each end of the building, doing away with the otherwise necessary unsightly fire escapes. The building is fire proof throughout and large fire extinguishers are provided on each floor.

A special improved safety lock is provided for the doors, making entrance and exist equally as easy for the children. The school rooms are standard in every particular and even better than are found in many new schools. The blackboards are all built in. Double acting curtains are at the windows. The school seats are all the product of the Arlington Seating Co. A special music room has its place and a special sister, well qualified in teaching music, will have charge of such work. The sanitary conveniences are of the highest class.

Four school rooms are outfitted and are in use at the present time. A school assembly hall is provided upon the east end of the building of the second floor. This hall as the pupils increase in number, can be divided into two school rooms. The blackboards are already in place.

The building is heated from an adjoining building, which is equally as well constructed. This is in compliance with the most improved fire protection rules and is an added safeguard for the protection of the pupils of the school. The basement, 54x72 ft. is unobstructed and will later be finished off into a hall for the community purposes.

The sisters have commodious quarters upon the first floor, including a dormitory, parlor and kitchen. They are very much pleased with their work here. Four of the sisters are engaged in school work. Another has charge of the music and the sixth is the housekeeper. Joseph Moran is the janitor of the building.

Business Men to Have "Big Eats"

Thursday, November 18, is the date set for the annual banquet of the Arlington Heights business men's association. The Lutheran school hall is the place. The committee in their announcement mailed to the members this week promise good eats. Plenty of music, entertainment and a program. Every member has the privilege of bringing a lady with him, preferably his own wife, says the committee.

Methodist Church Makes Plans for The Coming Year

The pastor's cabinet met at the home of Rev. Billman last week and planned the work of the year. Naturally, the most important item in the program was the building project. The parsonage is being moved into place back of the church this week. The parsonage lot, north of Zimmer's store, is for sale, and plans are made for the building of a community house or more properly, the present building will be converted into a community house, and a new church auditorium will be built to the north of the community house.

The object of the community house is to provide a place and equipment for community games, and entertainments. It is a step toward providing wholesome amusement for the young people of Arlington Heights.

The spirit of the meeting is typical of the spirit that has been developing in this congregation for some time. It isn't the spirit of providing selfishly only for the members of the church, but the purpose of the building program is to provide for as many others as possible.

It is the hope that a program of some sort of entertainment and recreation and education can be provided for several nights of each week, when the new equipment is available. There will then be more room for Sunday school classes and for suppers and banquets.

Other plans for the year include giving the services of the pastor to the work of the Boy Scouts. This is a most important work and is also for others than church members. The pastor's wife is to perform similar service for the girls of the town by working with the Campfire girls. She has one group and Miss Laura McElhose has another. These groups contain girls from all denominations.

The Tri-Sigma work will include educational features this year. Now that the school board has taken over the night school for foreigners, the Tri-Sigma will start other classes for other folks. The one already announced is a class in Journalism which will be taught by Mr. Beaty. Others may be announced later.

The Tri-Sigma work will also feature educational trips for children. It is hoped that these may be started before long. The trips will be open to all children above a certain age, and will be made to Chicago to visit certain places of interest to children and of real educational value.

The organization of a men's club was conducted two years ago with great success.

A go-to-church month was also planned. The work of the choir was discussed and improvements planned.

This is the first time for many years that the Arlington Heights Methodist church has had a full time minister, and great things are expected this year. There are many willing workers and there is no trouble in finding plenty of work to be done.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLD DISTRICT CONVENTION

The fourth annual Sunday school teachers' convention of the Arlington Heights Pastoral Circle of the Evangelical Church, comprising 22 schools was held October 17 at St. Paul's Evangelical church, Palatine, Ill., John C. Voeks, pastor. 140 teachers were present and 100 visitors from the different schools.

After the opening devotions and exercises the convention divided into groups for discussion of various phases of work. Two of the teachers of St. Paul's Sunday school made a special contribution in these simultaneous meetings. Mrs. E. Foster leading the boys junior department and Rev. Voeks as chairman of the adult group. A plenary session followed in which each group reported.

All delegates felt that a very profitable and inspiring afternoon, was spent. Eats were served by committees of the St. Paul's Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Roy Born acting as chairman. The ladies said we owe that to our Sunday school teachers and certainly served a fine lunch. Eats were donated by mother's of St. Paul's Sunday school members.

At 6:45 the convention service was held, conducted by Pastor Louis Kleeman of Barrington, Ill. Musical numbers were rendered by Theo. Voeks at the organ, Mrs. E. Foster, vocal solo, and St. Paul's choir, an anthem. The address was given by Prof. H. Katterjohn professor of religious training at Elmhurst college. He spoke very impressively on "The Teacher's Task." "There are three kinds of teachers; good, bad, indifferent, what kind would you like to be?" New officers for the ensuing year installed were Mr. Kirchoff, Bensenville, president; Mrs. E. Foster Palatine, secretary; Everybody went home with the assurance of having had a blessed day and a very nice time.

WARNING

Any outside person soliciting in the name of any Catholic cause, institution, or purpose and using the name of the pastor of St. James church is not to be trusted. In case anyone approaches you on such a plea, call 332-R, before allowing yourself to be imposed upon.—Signed, Rev. Peter F. Gall.

WIDENING OF STREETS EARLY NEXT SPRING

Engineer's estimates have been prepared covering the widening to forty feet of streets of Arlington Heights "new business section." The legal proceedings will not begin until after January as there is no time for the construction work before winter sets in. The improvement includes Dunton Ave., from the railroad to the corner of the Presbyterian church; Evergreen and State road from the railroad to Miner St. Miner street, from Dunton to State road. This includes the new business district that has developed within the past two years. One block on the south side is also included, viz: Vail St. from Davis St. to Campbell. The improvement is greatly needed. The present 18 and 24 ft. streets are entirely inadequate.

Bjorndahl Takes Over Pine Ave.

The job of paving of Pine Ave. that was recently awarded to an outside contractor, has been taken over by the Bjorndahl Construction Co. This is a small job and Mr. Bjorndahl is at work on it now, as the original contract would not afford to "move in."

More Paving Next Year

Applications for considerable more paving on the south side are in the hands of the Board of Local Improvements. The rapid development of that part of the village has created a demand for "ail improvements," and the village board is providing them as speedily as possible.

Zoning Ordinance Ready Soon

Arlington Heights zoning ordinance is "in type." It has been revised and will no doubt be ready for submission to the village dads very soon. There has been a lot of work necessary in the preparation of this ordinance, but its needs are becoming more and more apparent as each day passes.

Board in Regular Session

Regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights was called to order by President Mors Monday evening, October 18, with all trustees present.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Finance committee reported favorably on bills and payroll to the amount of $1027.22 which on motion were ordered paid, partly by time and partly by regular warrants.

Street committee reported they were patching pavement and clenaing streets also that the ditch had been cleaned near the south side school.

Police committee reported fines of past two weeks.

Treasurer's report showing a deficit of $6,323.13 was read and referred to finance committee.

A canvas of ballots of special election held on the 14th showed a total of 15 votes cast, 14 in favor of and 1 against the proposition of annexation, the plat of E. J. Lennartz "Thomas Highland Ave. subdivision," was presented and referred to engineer for checking.

On motion meeting ajourned.

A. L. McELHOSE,
Clerk.

Conservatory of Music Confers Honor on Reed

Mr. Roscoe Reed, a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music receives special recognition of his work from Mr. John J. Hallstaedt, president the school who writes to announce that any one who receives instruction from Mr. Reed will be given credit for their work at the conservatory.

The American Conservatory was founded in 1886 by its president John J. Sattstaedt under the patronage of citizens of Chicago prominent for their generous and untiring interest in the betterment of musical art, the brilliant record of the Conservatory makes comment unnecessary. But it is to be noted that each year has demanded enlargement of the faculty, and of the United States is represented in its student body in increasing numbers, and its registration is exceeded by few music schools in the world.

The American Conservatory is in a position to offer facilities and advantages unsurpassed by any music school in the country.

The music pupils of Mr. Reed's classes are indeed fortunate, thru this honor conferred on him, as graduate of The Conservatory, to be able to secure credit for their work under him, to secure credits in this well known music school.

Former Republican Governor to Speak at Democratic Meeting

A. O. Eberhart, former republican governor of Minnesota, will be the principal speaker at a democratic mass meeting to be held at Palatine Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. Mr. Eberhart has a national reputation as a speaker and the committee feel that they were very fortunate to secure such a speaker for this meeting. Other speakers will be Democratic candidates for the county officer. There will be an orchestra and perhaps two of them. The meeting starts at eight o'clock. The ladies are especially invited. This meeting is held at Palatine as the most centrally located place for western Cook county.

Why He Never Gets Anywhere

ENTERS NEW POSTOFFICE NEXT WEEK

Arlington Heights will have a new postoffice next week. Postmaster W. F. Meyer, Jr., expects to move into the new quarters within the next few days. The fixtures, all steel, are now in place in the Krause building and represent the very latest in postal equipment. Labor saving devices and accessories will conserve the time of the postal employees and give better service to the patrons. Adequate room is provided for the future growth of the department. The public lobby is not alone commodious, but it is attractive. Large windows and an arrangement of lighting fixtures provides the maximum of light for both the employes and the public.

People who have inspected the new office, declare that it is far ahead of any other upon this division of the Northwestern.

Uncle Sam Recognizes Office

The installation of such an office is a realization of a dream that has been held many years by Postmaster Meyer. He brought to the attention of the postal authorities the needs of Arlington Heights upon every occasion. Mr. Meyer does not know whether it was his insistency or just "luck" that when the postal people began to recognize the justness of the claims of Arlington Heights that the postal officials came "all the way." Uncle Sam is providing the latest postal automatic computing scale for the parcel post service. An electric cancelling machine has also been promised. The modern equipment would also not have been possible were it not for the public spirit displayed by W. F. Krause, who spent several thousand dollars to purchase the fixtures that would be a credit to the City of Good Neighbors.

The fixtures are all steel, finished in mahogany upon the lobby side. The private office of the postmaster is in the same finish. The work room is divided into three sections viz: sorting section, the mail carriers department. The former the financial quarters is devoted to the sale of stamps, supplies and the receipt of parcel post packages. Here each one of the clerks will have individual stamp and cash drawers. The clerks will not have to stand while waiting on a patron, special stools being provided for their convenience.

The mail sorting section consists of two sorting tables and cabinets. A special large section is for use of the parcel post service. Commodious storage cabinets and cupboards provides a special place for almost anything that is used in the postal service. The filing cabinets are especially complete.

No longer will the postmaster be required to "dig" letters out of the drop boxes. The letters and papers are dropped by the patron into chutes that carry them to large trays. As one tray is removed, there is another beneath it, to take its place.

The mailing table and sack rack will speed up the dispatch of mails fully fifty per cent. The carriers, both city an rural will have plenty of room in which to work and will be free from disturbance or inconvenience of others.

For the present the incoming mail will necessarily enter the post office from the front door. Changes will be made in the alley which will permit the mail truck to reach the rear entrance.

CHICKEN SUPPER AND BUNCO PARTY

Evangelical church will give a chicken supper and a bunco party at Long Grove, Union Hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, beginning at 6:30 until all are served. 50 cents a plate, chicken mashed potatoes, pie, cake and other good things to eat.

Educational Committee Outlines Year's Work

The educational committee of the League of Cook County Women's club at its committee luncheon last Friday decided upon a plan of work with a well defined objective for the coming year.

The plan when carried out will be far reaching in its privilege of giving children in the country districts the benefits of well balanced school training.

The luncheon was held at the Woman's City club with Mrs. Meta H. Matson, chairman of that committee, presiding.

The League of Cook County Women's club is made up of representatives of more than ninety clubs throughout the county, and the work of this particular committee will be based upon a complete survey of the country schools made last year with the help of the Cook county social service department.

The plan is one of unusual constructive co-operative in that the chairman, Mrs. Matson has called into service representatives from the various townships, who, understanding conditions of their individual communities will be able, while availing themselves of the excellent opportunities offered for individual advancement, to render immeasurable assistance to the committee's plans.

The untiring work of the Cook county public health nurses under the supervision of Miss Harriet Fulmer in raising the physical standard of the county schools, has brought about the unity between outlying country neighborhoods with those of the more thickly populated residential sections, and it is largely due to the recognition given the work of that department that the educational committees is mapping out its future work.

A very interesting afternoon was spent in discussing plans for acquainting residents of the county with the wide scope of the work undertaken and it was with a feeling of definite action taken that the committee adjourned to meet Saturday, October 23, following the first regular meeting of the League at the Chicago Women's club.

Those in attendance at the meeting Friday in addition to the chairman, Mrs. Matson, were Miss Harriet Fulmer, supervisor of the Cook county nursing service. Miss Mary Murphy of the Rockefeller-McCormick Foundation; Mrs. H. S. Vaile, chairman of the social service, Mrs. Wetzell, secretary of the committee, Mrs. Peter Krohn, representing Bloom township and Mrs. B. M. Van Steenberg representative of Northfield.

It is the hope of the committee to awaken a widespread interest in the country districts that will lead to constant betterment of educational conditions and with the backing of the Cook county League of Women's clubs, that betterment is assured.

The novel plan adopted by the league of bringing into co-operation, women unaffiliated with clubs has already awakened the interest of other clubs and they await with eager expectation the results of the plan.

With the aid of the nursing service Mrs. Matson has asked the following women to act with her committee: Mrs. Carl Starck, River Grove; Mrs. A. M. Krahl, Palatine; Mrs. J. Montgomery, Oak Lawn; Mrs. W. L. Brown, Flossmoor; Mrs. F. A. Powell, Palos Park; Mrs. C. F. Pankonin, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. C. E. Mueller, Morton Grove; Mrs Mary Mitchell Lalor, Franklin Park; Mrs. Bertha Van Steenberg, Glenview; Mrs. P. Krohn, Chicago Heights; Mrs. C. Balling, Wheeling; Mrs. D. Coppage, Belmont Heights; Mrs. R. G. Plagge, Barrington; Mrs. J. Kvistad, Elmwood Park; Miss Louise Kennedy, Tinley Park; Mrs. E. Kelly, Bartlett.

WM. BUSSE IS CANDIDATE FOR RE - ELECTION

AN EDITORIAL

Wm. Busse is candidate for reelection to succeed himself as a member of the county board of commissioners from the country towns of Cook county. The election will be Nov. 2.

Mr. Busse needs no introduction to the readers of this paper. His long and faithful service in the interests of the public is so generally recognized that he needs no defense for his acts of the past or pledges as to his future conduct. In normal times his election would be assured, but with the upheaval that has wrecked Cook county politics, it is important that all friends of Wm. Busse, all friends of good roads, all friends of good government, should give every support possible to Mr. Busse.

There are many side issues to be voted on Nov. 2. There are many candidates on the republican and democratic tickets that are practically unknown to the rank and file of their respective parties. Wm. Busse is one that we all know and we should not make any mistake about casting our vote for county commissioners.

Many Take Schick Test Guard Against Disease

The physicians at Arlington Heights report that they are having many calls for the administering of the Schick test as a safeguard against diphtheria. Reports of diphtheria cases in Arlington Heights are greatly exaggerated, the present number of cases being few, but the experiences of a year ago are still fresh in the minds of local people and they are taking steps to prevent a similar epidemic. There has been a tightening up of the quarantines and every effort is being made to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Need of Schick Test

The general public is urged to co-operate in the safeguarding of the health of Arlington Heights people. The Schick test is recognized and administered (at a very small cost) to find out whether a person is susceptible to diphtheria. If the test proves that the person will not take diphtheria, nothing further is done and that party is safe from the disease. If the test shows that the party is susceptible, a course of three treatments are given which makes him immune from diphtheria the rest of his life. The charges that the doctors are making for this work is reasonable and every child and grown up should be tested.

Diphtheria can be prevented. The doctors are placing the matter of protecting the lives of the children squarely up to the parents.

Mrs. Garland is Guest of Honor

Mrs. Harry Garland entertained a group of eight friends Thursday afternoon last week in honor of Mrs. Garland Sr. She very humorously imparted to the guests the reason why it was not as much of a surprise to her as her family imagined. Her daughters accelerated movements, the frequent clicking of her heels on the stairs and in other rooms and a certain air of some impending event of importance.

Mrs. H. M. Blum and Mrs. Chas. Scherf assisted in conveying the guest from and to their homes. A choice table luncheon was served by the hostess, and there was happy converse, and much merry laughter. The luncheon was choice and generously served, but it was not the most enjoyable part of the feast, for all were glad to listen to the cheerful anecdotes and experiences related by the guest of honor, who, though shut in and unable to walk still is a cheerful worker, and carries on in a most helpful way her full share of the household and family duties. All enjoyed the hour spent with her and the royal hospitality of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Garland, and voted it a delightful party.

Diphtheria Causes Death of Son of Methodist Pastor

Richard Krahl, four year old son of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Krahl, of Antioch, late of Palatine, died last Saturday afternoon at the Waukegan hospital from diphtheria. Burial was at Palatine Monday afternoon. Rev. Morgan Williams of Evanston officiated at the services. A number of other pastors were present.

Richard had accompanied his mother and little brother to Connecticut to visit relatives. On Monday he was taken with a slight cold which gradually grew worse. Friday noon when his mother reached Antioch, where Rev. Krahl had just been assigned. Richard's condition was unimproved and a physician was immediately called. Diphtheria symptoms did not develop until Saturday when the lad was taken to the hospital at Waukegan, where a fight was made to save his life. The heart proved unequal to the task and the boy passed away a few moments after an operation had been performed.

Bright Lights Cause Death of Roselle Boy

Local Youth Injured

Elmer Biesterfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Biesterfeld, who was injured in an auto wreck early Monday morning, has been brought home from the hospital in Elgin.

Young Biesterfeld, a painter was driving on Lake street about two miles west of Bloomingdale near the Sam Meyer farm, when he was blinded by the glare from a spotlight of an approaching car. His car left the pavement and before he could regain control of it, it had smashed into a culvert. Biesterfeld was knocked unconscious and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to signal a passing car, which stopped and took him to an Elgin hospital. It was learned that he suffered a broken leg and probably internal injuries.

KRAUSE BLOCK WELCOMED BY MANY TENANTS

The Krause blocks are filled. That statement means more than it seems upon the surface. With the postoffice entering their new quarters next week, there are no "open spaces" in the three buildings that comprise the Krause blocks. The demand for the flats exceeded the supply. The offices are rented and there are no vacant stores. The wisdom of Mr. Krause in erecting the buildings has already been proven.

The total number of flats are fourteen; offices three, stores 8. The newest building, three stories high in which the postoffice will be located, has just been completed. It is the most complete flat and store building that has been erected so far in Arlington Heights. The readers of the Herald are no doubt acquainted with the store rooms, but the flats have to be seen to be appreciated. They represent compactness itself, comprising four rooms each, with every convenience, including refuse chute for all wastes and garbage, individual ice boxes filled from the hallway, windows for every room, etc. The kitchens are especially unique, containing as they do an all-steel unit that comprises the gas range, sink, ice box and kitchen cabinet. They extend the full length of the kitchenette. There is no waste room in the flats, but each one has two closets and has a store room in the basement. These flats give the newly-weds an opportunity to start housekeeping with a minimum of furniture.

The occupants of the eight flats in this building are: Paul Arneman, Dr. Dunn, Albert Juhnke, Orville Baldwin, Henry Gaare, Wm. Niemeyer, Mr. Shenk and Mr. Weber. The stores are occupied by the postoffice and the National Tea Co.

The block Mr. Krause constructed last year is two stories in height and has three stores occupied by the Reese Hardware, Arlington Sweet Shop and Koehler, tailor. On the second floor are three flats and three offices. The tenants of the offices are Dr. Dunn, Dr. Geisel and Dr. Collison. In the older building on the corner are the Foley Barber Shop, the Atlantic & Pacific store and the Arlington Paint store. The three flats upon the second floor are occupied by Messrs Breese, Carl Behrens and Dr. Eitzenmueller.

These buildings entailed an investment in the neighborhood of $100,000. They are not the only buildings of their kind in Arlington Heights, yet they are representative of the "big business" that is being transacted in this growing city. They likewise add much to the general appearance of the business section, which goes a long ways to advertise a live town.

Local Couple Celebrate Their 25th Anniversary

It was a happy occasion when the sisters and brothers with other relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Scharringhausen met at their home on Saturday evening, October 9th to remind them that already twenty five years had passed since some of them had met at the same place to wish them joy on the day of their wedding.

When all guests were assembled Myrtle, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scharringhausen played the familiar strains from Lohengrin and the "young bride" was once more given by her father, Mr. Louis Schnell to the "happy groom." Mrs. Sengstock of Des-Plaines, a niece, sang "I Love You Truly" after which Rev. Ellerbrake gave a short address including a renewal of the marriage blessing. A delightful dinner was served at a late hour to about 65 guests. The guests then departed leaving as a reminder of the pleasant evening and significance of the day many beautiful and useful gifts in silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. Scharringhausen have lived their entire married life at their present home in Elk Grove and have made many friends during this time. The faithful performance of his duties as Town Clerk for Elk Grove township for a number of years has also won for Mr. Scharringhausen a wide acquaintance and many valued friendships. We all rejoice with them and their family in the many blessings received during the past twenty five years and wish for them many more years of happiness in their family circle.

TRAIN HITS MR. CHAS. SIGWALT OLD VETERAN

Mr. Chas. Sigwalt, 87 years old, a veteran of the Civil war and official of the Village of Arlington Heights many years, was struck by a C. & N. W. train at the Arlington Heights depot Saturday afternoon. Fortunately, the only injuries received were bruises to the back of his head and shock to the nervous system. With the same courageous spirit that he has displayed all of his life, the old gentleman is fighting his way back to health and there is a marked improvement as each day passes. Mr. Sigwalt was on his way to Chicago to meet his son John. None seem to know exactly how it happened. Mr. Sigwalt is a little hard of hearing and was unaware of the approach of the train. He had apparently crossed the tracks and was too near the engine when it approached. The pilot hit him and threw him down with sufficient force to stun him. He says that he remembers nothing from the time that he was at the depot until he found himself in his own bed at home. Mr. Sigwalt was carried into the depot and the family called. A nurse was secured and he is receiving the best of care. He did not regain his fullest faculties until Wednesday and is now bright and cheerful, his usual self.

Charley Sigwalt occupies a place of his own in the hearts and minds of Arlington Heights people. He is one of the very few Civil War veterans remaining in Arlington Heights. The position he occupies in village affairs of his home village was recently the subject of two historical articles that appeared in this paper.

The biggest value in vacuum cleaners ever known—

formerly $62.50

The thorough cellar-to-attic

Standard ROYAL
now $48.50

Complete with attachments

FOR years the high cost of manufacturing the superior Standard Royal Cleaner made it impossible to sell it at one penny less than $62.50. Now, at last, the price is reduced to $48.50, including attachments.

You ask how is this possible? Production on a larger scale, due to the greater demand, is the answer.

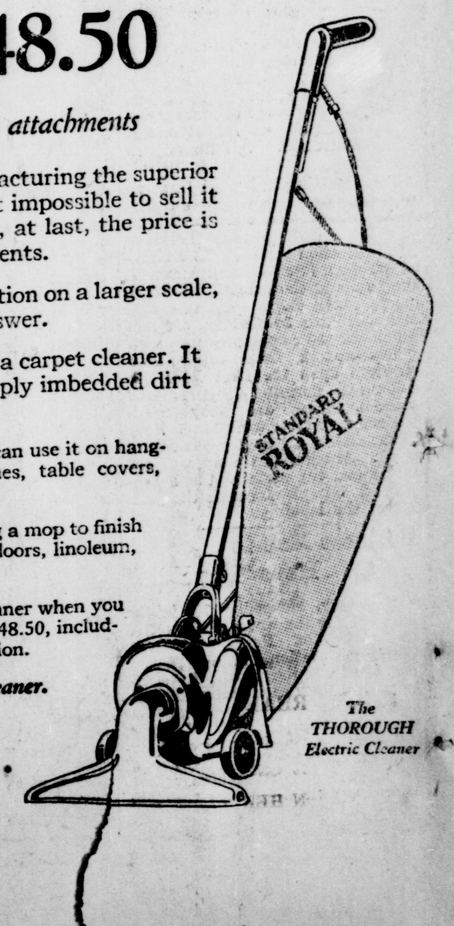

The Standard Royal is unexcelled as a carpet cleaner. It takes up threads and lint and also deeply imbedded dirt which a brush cannot get.

But it does more than clean carpets. You can use it on hangings, upholstered furniture, picture frames, table covers, books, etc. Even the inside of motor cars!

It dusts floors completely. No need of using a mop to finish hard-to-reach corners. It also cleans bare floors, linoleum, and concrete. It does everything well!

Why buy a cheap one-purpose vacuum cleaner when you can get one with all these advantages for $48.50, including attachments? Ask us for a demonstration.

Not merely a RUG cleaner but a HOUSE cleaner.

Editorial

For the last few years the people of Arlington Heights have had a great desire to know more about the affairs of their high school. This year we are endeavoring to fulfill that desire. The pupils of the high school have decided to write a column of notes each week and have it published in this paper. They have elected their editorial staff which will carry the greater portion of the work. In this way each week townspeople will know of the activities of the school.

We have an athletic reporter who will discuss the football games and, later, the basketball games. Each class has elected a reporter who will tell the news of that certain class. Then, the joke editor will furnish the necessary and much-loved school-room humor.

We sincerely hope that the public will enjoy our column which, we are sure, will contain items of interest for all.

Northerners Rip Arlington Line in Football Contest

Not So Good

A northern wave swept over Arlington, Saturday, October 16, in the form of a football team and crushed the home team by a score of 38 to 0. Antioch had possession of the ball most of the time and ran the ends, slashed off tackle and passed almost at will. Antioch was held to two touchdowns during the first half and Arlington in the second quarter out played Antioch but let up in the second half. Antioch is rated as the best team in the Northwest Conference.

Arlington was powerless to smash the Antioch line, being outweighed about 20 pounds to the man. The big Antioch forward smeared all efforts at an Arlington offensive and slammed open huge holes at guard and tackle for their gains. The Arlington backs, however, did run the ends with a slight degree of success. Jahrling, the Arlington quarterback bore most of the burden of the running and passing and was the big gun of the Arlington attacts. Pate, at fullback, played a creditable game, his punting is improving with every game.

The game was featured by good and bad football; Antioch's weight and superior experience showed in almost every department of the game. Arlington suceeded in completing four passes while Antioch completed one.

Arlington in Pate, Jahrling, Urik and Warl have a fast aggressive backfield but without a hard charging, experienced line their speed is wasted effort., Coach Cressey is doing his utmost in grooming the linemen and getting them to work as a machine. By Saturday a much better team, both in ability and mental attitude, will take the field.

Libertyville Next

On Saturday, October 23rd, Libertyville invades Arlington Heights Coach Cressey is pointing the squad for this game and Saturday will find the fellows in a fighting mood. Libertyville is rated as being powerful, so a great battle is expected. Everybody out next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 if you want to see a rip-roaring game of football.

Come! Come! Come!

Everybody come out to our carnival, the first event of this kind ever put on by the students of A. H. T. H. S. This carnival is to be held October 30th, 1926, in the high school

The main feature will be a vaudeville, consisting of an act presented by each class. It wouldn't be fair to cheat you out of all the pleasure of these stunts by telling you about them beforehand. Just be sure not to miss the good time awaiting you. Besides the main vaudeville there are to be concessions—just heaps of them—cake walk, chamber of horrors, freak shows, fish pond, dancing and many others.

The popularity contest is to be another interesting feature. The Senior Class is presenting a five pound box of delicious chocolates to the most popular student in the high school. I suppose everyone is wondering how it is to be managed. Well, it's to be like this: beginning Tuesday, Oct. 19, everybody has the privilege of helping determine the most popular pupil. The votes are to be one cent each, but no name is to be posted the first two days until fifty votes have been cast for it. After these two days it will require one hundred votes to nominate any individual. Every vote over this amount is to be recorded. A board will be posted in the down town section where every one will be able to see it. The contest is to close at eleven o'clock the night of the event, when the box of candy will be presented to the most popular student.

There are many other interesting features that you surely would not want to miss. The side shows will furnish you with laughs never to be forgotten. We are trusting that you will come out and support the high school and at the same time spend an enjoyable evening. Don't forget the date, Saturday, Oct. 30.

Watch for further details in our news of next week. Remember the date, Oct. 30.

JOKES

Cressey: (to football captain) Hartman, do you play half back?

High School Teachers Refer Scholars to the Community Library

Two of the high school teachers who have classes in literature and history recently made a survey of the books in the community library and have urged their scholars to use the books it contains.

All the world's best literature is to be found in the library. There are several sets of books that include the best of writings, and then of course, there are many books of travel, mostly recent, and many good novels.

The bock committee has been unusually careful in selecting books so that no questionable titles would be included.

The library now has many magazines as well as books and people are using the library for a reading room more than formerly. More adults are taking books than a few weeks ago. In fact, the number of adults taking books is now greater than the number of children. At first, the library was used quite largely by children.

The appeal for more funds made in these columns a few weeks ago is bearing fruit. Several new contributions have been received. This money will be used for more books. Still more is needed.

If those who formerly made pledges would pay these promptly, that would help greatly. The treasury is not empty by any means, but the board feels that it must keep a reserve in the treasury, and not spend the pledges until they have actually been paid.

Gifts of books or magazines will be greatly appreciated, also. If anyone has books to give, they should notify any member of the library committee as follows: N. M. Banta, president; John Y. Beaty secretary; Arthur McElhose, treasurer, F. J. Sachs, Mrs. W. W. Guild Miss Lillian Russel.

More chairs and two or three more tables for reading could well be used. This library above the People State Bank is for every person in the vacinity of Arlington Heights. If you do not make use of it, it is your own fault. There are books available on most every subject.

While the library is supported this year by private subscriptions; next year the village library tax will support it. But even this will not be a large sum and everyone should count it an opportunity to contribute to this good work.

Miss Ellen Lackner Becomes Bride of Mr. John Albrecht

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lackner was the scene of an ideal prettily conducted wedding reception when their daughter, Miss Ellen Wilhemine was married to Mr. John Albrecht Saturday, October 16, at six o'clock in the evening in St. Peter's church, the pastor, Rev. C. Noack, solemnizing the sacred rites.

The bridesmaid was Miss Vera Geffert, the best man was Mr. Willie Lackner, brother of the bride; Miss Zelda Tesch, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Irving Meyer, were also attendants.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white satin and georgette crepe, wore a long white veil, capote design with shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas and was a winsome lovely bride. Miss Vera Geffert wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette, and Miss Zelda Tesch a handsome gown of yellow georgette, their bouquets were chrysanthemums, orchid and yellow, harmonizing with their costumes.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The house was artistically decorated with flowers of pink and white, and garlands of oak leaves and ferns. A sumptuous supper was served to thirty guests, from a prettily decorated table. The place of honor given to a wonderful bride's cake made by the bride's loving mother.

Early in the evening a charivari party in reality serenaders, composed of the St. Peter's choir and other musical fun loving friends joined the happy company. The evening was merrily spent in games and music. A trio composed of Willie Lackner, Walter Tesch, Curt Noack, sang many pleasing numbers. Teacher Kolp, gave a greeting and word of welcome to the bride groom, a member of the choir and comparative stranger here who came from over seas, about three years ago, leaving his parents, sisters and brothers, to find a new home and a bride in this community, where he has made hosts of friends and is held in high esteem by all who have come to know him.

The pastor, Rev. Noack and teachers made up a part of this family group, and did their share in contributing to the joy of the occasion.

There were many beautiful and useful gifts, notably one sent by the bridegroom's family, a wonderful piece of hand wrought embroidery, a table cover worked by the loving mother and sisters of Mr. Albrecht over in Germany. Fine linen done in colors, a most beautiful gift.

At midnight the bride's cake was cut and served with other refreshments. It was just a happy home reception and congratulations were hearty and sincere.

The bride is one of our favorite home girls, and has hosts of friends in Arlington Heights. Since her school days she has had employment in the city.

The bride groom, Mr. John Albrecht is well educated and skilled electrician, and readily found work and recognition here since coming to this country.

The newly-wed Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will make their home for the present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lackner, where they have the sincere good wishes of many friends for their bright future.

TRI-SIGMA

Study — SERVICE — Sociability

Visit Norwood Park

The Epworth League of the Methodist church of Norwood Park invited the Tri-Sigmas to join in their service last Sunday evening. This is Mr. Waltmire's church. The Epworth Leagues of Park Ridge and DesPlaines were also invited.

The Norwood Park League served refreshments and a helpful devotional meeting was held. Those attending from Arlington Heights were: Herman Meyer, Mary Knox, Ralph Cressey, Joe Cordulac, Mrs. F. R. Doland, Annabel Cordulac, Viola Janney, Opal Powers, Mrs. Prelberg, Mrs. John Y. Beaty and John Y. Beaty.

These trips to other societies are both pleasant and inspiring. Several others are scheduled for the coming season.

Several Tri-Sigmas will attend the District Rally of the Epworth League in Grace church, Chicago, Friday night of this week.

Tri-Sigmas Present Church, Sign

A new movable-letter sign was presented to the Methodist church last Sunday by the Tri-Sigmas. This has been wanted by Pastor Billman for some time. The chief use will be for sentence sermons. Every two or three days, a new sermonette will be put on the board. Until the new church is built, this sign will be displayed in the case that is now built into the front of the church. After the new building is completed, it may be necessary to purchase a special case for it.

Special Music for Tri-Sigma Meets

In addition to the supper which is always a most important part of the Sunday evening meetings of the Tri-Sigma, special music is being arranged for every meeting. Next Sunday, Mrs. Stewart Alden, soprano, and John Y. Beaty, bass, will sing a duet.

A week from Sunday, Ralph Cressey, tenor, will sing a solo. Others will be announced from time to time.

Every young man and every young woman who wants companionship and opportunity to serve, or who feels the need of religious inspiration is most cordially invited to these meetings. New members are always made "one of the family" the first Sunday.

Recent New Members

Several new members have been received during the past few weeks Among these are: Ralph Cressey and Thomas R. Wilson, both new high schol teachers; Mrs. Garland, Opal Powers, Viola Janney, Mrs. Fred Erret, Dallas Puffer, Mr. and Mrs. Prelberg, and Grant Lafavre.

Studies in Christian Living

The lessons being studied in the Sunday morning sessions are on the general topic, "How to live a successful Christian Life." The first few lessons are being devoted to the making of a plan of living. So few people actually make plans for their lives that much time is being given to this part of the subject.

The aim of these lessons is to emphasize the important things in life and to encourage members to develop those things to the utmost. The teaching is of a positive nature rather than negative. Mr. Beaty, the teacher, believes that if a person gives proper consideration to the important things, unimportant matters will be crowded out for lack of time.

The lessons are conducted by the discussion plan. Each member is given opportunity to express an opinion, and many important matters are brought up. For example, one young man said that when he worried about the money he would like to have, he never felt as well as when he forgot what he wanted to get and put his mind on what he might give.

Young People not now attending ing a Sunday school are most cordially invited to this class.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Right honestly I do admire
That one who never does aspire
To show off the knowlege
He got in some college
While getting his "keep" from his sire.

—o—

A college education is fine if it educates. But a college education used as an ornament to "show off," as as useless as a fine 1926 model with all its machinery complete and no gas to run it. Or a perfectly built radio with dead batteries. Education is like a reaper set in a field of ripened grain. And if it does not gather a harvest of what use is it?

—o—

School and college give you the key, and it is yours to use in unlocking the whole wide world's store house of knowledge. Your life is the term given in which to complete this vast course of education; commencement means its beginning, after college.

—o—

Someone has said, The Midwest is the heart of the nation. Chicago, the great arterial center, and should be the capitol. Well, if that is so, Arlington Heights is bound to be the greatest suburb pulsating with all that sustains the life of a great nation. Arlington Heights, alphabetically first, touching Mount Prospect on the east, and reaching out long tenacles to gather in Palatine on the west. More I think about the bigness of us, the more I think even Chicago better watch her step.

By the way, wasn't it fine to read in that account of our village officials trip of inspection, of other towns. I say wasn't it fine to note their loyal appreciatoin of the old home town, when they got back to it. Its noble trees, its healthful location and all that goes to make it such an ideal place of homes. It was gratifying to read that appreciation and feel sure all loyal citizens, who are exerting their influence and abilities to make this all a real home town should be, will agree in the sentiment of our loyal village officials.

It was a surprise to learn from Mrs. W. J. Hausam, speaking of her Arizona interests, that beside successful cotton growing in that state, they have fine crops of sweet potatoes, and many other easily grown crops, which many suppose impossible of cultivation in that generally believed desert country. Mrs. Hausam says the great difficulty is the disposal of their crops, as transportation facilities are inadequate; the soil in many localities is productive, and many varieties of fruit and vegetables can be successfully grown.

In another direction we are told of fruits in great abundance, going to waste in the orchards of Michigan and even in our own state, all for lack of suitable means of getting to market. Producer and consumer, why do not some of our enterprising young men establish truck lines to reach the places of production and bring the fruit and vegetables to the consumers. Surely there would be sufficient profit in such a transportation to warrant the undertaking. Bring us fruit and potatoes, and try it.

Was it your little boy I heard about the other day, who came home from school and told his mother he was going to quit going to school and be a teacher? Well it was a little boy, said it if not yours some other body's. "Be a teacher," the mother said; "why you don't know enough to teach."

"You don't have to know anything to teach, said the young hopeful; "All you have to do is to ask questions." Well, isn't that about the way with most of us? No matter how little we know about God and creation we use up and question the highest authority. Any one may ask questions. A wise man cannot answer.

Well, its a good thing to ask questions sometimes; and if we hadn't asked Mrs. MacNab about old Arlington Hall, we had never found it, that it hasn't always stood on its present site. She informs us, the old temperance, or Good Templars Hall was built in South Evergreen and over 35 or 37 years ago was brought to its present location. There are few if any in Arlington Heights who know the old town history better than Mrs. MacNab who has lived in the village or near it all her life.

—o—

Suppose you are suffering from a blam o your "bean" or "cocoanut"—or whatever in modern parlance, or our revised American edition, the place our brains are supposed to be; and the result of that sudden coalition with a jagged piece of paving block was a knobby protrusion on your left temple and over your eye, and a broad sable band about that same eye; It was Sunday, and the sun didn't shine, and even a "cheerful idiot" would feel a bit depressed under those conditions; Get a sort of gloomy feeling, as if he didn't belong honestly, wouldn't you?

Then all of a sudden somebody opens the door, and in breezes the dearest young woman ever, her arm full of the glory of the autumn woods, Crimson, and bronze and golden leaves of oak, maple and dogwood. With scarlet hawthorn berries, and the white red stemmed dogwood. And all the friendly world entered with her. It was the same little girl who used to ramble the woods with us, in search of just such autumn treasures. What a change in mental atmosphere her coming made. All the world belonged to me and I know I belonged."

—o—

There is some agitation going on in regard to a law, or stringent measures to restrain lawlessness and vandalism on Hallowe'en. Our village, I am proud to say, has no vandals, or lawless youths to perpetrate evil tricks. And I'm sure our boy scouts will lead into wholesome and helpful sports on that as well as all other holidays. I once knew of a group of boys who were trying to devise some new way of keeping Hallowe'en when one of their number suggested that they do something kind and helpful, as a surprise instead of playing tricks.

A certain poor cripple in their town had raised a crop of potatoes, when, at the approaching of colder weather, he was unable to dig them and so this lad proposed to go and harvest the poor man's potatoes; and he added, "Mother says if we will do this good piece of work instead of senseless tricks, she will give us all a jolly supper and party when it is finished. Well the boys surprised the poor invalid and had a lot of joy out of his gratitude, and then the supper, and the happy sensation a good deed brings, and you may be sure, plenty of fun.

When certain things take place in our town, in violation of our civilized and Christian code; One says, "why don't the churches look into the matter?" And another says "why don't The Woman's club or The Welfare Committee see to it?" And another "Why don't the Lions do something about this outrage?" And so on even to thinking some "Klan"—or kindly krinkle might take a hand. Don't you know all of this shifting of a thing that should be done is simply moral laziness?" If some thing in violation of right and Christian principles is taking place in our town we are each and every one individually responsible?

I think it was Dr. VanDyke, who said:

"For new, and new and ever new
The golden bud within the blue,
And every morning seems to say
There's something happy on the way,
And God sends love to you."

—o—

So we know this Autumn morning, something new and some bright bud out of the blue is on the way for each one of us—who trusts in God's love: There are so many doubts and so many tangles. Yet out of the good in the worst of us, and the bad in the best of us, the Great Architect of our life plan is able to see the end from the beginning and the working out of ultimate good to all, and so "God sends Love to You," this autumn day.

The plumber said he would be on your job next week didn't he? And "next week" is four times past and no plumber. And the plasterer was to be there just as soon as the house he was at work on was finished, and four have been finished since that promise was made; and the painters and decorators, O, what sons of annamias they are everyone! And you swear in all the "dead languages" and the modern dialects all to no purpose. Our town is growing brother, and our builders are overworked. Don't you understand? Patience is a noble virtue —we must all be patient and watch our town grow.

Little worry the birds have, no fall house cleaning or worry about heating plants for them. They hie away with the first hint of cold and only come back with the spring. It would be fine to "hitch your wagon" to the flight of birds, and change climate as they do.

That reminds me of a pretty bird story, Mrs. A. W. Taylor told us of her witnessing a flock of humming birds, in a rocky retreat, in some of her travels, at play. There were a number of the bright little creatures, and she said unconscious of her nearness, they were going through a play or dance on air, circling, darting, floating and falling in regular rhythmic motions as perfect as the movements of the most perfectly trained dancers. It was a beautiful sight and one rare ly witnessed by even birdologists. Mrs. Taylor appreciated her rare experience.

You may not have the privilege of knowing Mrs. G. F. Garland, the mother of two of our plucky business men. Well, if you have not met her, you've missed a fine original and interesting character. She was an early resident of Chicago and vicinity and can relate many things of the beginings of now prosperous business men. Among these was the older Wittbold of the family successful florists. Yes, this most prosperous of all Chicago florists began business with a small hand delivery plant shop, and worked his way from the lowest round, to the top of the ladder—in Floricultural experience and prosperity. A fine example for our young men of today.

So now we are to have but five working days out of seven. Won't that be fine. That would give us a whole day to get our cars ready to get out on the highway and in the jam earlier Sunday morning. In the first flush of old time influence I thought when I heard of this proposed second day off each week what a fine chance that will be for the man of the family to get his car stunts done and be ready to go to church Sunday. But will he? There will be just so much more to be done, to get in the extra day will not be half long enough to get it all in, will it?

And what can you do
If you go about—
All in and out of our town,
And cannot scare an item out—
That is worth while setting down?
And what will you do
When you hear a score
Of things you dare not tell,
Startling things all very true
That should have been told before?
But you dare not—
Lisp a word, Oh, well—
What is the use to Observe
Great flares all over this town?
From rigid lines I dare not swerve
And it isn't because I haven't the nerve
For I'm dying to write them down!

—o—

Remember when Mr. James Shirra gathered together a fine garden of peonies and used to market them by hundreds of dozens? Now Mr. Schaeffer is offering those same peony bulbs at low prices, because he must make way for new buildings. That is what growth means. One man enters into his home projects with enthusiasm, serves his allotted time and his place falls into other hands. Other plans, and other schemes must erase and destroy before they can build up and so our growing goes on over the wrecked plans of another's ambitions. "Onward, onward onward, ever!" Human progress ever may stay."

—o—

Somebody told of a Florida sign that read "Hot Lunch," "Gas and Oil," and thought it a good diet for politicians. Don't suppose that even a diet of gas and oil could have helped Mayor Dever to hold that vast crowd he tried to address in Chicago Saturday, when the storm and confusion broke up all semblance of an audience and his efforts and his eloquence were scattered on the winds. The Booster Week speakers had much the same experience in Arlington Heights, only it was glittering attractions beckoning everywhere that kept the crowd from listening to speakers.

O! yes—we are all a year older than we were this time last year. Yet some of us are kept so busy all the time, there is little leisure for counting the years or for dreading the approach of age. And if one keeps health, God's greatest blessing, and by constant use retains their faculties age has no dread for such. If we are given length of days, then we should use them as God's gift, and endeavor to use them for some good purpose. There is always work to do, why shirk or say, I am too old.

—o—

How old am I? O, friend of mine,
There is no age known to the heart;
Across the sky new moons still shine
And stars in diamond brilliance dart.

The flowers brighten autumn ways
And green leaves bear a touch of gold:
The birds ring out anthems of praise.
How shall I say that I am old?

Who recks of age as years pass on,
The stars that joined creation's song
Who knows what radiance they have won
As ages old they move along?

The sun this morning rose as fair,
And dawn its banners gayly flung,
And life was throbbing everywhere
As buoyant as when I was young

The world goes 'round with onward trend,
And the dominion given man,
Circling through eons, without end,
And who shall say when time began?

How old am I? O, friend of mine—
This hand still finds so much to do,
So many duties, reach and twine
About my way the whole day thru.

And shall I falter, or look back
While God is calling me to live?
On the long trail there seems no lack
Of need for help that I must give.

There comes to me no fear of age,
There may come weakness to this shell
That holds me, still I must engage
My latest power to live life well.

God given life within the soul
That on, and ever onward fares,
This house of clay cannot control,
Age for the soul no terror wears.

New days, new years forever bring
Fresh interest in life problems here
The world advance and everything,
While hope and faith grow yet more clear.

Weakness and pain too oft arrest
The fullness of a life below:
I thank God for continued zest,
In each day's journey as I go.

How old am I? O, friend of mine—
Age in my life has yet no part,
It brings no fear, for 'round me shine—
And in me God's eternal heart!

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

Methodist Notes

Monday of this week the first dirt was excavated for the basement of the remodeled parsonage. Mr. Roy Dobbins donated the first days work. Mr. Puffer has also been seen getting close to nature. While the remodeling is in progress Mr. and Mrs. Billman will occupy the Pfingston home.

Last Sunday Mr. Billman spoke on Modern Martha's who spend so much of their energy and time on household things that they have no time for the realities of life. He applied the thought to husbands so immersed in their things that there is no spiritual fellowship. Creeds too instead of becoming mere things may become a tyranny. Civilization has laid its emphasis on things and when things became too great to manage they resulted in a world war. Reference was made to the Anti-Saloon Leagues action in endorsing a candidate who the Anti-Saloon League admits can never be seated because of corruptness. Such action places things before the end in view.

Next Sunday afternoon the Junior League will hold its first devotional meeting.

The High School League discussed "Fair Winners and Losers" last Sunday afternoon. The ethics of cheating in school and its relationship to life was discussed. After the meeting the girls served cocoa and the boys as usual had to wash dishes. The Knox team proved too much for the Dobbins in a game of indoor ball which ended in a 24-21 score.

The Tri-Sigmas journeyed to Norwood Park where they with young people from Park Ridge and DesPlaines were entertained by the Epworth League. Miss Adelaid Paxton leads the meeting next Sunday evening.

The Board of Stewards met with Mr. Billman Wednesday night of this week to discuss ways and means of financing the church's program.

Some 35 ladies of the Aid society enjoyed the lunch served last Friday in church. It was voted to purchase three new gas ranges for the kitchen. Some of the ladies met in church Thursday to tie quilts for the bazaar.

A week from Sunday is 100% day when every member and friend of the church is asked to attend the morning service. Standing room only is the slogan.

MT. PROSPECT
Watch It Grow
F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Anna Beigel was surprised Sunday when Geo. Thies and Louise Hahne from Schaumburg, Ella Sievers from Wooddale, Aug. and Adolph Sievers from Melrose Park, Mabel Seegers and Christina Mesklin and Hulda Kehrke from Chicago came and helped her celebrate her birthday (sweet sixteen). A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodges are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy. Mother and baby are doing fine and the proud Daddy is elated. We extend congratulations.

Mt. Prospect has a new legal voter in the person of Walter Mulso son of our chief, Walter is now a full fleged man having celebrated his 21st birthday with a party at his fathers home Saturday night.

Nurse Helen Jackson, reports that the letter sent out by our Health department to mothers regarding the Infant Welfare station was well received by the mothers. At the last session of the Infant Welfare 16 babies were brought in by their mothers. True it is we want the station and so do the mothers and we will keep it as long as the mothers want it.

Mr. Arnold Schram is fully recovered from his severe illness and Mr. W. Israel is also reported on the road to health.

From all indications Milburn Bros., will get started paving in Prospect Park subdivision before bad weather starts and it is possible that this job will be completed before the end of the year as they will start paving on Saturday if the weather permits.

Mr. Louis Hasz had his car stolen while in Chicago last week, it has been recovered by the McHenry Chief of Police, however it had been stripped of all accessories and tires.

Some rascals entered the Lutheran school bent on doing damage they succeeded in ruining some of the pupils books. It seems a pity that these fellows were not caught in the act as surely they did not realize the seriousness of their crime for such it was and to consider the lowness of it. When you try and hinder the education of our young American pupils you are putting something in the way of the nation as a whole for they will be the citizens and rulers of tomorrow.

Mrs. Chas. Grueneberg is back home although still in serious condition, however everybody concerned is hoping for the best and are looking forward to the time when she will be up and around again. Dr. Koester is the attending physician, we are pleased to see Mrs. Grueneberg home again.

Our streets are being badly torn up but the drainage work is progressing with quite a bit of speed and that is what we want both the Kruse and Reese people are working full blast.

Now Milburn Bros., come into town and have already unloaded their new Rex Mixer, this gives us three big improvements progressing at one time some record for our village which will be hard for many villages to keep up with.

The week of Nov. 1 to 8th Fred Meeske will have a Pure Food Demonstration which will be worth while attending, he will also have an extra special sale in connection with this.

The county highway department has issued new maps on the 15 million dollar bond issue and these maps indicate the Northwest Highway to be widened to 40 feet which we hope will help relieve traffic congestion.

Watch the advertisement of our local merchants that appear in this paper and you will be able to tell instantly where to go for the best values for your dollars and cents. Reliable and progressive merchants advertise in a reliable and progressive paper—the Herald—It pays to tell the people what you have to sell.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

Have you built any "Tin Gods?"

Do you crave money, success, fame?

Have you allowed "Tin Gods" to trample over you?

In this picture Tom Meighan plays the role of a man who overpowers these shackles and rides to victory with love and success.

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25, 26.

Karl Struss, First National cameraman, has perfected a new double exposure effect that bids fair to revolutionize present methods. The new trick is seen in "Forever After," due at the Arlington theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29.

During the making of "Watch Your Wife," Virginia Valli who is co-starred with Pat O'Malley in this Universal - Jewel showing at the Arlington theatre Saturday, October 30 had an unusual honor conferred upon her. From far off Cairo, Egypt, came a letter telling her that her admirers there had formed "The Virginia Valli Club" with Ahmed Rifat Rachid, one of the prominent men of Cairo as its president.

Among the Theatres

Chicago Theatre will Celebrate Fifth Year

Balaban & Katz are to celebrate the fifth anniversary of their "flagship" the great Chicago Theatre during the week of October 25th with a program befitting the firm's pride in "the wonder theatre of the world."

A tremendous stage show with a gigantic birthday tableau and scenic and music spectacle will pay tribute to the theatre's fifth birthday, Kharum the Persian Pianist will be seen in a specially staged number, Jesse Crawford will pay his respects to the theatre in an organ specialty and "The Miracle of Youth" a lavish production with illusions and spectacle will employ some 25 artists.

On the screen Norma Shearer in "Upstage" will again play under the direction of Monta Bell, the megaphone man who seems to best understand her, having lifted her to fame in "Broadway After Dark" "The Snob" and "Lady of the Night."

"Upstage" is a story of a vaudeville dance team and reaches its climax when Miss Shearer, playing the deserted and hopeless chorus girl rushes on the stage to take the place of the girl in a knife throwing act, placing herself on the target board in order that the original girl may run to her sick baby. Oscar Shaw, Dorothy Phillips and a large cast are to be seen in this humorous and sympathetic story of life backstage.

Elinor Glyn Drama "Love's Blindness" at Norshore Theatre

The Elinor Glyn touch, which changed Lew Cody from a villian into a romantic leading man, established John Gilbert as the great lover of the screen, and made Aileen Pringle, has now Anglicized Antonio Moreno. In "Love's Blindness," the Metro-Goldwn-Mayer production of Elinor Glyn's novel, which comes to the Norshore Theatre on Sunday, Moreno is a thorough Englishman, even down to his name, which becomes Hubert Culverdale. Pauline Starke has the leading female role.

"Love's Blindness" is by far the most stirring of all Elinor Glyn productions, having an absorbing plot which has been unfolded skillfully.

Huge Symphony Concert With "Ace of Cads"

Michael Arlen, whose sensational story "The Green Hat" made one of the most amazing plays in modern history, has again achieved a sensation with another story "The Ace of Cads," which has been filmed with Adolphe Menjou in the character role, for presentation next week at The Uptown theatre.

The story concerns the life of a youth whose only ambition was to destroy womankind. It is produced with all of the satirical flavor of the original story because of the fact that Adolphe Menjou is the only actor alive who could plausibly portray the role.

"Under Venetian Skies," produced for the stage in New York by Paul Oscard, with a host of Broadway singers and dancers will be one of the stage events, and gems from the opera "Faust" with Marie Herron and Walter Pontius singing the principal roles, will be another.

H. Leopold Spitalney, conductor of the Uptown Theatre Symphony orchestra, will offer another program of short symphony classics, with prominent vocal and instrumental soloists as assisting artists.

"Rah! Rah! Rajah!" Shows at Oriental

Chicago's famous "Rajah of Jazz" will be in his native element next week when he takes his merry mad musical gang to the Orient to stage a show that will probably make the Sphinx rise and do the Charleston. "Rah! Rah! Rajah!" is the title of the new show in which a storm of jazz will hit the Sahara desert. Paul promises to keep the sands of the desert from growing cold. Palpitatin' pyramids! Old King Tut will probably regret more than ever that he didn't live in this day of modern sheiks and shebas. Senia Gluck's dancing girls will become maids of the harem for the new show, with Felicia Sorel doing her famous Oriental dance.

On the screen of the Balaban & Katz Oriental theatre next week will be a snappy, jazz-time comedy drama, "Subway Sadie" with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall of "Chickie" fame as the stars. Charlie Murray and Gaston Glass also are in the cast. This is the kind of photoplay that the Oriental theatre patrons enjoy the most—full of ultra-modern romance and swift action. The New York subway is the scene of much of the love-making in this comedy-drama, with Cupid hanging to the strap.

Repertoire Theatre Company Takes Over Studebaker

The Repertoire Theatre Company will present Mrs. Samuel Insull and her company in a new American comedy, "The Runaway Road", by Gretchen Damrosch Finletter, at the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, for an indefinite engagement beginning Monday nite, Nov. 1st. Back of this plain announcement is something of more than passing interest to theatre-goers of this city. It will be recalled that a year or so ago, Mrs. Insull, formerly so favorably known on the professional stage as Gladys Wallis appeared both here and in New York in an elaborate revival of "The School for Scandal." Her success on her return to the stage was quite out of the ordinary—not alone in Chicago but in New York as well, where she appeared in the play 95 performances, establishing a record run for the Sheridan masterpiece. This outstanding achievement has had a significant result. The Repertoire Theatre Company, an Illinois corporation, has, as it is well known, taken over the Studebaker Theatre for a term of years. Here, during a portion of each season, Mrs. Insull and the best company players obtainable, will appear in new plays, chiefly by American authors, and occasional revivals of standard plays and classics. It is not in any sense a "high-brow" movement' nor an effort to "uplift the drama." It is just meant to give that section of the public, who still love the spoken drama, the best that can be obtained, so far as seasoned professional judgment goes, in plays and players.

It is hoped, indeed confidently expected, that Mrs. Insull's season at the Studebaker will become an established feature of the theatrical year here. Stress is laid upon the fact that popular prices will be charged. In New York the prices for first-rate attractions at the theatres of the better class have gradually risen until now nearly every legitimate theatre in New York for any kind of a popular success charges from $5.00 per seat upwards, while, for opening nights of importance, as high as $10.00, $25.00, $50.00, and, in one instance, $100.00 has been charged. This, in most cases, has been out of all proportion to the value of the offerings. There will be no advance over the usual Studebaker scale of prices for Mrs. Insull's season, either at the opening performance or during the entire engagement, which are, from Monday to Friday nights, from $2.50 on the lower floor to $1.00 in the second balcony, and Saturday nights, from $3.00 on the main floor to $1.00 in the second balcony, plus the war tax of 10%. A popular Wednesday matinee has always prevailed at the Studebaker and will continue.

The effort is to bring people back to the theatre, and not to drive them away. In time, who can tell, Chicago may take its proper place as a theatrical producing center. As a matter of fact, in this instance, all of Mrs. Insull's productions will be built, costumed, right here in Chicago.

Secret of Vitaphone Not To Be Disclosed To General Public

The influx, during the last week of new shows, some of them with the endorsement of New York on them and others making their first bid for favor in this city, had no perceptible ill-effect on the interest in Vitaphone and John Barrymore's new production "Don Juan", the programme Warner Bros., are presenting at McVickers. This bill keeps apace of the so-called legitimate theatre and steadily forges ahead of most of the so-called movies.

Beginning its fifth week, this dual show remains what it was the night it opened, namely, one of the greatest inventions since the telephone and the most revolutionizing developemnt in the history of the theatre.

That the huge success of Vitaphone, scientifically, musically and histronically, has penetrated to the fartherest reaches of the four corners of the country, is at once evident in the hundreds of requests that have poured into McVickers for information on this new "screen with a voice." The letters, literally stacks of them in every mail, come from men and women in every walk of life. The commonest query is for information on Vitaphone mechanism with a detailed description of how, why and what, etc. To these queries, there is but one answer, set up by Warner Bros. themselves, and that is: No.

While Vitaphone is thoroughly protected by patents granted to the Western Electric Company and the Bell Telephone Laboratories, makers and inventors of Vitaphone, the Warners permit nobody to see the delicate mechanism that produces in life-likeness a snging and musical screen. Nobody is permitted "back stage," a liberty granted the curious which all but killed the illusion of the legitimate theatre.

The purely technical aspects of Vitaphone and its principles of coordinating sound and action will ever remain a secret so far as the public is concerned, a policy which the Warner Bros. established at the outset and which will ever remain in force.

Meanwhile thousands crowd into McVickers and marvel at the "screen with a voice."

New Delinquent Home For Boys and Girls

With the borderline hospital at Oak Forest completed and with the equipment installed, the members of the borderline commission, made a final inspection on Oct. 14th. It provides that children between the ages of 6 and 18 shall be admitted after they have been passed upon by the institute for Juvenile Research. The personnel recommended by the Commission includes one superintendent, one teacher, one head nurse, seven family instructors, one secretary-stenographer, and three male attendants. The equipment provides for handwork, academic and gymnasium work; the handwork includes weaving, carpentry, sewing, etc. There is also being worked out a recreational program, which will teach group recreation, team work, scout and Americanization, and the entrance of a child to this school will result through the recommendation of the Commission and the order entered by one of the Juvenile Court Judges, and the chief probation officer will be asked to place the child in this particular institution. Commitment will be indefinite, depending upon the recovery of the child under their expert training. Under perhaps the greatest demonstraton of civic cooperation the new school will be run—the Juvenile Detention Home furnishing one psychiatrist, one psychologist, one social worker from the Juvenile Research. The County is to supply heat, light, and food, beds and bedding, all laundry work, furniture and furnishings, plumbing and house repairs, and the Probate Court of Cook County cooperating will do its part, through Judge Horner, in making the continuation of the school possible.

Fall All-Day Meeting of I. F. W. C. Held in DesPlaines Thursday

The Fall all day meeting of the 7th district of the I. F. W. C. was held in DesPlaines Thursday, October 7.

In the morning the Chairman of the various departments of work gave an outline ofor the coming year. Some of the State Chairmen were present. Mrs. Henry A. Briggs, district chairman of Community Service said that her state chairman had asked her department to stress the censorship of our moving pictures, also to ask their neighborshood theatres for good music and good well acted motion picturess. Mothers are urged not to "park" their children in the Motion Picture Houses. Mrs. Briggs' department has under its care the building of club houses and playgrounds.

The speaker was Dr. Lena Sadler, State Chairman of Public Health and Child Welfare, who urged all women to gossip a little bit this year about health. She stressed the need of annual health audits, the same as annual audits of the books of concerns, not that there is anything wrong with one but to prove that one is alright. She urged club women to keep up the physical examinations of the pre-school child and the oral and medical examinations of the school child.

Lunch was served by the DesPlaines Woman's Club. Musical numbers were furnished by Miss Margaret Borchers, pianist and the DesPlaines Woman's Club Quartette. Miss Annette Wolfram danced and Miss Ruth Decker of Park Ridge gave a reading.

The afternoon meeting opened with roll call and announcements. The speakers of the afternoon were the State Chairmen. Mrs. Martin Kent Northam, State Chairman for Junior Membership urged all clubs in the state to have a Junior Auxiliary or in their Club was not large enough to accommodate an Auxiliary to have a Junior membership. Her slogan for this year is "A Junior Membership in Every Club."

Mrs. Constant Church Hopkins State Chairman of the American Home, asked that all clubs have an American Home Day once during the year and have an exhibition of labor saving devices, either home made or factory made. She also suggested that we use as our slogan "Slow Up." Mrs. J. Marc Fowler State Chairman of Indian Welfare, said that although we had no Indians in Illinois we were a key state and as such we should use our influence to back bills for the betterment of our First American Citizens.

Mrs. William J. Grotenbuis State Chairman of Literature has as her program for the coming year, "Read with a Purpose." We are urged to learn about our American authors and read some of their works. She told of a course that the Chicago University is conducting at the Art Institute, this winter; Tuesdays "The Appreciation of Literature"; Thursdays "Business"; and Fridays a "Contemporary Course." Lectures begin at 6:45 p. m. Fee for either of the courses is $3.00. Mrs. Arthur G Jackson, State Chairman of music wants us to do more community singing, she asks us to sing wherever and whenever we can. In some places the vaudeville houses are having community singing Mrs. Jackson's slogan for this year is "Make Popular Music Good and Good Music Popular."

Meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock after having sung one verse of "Auld Lang Syne."

Marie C. Ford, Press Chairman
7th Dist. I. F. W. C.

Illinois Minister Uses Utility Transport to Swell Attendance

Believing that the application of modern principles of transportation will increase the attendance at his institution, an East St. Louis preacher has inaugurated a regular Sunday morning bus route to round up the distant members of his congregation and Sunday school.

Although the idea is not original with the local minister, the six-weeks' trial being given the plan is thought to be the first in Illinois.

A coach has been chartered from the East St. Louis and Suburban Railway for the trial period and if the excitement proves to be the anticipated success, the Sunday School Special will become a regular part of the Sabbath schedule.

Five new members were initiated.

A correction: Last week's article about the charity work of the auxiliary, should have read that $50 was spent for slippers for the boys at Dunning and Speedway and not "fifty pairs." The organization also gave $25 to the boy scout fund early in the year.

Mrs. Geo. Brinkmeyer and son S. F. Brinkmeyer, of Loyal, Okla., came to Palatine to attend the funeral of Mr. Christ Blohm. It was the first time that Mr. Brinkmeyer has visited Palatine since he moved to Oklahoma. He says that he is pleased with the improvements that are being made in the old home town. However, he claims that he prefers Oklahoma to Illinois. The warm climate down south during the winters especially appeal to him. When asked if the summers were not pretty hot down there, he replied, "it does not get warmer than 125 to 130 in the shade." That may sound rather warm to northern people, but the Oklahomians do not mind it and it is not felt as much as would be naturally supposed. We were surprised to learn that farmers are prosperous down there and have not had any disastrous crop losses. The stock is now upon the wheat fields, where they remain until March 1st when they are taken off and the wheat is allowed to mature. Very little hay is raised, says Mr. Brinkmeyer. He and his mother left Palatine Monday afternoon to return to their home.

An Amazing Lumber

[not cut from trees]

Sets new standards of home comfort and economy

IT stops heat and cold three times as effectively as wood. It is stronger in walls, costs little or nothing extra and year after year will save about one-third your fuel money. For EVERY home, new or old.

THIS amazing lumber was produced to meet the great need for a building material that would resist the passage of heat and cold better than wood lumber, masonry and other wall and roof materials.

Celotex Insulating Lumber is not cut from trees. It is manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. Because of the great bracing strength of these broad boards, Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber. It is many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money!

NEW COMFORT FOR OLD HOUSES. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

AS SHEATHING

UNDER PLASTER

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

NEW CATHOLIC SCHOOL HOUSE IS DEDICATED

The new school house erected by St. James Catholic congregation of Arlington Heights was dedicated with impressive ceremonies last Sunday. Rev. Mons. Peter Bierman of Evanston officiated, assisted by Rev. Frank Mattes of Buffalo Grove.

The dedication proper, was held in the afternoon, yet the entire day was given over to celebration of the event. There were many visitors from neighboring parishes. Thirty men from former parishes served by Rev. Peter Gall also some classmates and school chums were present to give honor to the occasion in memory of old times.

At the morning Rev. Gall gave a special sermon on "Rendering an Account of Thy Stewardship," recalling the duty of parents in making provisions, not merely for the bodily needs of their children, but also for their spiritual needs. "The good work has begun, now remain faithful until the end and the sacrifices that a school naturally imposes upon a parish, will bring its own reward."

Dedicatory Ceremonies

The dedicatory services started from the parish home, the children singing as they marched to the church. The invocation and opening prayer were given by the celebrant. The procession then reformed and marked to the entrance of the new school building, through a lane formed by the men of the parish who acted as escorts. The children sang as they marched. At the entrance, the choir sang and the outside ceremonies were held, including the blessing of the exterior of the building.

The ceremonies held in the assembly hall on the second floor of the building included singing and the hanging of the cross, the emblem of a Christian school.

The procession returned to the church with the children singing, a special hymn was given by the choir and children in honor of the patron saint, the Apostle James. The ceremonies closed with the benediction given by the visiting dignitary. All joined as the bells rang, in singing "Holy God, Thy Name."

Following the dedicatory exercises, the school building was thrown open to all visitors. The assembly hall was opened for the first coming together of all members of the parish for a social time and luncheon in their own home and upon their own grounds. The net receipts of the evening were early $250.00.

Building is Complete

St. James school building is probably as complete as any other such structure in the Chicago area. There is no building that could be better constructed. It is solid thru out, staunch and true in every respect. Expense was not spared in providing the best possible materials and workmanship. Local contractors, materials and laborers were used through its construction.

The hall are all commodious, entrances and exits are provided at each end of the building, doing away with the otherwise necessary unsightly fire escapes. The building is fire proof throughout and large fire extinguishers are provided on each floor.

A special improved safety lock is provided for the doors, making entrance and exist equally as easy for the children. The school rooms are standard in every particular and even better than are found in many new schools. The blackboards are all built in. Double acting curtains are at the windows. The school seats are all the product of the Arlington Seating Co. A special music room has its place and a special sister, well qualified in teaching music, will have charge of such work. The sanitary conveniences are of the highest class.

Four school rooms are outfitted and are in use at the present time. A school assembly hall is provided upon the east end of the building of the second floor. This hall as the pupils increase in number, can be divided into two school rooms. The blackboards are already in place.

The building is heated from an adjoining building, which is equally as well constructed. This is in compliance with the most improved fire protection rules and is an added safeguard for the protection of the pupils of the school. The basement, 54x72 ft. is unobstructed and will later be finished off into a hall for the community purposes.

The sisters have commodious quarters upon the first floor, including a dormitory, parlor and kitchen. They are very much pleased with their work here. Four of the sisters are engaged in school work. Another has charge of the music and the sixth is the housekeeper. Joseph Moran is the janitor of the building.

Business Men to Have "Big Eats"

Thursday, November 18, is the date set for the annual banquet of the Arlington Heights business men's association. The Lutheran school hall is the place. The committee in their announcement mailed to the members this week promise good eats. Plenty of music, entertainment and a program. Every member has the privilege of bringing a lady with him, preferably his own wife, says the committee.

York Street Paving Completed; Safety Signs Needed Now

Now that York street is paved and will soon be opened for traffic we are wondering how long it will be before the citizens of Bensenville will have to witness an auto accident at the intersection of York street and Green avenue. Without a doubt Green avenue will be paved next year as that is the main cross town driveway, traffic at this intersection is going to be some thing never before seen in our town. One of these two much used streets should be a through street and as the railroad tracks are about 400 feet north of the intersection on York street it would be purely a "Safety First" measure to make Green avenue the through street causing every car on York street to stop. This would make sure that no cars came from the south and approached the tracks at a 60 mile clip. York street is sure to be a race course and everything should be done to avoid accidents. While driving over the state highways one often notices a danger notice at places where drivers are approaching some unknown dangerous condition. We believe York street drive should also have a similar notice posted 400 foot each side of railroad track. The old saying that "Fools Become Angels at Railway Crossings" may also prove true at the intersection of York street and Green avenue unless some action is taken to cope with the situation at the beginning of through traffic on the new pavement.

Proper Publicity Helpful in Affairs of the Community

Advertising is nothing more than letting people know what you want or what you have to dispose of, and it surely pays to advertise. Two weeks ago the Register contained an article pertaining to the inadequate train service at Bensenville. In order that Milwaukee officials might know just what was realy needed in Bensenville in the way of passenger train service the article was sent to them. They readily saw what was needed and Sunday, Oct. 17 changed the suburban train service so that Bensenville now has six east bound trains in three hours all of which stop to take on and discharge passengers. This gives us splendid service and the officials of the Milwaukee were only too glad to have the matter brought to their attentoin. Never be afraid to advertise. Get your ideas before the people and you are sure to get results. We were much interested in the full column written last week by the River Grove reporter. They sure have the right idea and while they have been having motor bus service for some time, they fully realize that a well heated passenger coach that can take you direct to the Union depot without changing to a street car to complete your trip, is by far the most desireable. Nothing on earth will build up the territory between the Chicago city limits and Elgin more quickly than adequate train service, and this service will also change the desire of any bus line to obtain a franchise to operate a bus line through that territory. As the railroad gauges the number of trains run by the number of passengers carried we can easily see more trains put on as this territory is built up. The Milwaukee today has a four track system between the city and Bensenville with good train service and we believe that within a few years the four tracks will be extended to Elgin and suburban service, second to none, put into effect.

We recently picked up a small advertising poster and noticed the name of "Lookabaugh Brothers" at the bottom. The name being familiar we read it all and learned that our jeweler J. Lookabaugh and his brother, who is also well known in Bensenville, were manufacturing a Perfect Metal Dial Cleaner, an article used by all jewelers, the article is in great demand among jewelers and the boys have begun putting it on the market. They believe in advertising and have had thousands of sheets of advertising printed for distribution. Many a great factory has started in just this manner and who knows but what some day Bensenville may be the home of a great factory making this same article. At any rate we wish the Lookabaughs the best of success.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLD DISTRICT CONVENTION

The fourth annual Sunday school teachers' convention of the Arlington Heights Pastoral Circle of the Evangelical Church, comprising 22 schools was held October 17 at St. Paul's Evangelical church, Palatine, Ill., John C. Voeks, pastor. 140 teachers were present and 100 visitors from the different schools.

After the opening devotions and exercises the convention divided into groups for discussion of various phases of work. Two of the teachers of St. Paul's Sunday school made a special contribution in these simultaneous meetings. Mrs. E. Foster leading the boys junior department and Rev. Voeks as chairman of the adult group. A plenary session followed in which each group reported.

All delegates felt that a very profitable and inspiring afternoon, was spent. Eats were served by committees of the St. Paul's Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Roy Born acting as chairman. The ladies said we owe that to our Sunday school teachers and certainly served a fine lunch. Eats were donated by mother's of St. Paul's Sunday school members.

At 6:45 the convention service was held, conducted by Pastor Louis Kleeman of Barrington, Ill. Musical numbers were rendered by Theo. Voeks at the organ, Mrs. E. Foster, vocal solo, and St. Paul's choir, an anthem. The address was given by Prof. H. Katterjohn professor of religious training at Elmhurst college. He spoke very impressively on "The Teacher's Task." "There are three kinds of teachers; good, bad, indifferent, what kind would you like to be?" New officers for the ensuing year installed were Mr. Kirchoff, Bensenville, president; Mrs. E. Foster Palatine, secretary; Everybody went home with the assurance of having had a blessed day and a very nice time.

Bright Lights Cause Death of Roselle Boy

Local Youth Injured

Elmer Biesterfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Biesterfeld, who was injured in an auto wreck early Monday morning, has been brought home from the hospital in Elgin.

Young Biesterfeld, a painter was driving on Lake street about two miles west of Bloomingdale near the Sam Meyer farm, when he was blinded by the glare from a spotlight of an approaching car. His car left the pavement and before he could regain control of it, it had smashed into a culvert. Biesterfeld was knocked unconscious and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to signal a passing car, which stopped and took him to an Elgin hospital. It was learned that he suffered a broken leg and probably internal injuries.

Runaway Team Smashes Car

A team owned by Edwin H. Wille, farmer near Roselle, frightened by an incoming train early Tuesday morning tore loose from the hitching post at Sauermann's general store, dashed across the street and plunged into a new sedan which was parked in front of Weber's hotel. Wille's hired man endeavored to stop the maddened horses by hanging to the bridle of one of them, but he was dragged along and loosened his grip just in time to avert being crushed against the car. The sedan, a new Ford purchased this week by Frank Koppa, of Schaumburg, was badly dented and the glass on the side hit, the windshield was also shattered. Luckily, two of Mr. Koppa's children who were in the car at the time of the accident were uninjured.

Mr. Wille's hired man's name was not learned, but he showed his nerve and pluck by clinging to the horses for about 300 feet.

Diphtheria Causes Death of Son of Methodist Pastor

Richard Krahl, four year old son of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Krahl, of Antioch, late of Palatine, died last Saturday afternoon at the Waukegan hospital from diphtheria. Burial was at Palatine Monday afternoon. Rev. Morgan Williams of Evanston officiated at the services. A number of other pastors were present.

Richard had accompanied his mother and little brother to Connecticut to visit relatives. On Monday he was taken with a slight cold which gradually grew worse. Friday noon when his mother reached Antioch, where Rev. Krahl had just been assigned. Richard's condition was unimproved and a physician was immediately called. Diphtheria symptoms did not develop until Saturday when the lad was taken to the hospital at Waukegan, where a fight was made to save his life. The heart proved unequal to the task and the boy passed away a few moments after an operation had been performed.

The death is especially sad because a little sister died from the same disease about a year ago. A younger brother was administered antitoxin and fear was held for several days that he also would be taken, but he is recovering.

The parents have the sympathy of the people of Palatine, especially of the M. E. church constituency, whose pastor Rev. Krahl has been the past two years.

Mr. George Benhart Sr., of Roselle, died October 9, 1926, aged 79 years, 2 months, 27 days. In his death Roselle lost an honored citizen and his family a beloved father. Few men have the opportunity to be the forefather while living of so large a family. There are today 12 children, 38 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren, all direct descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Benhart. The funeral was very largely attended and the multitude of flowers showed in what high esteem he was held in the community.

Deceased was born July 12, 1874, in Brooklyn, N. Y. Sept. 11, 1874, in Chicago, Ill., he was united in marriage to Miss Sophia Kruse, who had arrived in this country from Germany, two years earlier. They first made their home in Des Plaines, from where they lived upon a farm in Elk Grove township for a period of 12 years, later moving to Medinah, then Rodenburg and in 1918 located in Roselle, which has been their home ever since.

During their residence in the vicinity of Roselle, Mr. and Mrs. Benhart made many friends and the family was held in high esteem by all who knew them. By their honesty, and thrift they became an asset to the community. Thirteen children were born to them, only one of whom has died.

The program for the day was exceptionally interesting, and besides this the guests were taken on a sight-seeing trip thru "Mooseheart" one of the greatest institutes in the world, and in the evening the entire delegation was invited by the Masons and American Legion to hear Col. Mitchell speak which was a special privilege in itself. A full report of the convention will be given by the delegate, Mrs. Peck, at the next regular meeting of the P. T. A. Nov. 11.

Fence Rail Kills Speeding Autoist

W. L. Giles, a salesman of 1828 S. Kent av., Maywood, died in Oak Park hospital Monday, nearly ten hours after his body was pierced by a 4x4 fence rail that riveted him to his seat in the wreckage of an automobile in which he and five other persons were speeding at Grand av., and River road.

The timber passed through the radiator of the automobile when the machine swerved off the road on an "S" turn and struck the fence. It smashed on through the dash, through Giles' side, out his back and through the back of the seat.

Conscious During Rescue

Policeman R. Wittey of Maywood and Bliss Soderolm of the [illegible] force worked for an hour and a half to saw the timber behind and in front of Giles, who, entirely conscious, gritted his teeth and directed their efforts, while his wife sat nearby, weeping hysterically.

Giles remained conscious until given an anaesthetic three hours later. Dr. John W. Tope performed the operation for the removal of the plank.

Chicago Postmaster Speaks at Palatine

Mr. Arthur C. Lueder, postmaster of Chicago, was the guest of the Evangelical Brotherhood of St. Paul's Evangelical church at Palatine last Tuesday evening. The Brotherhood had invited the men and women of the congregation and their friends and quite a number were there and listened attentatively to the excellent address of Mr. Lueder on the postal service.

Not many of us have any idea of the volume of business which the postal department handles each second, minute, hour, day, week, month and year, but those who were fortunate enough to hear Mr. Lueder Tuesday evening found out what a huge business Uncle Sam's mail really is. The mass of statistics which Mr. Lueder presented were appalling and could not possibly be remembered but they served to show not only the size of the postal business but also to emphasize the appalling loss of time, money and efforts which carelessness on the part of the public causes each year.

The keynote of Mr. Lueder's talk was co-operation, and a brotherly feeling between men, between postal department and public, between government and its employes between boss and employe and between citizens in general.

That the old "no sentiment in business" policy of a few years ago has given way before a more human element in human relations was proven by the speaker, illustrations of what co-operation has done for business and for public. For over an hour Mr. Lueder held his audience in strict attention by his illustrations of how a more human relationship is bringing about a better postal service and how those same more human relationships are good for any business, any organization and any community.

He spoke on the history and development of this great business, the collossal proportions it has reached and the excellent service that is rendered to the public in this great business, as co-operation is the secret of success in business, he pointed out that this spirit has achieved great things and brought many improvements and innovations in the postal service in the city of Chicago, possibly the second largest postal station in the world. He also impressed his audience with the necessity of co-operation on the part of the public with the postal service to get the very best returns. It is amazing how many letters and parcels can not be delivered nor returned to the sender. Even money letters worth thousands of dollars go to the dead letter office every year. Thousands of parcels have to be rewrapped in the Chicago office. These things mean loss and disappointment to the public.

What should be done to co-operate on the part of the public: Write address correctly not forgetting street and number and designation north and south and east and west. Write the name of the state in full. Do not fail to put your name and address on the letter or package you send.

Wrap your parcels securely and send all mail early. Early in the day and in good time in busy seasons such as Christmas to prevent the rush and remember the postman kindly, he is one of your faithful servants.

Mr. Leuder is a fluent talker, gifted with a fine voice and made his subject matter so interesting to his hearers that some said, they could have listened to him an hour longer. He is a son of Prof. J. Lueder of Elmhurst college, and a member of St. Paul's Evangelical church of Chicago.

Following the Leuders talk the refreshments committee composed of men of the brotherhood supplied the wants of the inner man with coffee and doughnuts. Mr. Ralph L. Peck, for many years a friend of Mr. Lueder was called on for a few remarks and in his talk paid high tribute to the business ability and character of the speaker of the evening.

The Men's Brotherhood of St. Paul's church is to be congratulated upon the kind of meeting which they conducted Tuesday evening. Such meetings are not only instructive but also serve to bring into closer rleationship the people of the community with results which are bound to be beneficial to all. Postmaster H. H. Hitzemann of Palatine, Mr. Willman., Supt. of the Jefferson Park office, and H. J. Wildhagen, veteran rural mail carrier were other postal officials who came out to pay their respects to their associate. Mr. Lueder has invited the Brotherhood to spend an evening at the Chicago postoffice and see from the inside the workings of that great organization.

WM. BUSSE IS CANDIDATE FOR RE - ELECTION

AN EDITORIAL

Wm. Busse is candidate for re-election to succeed himself as a member of the county board of commissioners from the country towns of Cook county. The election will be Nov. 2.

Mr. Busse needs no introduction to the readers of this paper. His long and faithful service in the interests of the public is so generally recognized that he needs no defense for his acts of the past or pledges as to his future conduct. In normal times his election would be assured, but with the upheaval that has wrecked Cook county politics, it is important that all friends of Wm. Busse, all friends of good roads, all friends of good government, should give every support possible to Mr. Busse.

There are many side issues to be voted on Nov. 2. There are many candidates on the republican and democratic tickets that are practically unknown to the rank and file of their respective parties. Wm. Busse is one that we all know and we should not make any mistake about casting our vote for county commissioners.

Many Take Schick Test Guard Against Disease

The physicians at Arlington Heights report that they are having many calls for the administering of the Schick test as a safeguard against diphtheria. Reports of diphtheria cases in Arlington Heights are greatly exaggerated, the present number of cases being few, but the experiences of a year ago are still fresh in the minds of local people and they are taking steps to prevent a similar epidemic. There has been a tightening up of the quarantines and every effort is being made to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Need of Schick Test

The general public is urged to co-operate in the safeguarding of the health of Arlington Heights people. The Schick test is recognized and administered (at a very small cost) to find out whether a person is susceptible to diphtheria. If the test proves that the person will not take diphtheria, nothing further is done and that party is safe from the disease. If the test shows that the party is susceptible, a course of three treatments are given which makes him immune from diphtheria the rest of his life. The charges that the doctors are making for this work is reasonable and every child and grown up should be tested.

Diphtheria can be prevented. The doctors are placing the matter of protecting the lives of the children squarely up to the parents.

Guy Sampson, Local Editor
DuPage County Register

Dear Guy: Your last letter received. That sure was a whopper. How do you find time to do all the work you do? In your letter you said Bensenville has hit the stride. I believe with what improvements are in, and with those contemplated it sure will look a lot better. It will encourage a good class of people to come in and build good homes.

I started this letter at two p. m. Guy, then the young hopeful woke up and wanted to go for a walk, so we did. After that we had a little supper and then we went to church. That is something I rarely do. I enjoyed it. I can't tell you the name of the church, and suppose I should be ashamed to admit it. But I do know the name of the preacher, and that is why I went. It was the Rev. Render's church. I heard him at the Booster Club banquet, and right then and there John (you know who I mean) and I made up our minds to hear him in church. We all admitted he was good at the banquet and at the Fourth of July celebration. Well, if he was good then, you ought to hear him in church. When I left I was so enthused and inspired. We spoke of the beauty of the lilies of the field, and compared their quiet, serene life with the turbulent one we live. Maybe you think I have taken to religion, Guy, but it was so good I can't help but write about it. The chances are if you ever look for me on a Sunday evening, you will stand a good show of finding me at Rev. Render's church.

Talking about church, Guy here's something I've been thinking of for a long while. I suppose you know Oak Park fairly well. Now there is a town where property values have increased about 1,000 per cent in the last twenty years. Why? Here's my argument. Oak Park has the finest collection of churches of any village or city of its size in the United States. I suppose it is not proper to talk in terms of dollars and cents when we discuss churches, but church buildings such as they have in Oak Park are beautfiul. A great majority of them cost over $150,000, and some have even cost $500,000. If these churches were suddenly removed, I dread to think of what would happen to Oak Park. To build a church costing half a million dollars, of course is not necessary for Bensenville, but I sure would like to see two or three churches in Bensenville built of brick, with good basements and Sunday school rooms, and a good parsonage, in other words, first class, modern churches. If the Tribune Real Estate editor was ever shown plans of one or two churches like I describe for Bensenville, believe me, old timer realty values would jump in Bensenville. Anyway, let's you and I get hold of John and attend a church, and do our little bit.

That Park idea is a good one. Elgin has two parks like you talk about, donated by some public-spirited citizens. Wing and Lord are the names, and these old first citizens of Elgin will have their names perpetuated for centuries to come. There are names in Bensenville which sound just as good, and I hope someone will see their way clear to donate fifteen or twenty or more acres for a park.

I noticed the other day that the work on George Franzen's place is progressing nicely. That sure is a real, genuine improvement; a real step toward a city beautiful. I hope he will carry through the idea of a lodge hall. I wish I could suggest something to him about that, but then George knows that the sun rises in the east and sets in the west, so we will let it go at that.

You tell about cement sidewalks all over town, and mail delivery. I certainly agree with you that the old town has hit the stride.

Sincerely Yours.,
Charlie Shoreham.

Melrose Park Man Taken for "a Ride"

John D'Anno an Italian who boarded at Melrose Park was invited to take a ride with an Italian bootlegger Sunday evening, who said they were going out west. When the car east bound on Grand ave., about a block east of Manheim road the proprietor of the road house at the corner was startled by several gun shots and rushing to the scene discovered a man laying in the road who had been shot and thrown from the car. He quickly notified officer Ed. Krotz, who got there quick on his motorcycle and called undertaker P. T. Tiedeman who reached there with the Sax Tiedeman ambulance in eleven minutes and finding the man still alive took him to Oak Park hospital in 30 minutes from first call—some speedy services but the man had been shot 7 times in the head and body and soon died. The coroner ordered the body taken to the nearest undertaker on Madison street an inquest was held Monday at the hospital; but those knew most about the dead man were reticent. He is believed to be one of the bootlegger gang who are killing off their competitors in the liquor trade. The undertakers and Cook County will have a hard time learning the secrets of these gangs or getting any money from the victims for burial expenses.

TWO PAPERS EACH WEEK TO SUBSCRIBERS

Subscribers to this paper will receive two issues a week hereafter. The first issue in the week is the Cook County Herald, which becomes a rural school and farm newspaper. The Friday edition will carry the community news. Both issues will consist for the present of eight pages. We expect to enlarge both editions as advertising patronage increases. The purpose of the change is to give a better service to each of the communities that are covered by our newspapers. The Tuesday edition (Cook County Herald) will contain many new features. It will be a newspaper that will be equally interesting to all of our subscribers. Its circulation is 5,000. Three hundred new subscribers have been added during the past ten days.

Fifty new subscribers have been obtained in River Grove alone.

The change will give the editors the opportunity to feature in the Friday edition the various communities that are served.

Arlington Heights will have a new newspaper, "The Arlington Heights Herald" which makes its first appearance this week. Towns hitherto receiving the Cook County Herald will receive the Arlington Heights Herald on Friday.

The publishers hope that the readers will soon become accustomed to the change and will recognize the benefit to be derived. The publishers will be glad to receive suggestions at any time.

TRAIN HITS MR. CHAS. SIGWALT OLD VETERAN

Mr. Chas. Sigwalt, 87 years old, a veteran of the Civil war and official of the Village of Arlington Heights many years, was struck by a C. & N. W. train at the Arlington Heights depot Saturday afternoon. Fortunately, the only injuries received were bruises to the back of his head and shock to the nervous system. With the same courageous spirit that he has displayed all of his life, the old gentleman is fighting his way back to health and there is a marked improvement as each day passes. Mr. Sigwalt was on his way to Chicago to meet his son John. None seem to know exactly how it happened. Mr. Sigwalt is a little hard of hearing and was unaware of the approach of the train. He had apparently crossed the tracks and was too near the engine when it approached. The pilot hit him and threw him down with sufficient force to stun him. He says that he remembers nothing from the time that he was at the depot until he found himself in his own bed at home. Mr. Sigwalt was carried into the depot and the family called. A nurse was secured and he is receiving the best of care. He did not regain his fullest faculties until Wednesday and is now bright and cheerful, his usual self.

Charley Sigwalt occupies a place of his own in the hearts and minds of Arlington Heights people. He is one of the very few Civil War veterans remaining in Arlington Heights. The position he occupies in village affairs of his home village was recently the subject of two historical articles that appeared in this paper.

This meeting is held at Palatine as the most centrally located place for western Cook county.

There was a small fire at the school house last Thursday. John Mach was the first to see it, and he stated the fire was started by a tramp. John had been in the basement to wash his hands. While there he saw a man light his pipe and throw the burning match into a barrel of dishes, packed in straw, belonging to the Community club. John informed Miss Bryan, and with the assistance of the older boys, the fire was put out. The tramp was nowhere to be seen. He disappeared as quietly and mysteriously as he appeared. He was a tall, dark man, shabby in appearance, and wore a hat full of holes. If anyone knows anything about this "holey-hatted" individual, please inform the school board.

"No Admittance, Jack Frost"

NO MATTER what the weather is outside, you can keep the inside of your home at a comfortable, even temperature with storm doors and windows.

And they soon pay for themselves. Cases are known where from five to twenty-five percent has been saved on coal bills by storm doors and windows. Remember that the coal you'll burn this winter can't be used again, but your storm sash will last for years.

A Combination Storm and Screen Door

A Curtis combination storm and screen door is illustrated above. You just slip out the screen and put in the glass—not five minutes work. This door is made of durable white pine and will last a long time. It is priced quite reasonably, in fact, you get two doors for the price of one.

We carry a complete stock of Curtis storm doors and windows. Call us up and we'll come and take the measurements of your openings. Better do it now so you can begin to save money on this year's coal bill.

W. R. RIDGE LOCAL EDITOR

The new owners of the drug store at Thatcher and Grand ave., have adopted a new policy by which they strive to please the people at all times.

Mr. Breen, having sold his property will soon move to Chicago.

Mrs. Joslen is on the mend after being taken ill with pneumonia recently.

The Vocational society of Shutins will hold their pre-holiday sales for this month at the residence of Mrs. A. S. Hook in Oak Park.

The bus problem in River Grove has got to the stage where it will even jeopardize the education of the children. As you know, there are many children in River Grove who attend the Franklin Park parochial school. They are taken to and from school free, the pastor paying the fares on a contract with Mr. Wilcox. Wednesday morning Mr. Wilcox had these buses stopped but his efforts to ring 25c a day out of each child were futile; Judge Dennis E. Sullivan ruling in favor of Mr. Wischna the busses continued the next morning.

Owing to this change of transportation, it has been decided that the new catholic church being erected will be the school building as originally planned. Services will be held in the school hall. The mothers of the children who attend Franklin Park can rest assured that if a new ruling stops the buses now carrying the children, they will be taken there free by the local editor; franchise or no franchise.

Perhaps the most convincing evidence of the ability of Judge McNerney is the fact that nearly all the hearings of the many men and women that have been arrested by the department of registration and education for practicing medicine without a license have been heard before him with perfect satisfaction to both state and defendant. These cases come from all over the county. Upon the completion of the hearing of Dr. Rein's case. Mr. Follmer of the department of registration is quoted as having said "I have never heard any judge execute a decision in a more complete judicial manner than this young man."

Dr. Rein, who was held over to the grand jury under $1200 bonds said to the editor, "If there is anybody capable of tempering mercy with justice I'm sure Charley is the one that will do it, and I'm convinced that I have been given as fair a show as any judge of a higher court could have given me." The latest of these cases were Nina and Elmer Spencer who were bound over to the grand jury, Friday, under $2,000 bonds.

Mrs. M. E. Kaban's case was continued until, Oct. 22.

I have no object in publishing these testimonials other than to substantiate the past articles printed here that some think are without foundation. River Grove needs men like McNerney, who boosts his home town by accomplishing deeds worth while.

Clarence Norten leads on the black board with a high score of 232 pins. Can John D. bowl? and how!

The bunco party to be given at the Progressive club, Nov. 2, will probably be one of the best yet given in River Grove. Numerous prizes are already prepared as well as a number of novelties for the kiddies. Don't fail to attend.

It's Easier to Talk Than Write, Telephone Statistics Demonstrate

Twenty-two billion telephone conservations, fifteen billion letters and postal cards, one-fifth of a billion telegrams, annually—that's how the American people keep in touch with one another. The telephone transmits half again as many messages as the first-class mail, and one hundred and ten times as many as the telegraph.

Even these comparisons understate the service of the telephone, for every telephone conservation is a two-way communication. Each telephone connection is therefore equivalent to two letters, post cards or telegrams. The relative use of the telephone is really double that shown by a mere comparison of the total number of telephone conservations, letters and telegrams.

No other nation has developed the "telephone habit" to such an extent as we Americans have. But no other nation has anything like as many telephones as the United States, either in actual numbers or in proportion to population.

Relatives of President Coolidge have organized an orchestra. Perhaps the publicity agents had convinced them that the president is too modest to blow his own horn.

Anyone desiring to inspect the machine may call and we will be glad to demonstrate.

An Amazing Lumber

[not cut from trees]

Sets new standards of home comfort and economy

IT stops heat and cold three times as effectively as wood. It is stronger in walls, costs little or nothing extra and year after year will save about one-third your fuel money. For EVERY home, new or old.

THIS amazing lumber was produced to meet the great need for a building material that would resist the passage of heat and cold better than wood lumber, masonry and other wall and roof materials.

Celotex Insulating Lumber is not cut from trees. It is manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. Because of the great bracing strength of these broad boards, Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber. It is many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money!

NEW COMFORT FOR OLD HOUSES. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

AS SHEATHING

UNDER PLASTER

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

"It's a Gay Life in Palatine"

No. 1:

Motor cop makes arrest of a "window peeker," fight ensues, cop saves himself by use of "billy," a case of mistaken identity, cop and prisoner shake hands and all is well.

No. 2:

A little gang warfare broke out on Bothwell Street, girl as the cause; so man combatants that the cop had difficulty to keep track finding them all; war subsided.

No. 3:

Palatine man runs amuck of officers of the law at DesPlaines; was on his way home on a Northwestern train, spending his time terrorizing passengers; a heavy fine and the Palatineite was allowed to continue on his journey.

No. 4:

"Button, button, who has got the button?" The police do not know and nobody else knows. The slot machines recently gathered up in a raid and reposing under lock and key in the village jail, have disappeared; trouble arises from the fact that one owner did not get his machine back.

Truly, a policeman has a gay life in Palatine.

Bowling Notes

Walter Senne rolled 248 the other night, which he thought was a very good score. Shortly afterwards, Al Mills rolled 258 which Mills thought was a better score. Walter had just placed the wreath of victory upon the brow of Mills, when in walked E. Willman and rolled 268. Mr. Willman apologized to the young fellows with the statement that he was of course many years older than the others and could be expected to know a bit more about bowling than they.

A box of two of 25 ElProducto cigars is the prize for high score this month.

Mrs. Jessie Schroeder won the prize for the weekly high score for ladies last week with a score of 148.

Former Residents Visited Palatine; Were Enthused

Mrs. Geo. Brinkmeyer and son S. F. Brinkmeyer, of Loyal, Okla., came to Palatine to attend the funeral of Mr. Christ Blohm. It was the first time that Mr. Brinkmeyer has visited Palatine since he moved to Oklahoma. He says that he is pleased with the improvements that are being made in the old home town. However, he claims that he prefers Oklahoma to Illinois. The warm climate down south during the winters especially appeal to him. When asked if the summers were not pretty hot down there, he replied, "it does not get warmer than 125 to 130 in the shade." That may sound rather warm to northern people, but the Oklahomians do not mind it and it is not felt as much as would be naturally supposed. We were surprised to learn that farmers are prosperous down there and have not had any disastrous crop losses. The stock is now upon the wheat fields, where they remain until March 1st when they are taken off and the wheat is allowed to mature. Very little hay is raised, says Mr. Brinkmeyer. He and his mother left Palatine Monday afternoon to return to their home.

Palinois Camp Fire Have Good Time

The Camp Fire officers elected this year are as follows: Edith Morris, president; Julia Filips, secretary; Alice Smith, treasurer; and Dorothy Oltendorf, was appointed press correspondent.

On Monday, October 11, we Camp Fire girls held our weekly meeting. Afterward we went up to the auxiliary where we were royally entertained. Marjorie Zinn won a pumpkin and a lovely "hanky" bag for guessing most accurately the number of seeds in the pumpkin. Edith Morris received a "make-up box" of cosmetics for acting out her future vocation in pantomine the best of the crowd. Then, after delicious refreshments were served we all went home having had a very enjoyable time.

Last Tuesday evening we had a Chinese banquet at the school house. All who came brought good appetites to keep them company. Afterwards we had our regular business meeting and the social end was in the form of a "hop" a la Victrola. This banquet was given as a welcome for our new members who are in person: Evelyn Oltendorf, Margie Paddock, Fairie Belle Bennett, and Clara Culverson. We were sorry that the fifth new member, Lillian Reuse, could not be present because of illness.

We expect to make rugs this winter and would be glad to get some "gunny sacks," old silk stockings and discarded velvet skirts, dresses, or old corduroy bath robes of any color. If you have any to spare please give them to one of the Camp Fire Girls or send them up to school to Miss Corzine.

Ask for Shelter Shed at Palatine

The frost is on the pumpkin
And the corn is in the shock.
We've dusted off the cobwebs,
Got the old "pep" out of hock,
There's lots of things to think about
Need help to put them through
And the guy that's needed most of all
To boost the game is YOU.

The Palatine Commercial Association started its fall and winter activities at a meeting at the Village hall Monday evening. There are many things which such an organization can do for a community and the Palatine organization started out to try and help do some of those things at its Monday meeting. There is great need for a shelter on the south platform at the railroad station especially so since the new fence has been erected between the tracks. The association authorized the appointment of a committee which will meet some of the C. & N. W. officials and talk over some of the things which Palatine needs and is entitled to. Among the things to be discussed will be not only a shelter house on the south platform but a new station as well. President Peck appointed the following committee to meet the C. & N. W. officials. The committee will be accompanied by representatives from the village board and by the real estate operators of Palatine: C. D. Taylor, T. C. Hart, H. H. Schoppe, Fred Buenzaw, Dan Bergman, W. H. Hokemeyer and as many others as can go.

The association also discussed holding another rousing community gathering such as was held last spring and the following committee was appointed to work out the details of some sort of rousing get together meeting at which the children will play an important part.

F. F. Danielsen, T. C. Hart, W. S. Williams, G. C. Butler.

Methodist Church Makes Plans for The Coming Year

The pastor's cabinet met at the home of Rev. Billman last week and planned the work of the year. Naturally, the most important item in the program was the building project. The parsonage is being moved into place back of the church this week. The parsonage lot, north of Zimmer's store, is for sale, and plans are made for the building of a community house or more properly, the present building will be converted into a community house, and a new church auditorium will be built to the north of the community house.

The object of the community house is to provide a place and equipment for community games, and entertainments. It is a step toward providing wholesome amusement for the young people of Arlington Heights.

The spirit of the meeting is typical of the spirit that has been developing in this congregation for some time. It isn't the spirit of providing selfishly only for the members of the church, but the purpose of the building program is to provide for as many others as possible.

It is the hope that a program of some sort of entertainment and recreation and education can be provided for several nights of each week, when the new equipment is available. There will then be more room for Sunday school classes and for suppers and banquets.

Other plans for the year include giving the services of the pastor to the work of the Boy Scouts. This is a most important work and is also for others than church members. The pastor's wife is to perform similar service for the girls of the town by working with the Campfire girls. She has one group and Miss Laura McElhose has another. These groups contain girls from all denominations.

The Tri-Sigma work will include educational features this year. Now that the school board has taken over the night school for foreigners, the Tri-Sigma will start other classes for other folks. The one already announced is a class in Journalism which will be taught by Mr. Beaty. Others may be announced later.

The Tri-Sigma work will also feature educational trips for children. It is hoped that these may be started before long. The trips will be open to all children above a certain age, and will be made to Chicago to visit certain places of interest to children and of real educational value.

The organization of a men's club was conducted two years ago with great success.

A go-to-church month was also planned. The work of the choir was discussed and improvements planned.

This is the first time for many years that the Arlington Heights Methodist church has had a full time minister, and great things are expected this year. There are many willing workers and there is no trouble in finding plenty of work to be done.

Miss Ellen Lackner Becomes Bride of Mr. John Albrecht

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lackner was the scene of an ideal prettily conducted wedding reception when their daughter, Miss Ellen Wilhemine was married to Mr. John Albrecht Saturday, October 16, at six o'clock in the evening in St. Peter's church, the pastor, Rev. C. Noack, solemnizing the sacred rites.

The bridesmaid was Miss Vera Geffert, the best man was Mr. Willie Lackner, brother of the bride; Miss Zelda Tesch, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Irving Meyer, were also attendants.

The music was beautifully impressive, as the great organ pealed forth the wedding march. The choir sang appropriate numbers.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white satin and georgette crepe, wore a long white veil, capote design with shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas and was a winsome lovely bride. Miss Vera Geffert wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette, and Miss Zelda Tesch a handsome gown of yellow georgette, their bouquets were chrysanthemums, orchid and yellow, harmonizing with their costumes.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The house was artistically decorated with flowers of pink and white, and garlands of oak leaves and ferns. A sumptuous supper was served to thirty guests, from a prettily decorated table. The place of honor given to a wonderful bride's cake made by the bride's loving mother.

Early in the evening a charivari party in reality serenaders, composed of the St. Peter's choir and other musical fun loving friends joined the happy company. The evening was merrily spent in games and music. A trio composed of Willie Lackner, Walter Tesch, Curt Noack, sang many pleasing numbers. Teacher Kolp, gave a greeting and word of welcome to the bride groom, a member of the choir and comparative stranger here who came from over seas, about three years ago, leaving his parents, sisters and brothers, to find a new home and a bride in this community, where he has made hosts of friends and is held in high esteem by all who have come to know him.

The pastor, Rev. Noack and teachers made up a part of this family group, and did their share in contributing to the joy of the occasion.

There were many beautiful and useful gifts, notably one sent by the bridegroom's family, a wonderful piece of hand wrought embroidery, a table cover worked by the loving mother and sisters of Mr. Albrecht over in Germany. Fine linen done in colors, a most beautiful gift.

At midnight the bride's cake was cut and served with other refreshments. It was just a happy home reception and congratulations were hearty and sincere.

The bride is one of our favorite home girls, and has hosts of friends in Arlington Heights. Since her school days she has had employment in the city.

The bride groom, Mr. John Albrecht is well educated and skilled electrician, and readily found work and recognition here since coming to this country.

The newly-wed Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will make their home for the present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lackner, where they have the sincere good wishes of many friends for their bright future.

For the greatest "actual operation" exhibit of heat treating at a steel convention in Chicago, nearly a million dollars worth of gas furnace equipment was installed.

Final Plans for New Courts and Jail Now Ready

Final plans for the new Cook county Criminal courts, jail, and administration building to be built at 26th street and California ave. were made.

The three buildings will cost $7,500,000. The voters have already authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $4,500,000, and the issuance of $3,000,000 more in bonds is asked at the Nov. 2 election.

Plan Huge Court Building

The Criminal courts building is to be seven stories high. On the first floor will be the sheriff's office and the office of the clerk of the Criminal court. The office of the state's attorney will be on the second floor. The third floor has not yet been assigned to an office. The chief justice of the Criminal court and the grand jury rooms will occupy the fourth floor, and the fifth, sixth and seventh floor will be occupied by court rooms, four to a floor.

The administration building will be five stories high. The jailers' offices and squad rooms will be on the first floor. A dining room and a kitchen where food will be cooked for jurors will be on the second floor. The third, fourth and fifth floors will be occupied by suites for jurors.

Plan for Woman Jurors

These jury suites will be so constructed that they may hold both men and women jurors according to plans. There will be three rooms to a suite, one room for men, one room for women, and a common room where both may meet and debate. This arrangement was made in anticipation of the time when women will be called for jury service.

The jail will be four stories high and constructed in wings like a modern beach hotel. Each wing will hold 78 prisoners and the jail will have a total capacity of 1,250 prisoners. Ground has been purchased so that more wings may be added, giving the jail a possible capacity of 3,162 prisoners. The jail and the Criminal courts building will be connected by a tunnel which will be used only by guards and prisoners.—Chicago Tribune.

WIDENING OF STREETS EARLY NEXT SPRING

Engineer's estimates have been prepared covering the widening to forty feet of streets of Arlington Heights "new business section." The legal proceedings will not begin until after January as there is no time for the construction work before winter sets in. The improvement includes Dunton Ave., from the railroad to the corner of the Presbyterian church; Evergreen and State road from the railroad to Miner St. Miner street, from Dunton to State road. This includes the new business district that has developed within the past two years. One block on the south side is also included, viz: Vail St. from Davis St. to Campbell. The improvement is greatly needed. The present 18 and 24 ft. streets are entirely inadequate.

Bjorndahl Takes Over Pine Ave.

The job of paving of Pine Ave. that was recently awarded to an outside contractor, has been taken over by the Bjorndahl Construction Co. This is a small job and Mr. Bjorndahl is at work on it now, as the original contract would not afford to "move in."

More Paving Next Year

Applications for considerable more paving on the south side are in the hands of the Board of Local Improvements. The rapid development of that part of the village has created a demand for "all improvements," and the village board is providing them as speedily as possible.

Zoning Ordinance Ready Soon

Arlington Heights zoning ordinance is "in type." It has been revised and will no doubt be ready for submission to the village dads very soon. There has been a lot of work necessary in the preparation of this ordinance, but its needs are becoming more and more apparent as each day passes.

F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Anna Beigel was surprised Sunday when Geo. Thies and Louise Hahne from Schaumburg, Ella Sievers from Wooddale, Aug. and Adolph Sievers from Melrose Park, Mabel Seegers and Christina Meskin and Hulda Kehrke from Chicago came and helped her celebrate her birthday (sweet sixteen). A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodges are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy. Mother and baby are doing fine and the proud Daddy is elated. We extend congratulations.

Mt. Prospect has a new legal voter in the person of Walter Mulso son of our chief, Walter is now a full fleged man having celebrated his 21st birthday with a party at his fathers home Saturday night.

Nurse Helen Jackson, reports that the letter sent out by our Health department to mothers regarding the Infant Welfare station was well received by the mothers. At the last session of the Infant Welfare 16 babies were brought in by their mothers. True it is we want the station and so do the mothers and we will keep it as long as the mothers want it.

Mr. Arnold Schram is fully recovered from his severe illness and Mr. W. Israel is also reported on the road to health.

From all indications Milburn Bros., will get started paving in Prospect Park subdivision before bad weather starts and it is possible that this job will be completed before the end of the year as they will start paving on Saturday if the weather permits.

Mr. Louis Hasz had his car stolen while in Chicago last week, it has been recovered by the McHenry Chief of Police, however it had been stripped of all accessories and tires.

Some rascals entered the Lutheran school bent on doing damage they succeeded in ruining some of the pupils books. It seems a pity that these fellows were not caught in the act as surely they did not realize the seriousness of their crime for such it was and to consider the lowness of it. When you try and hinder the education of our young American pupils you are putting something in the way of the nation as a whole for they will be the citizens and rulers of tomorrow.

Mrs. Chas. Grueneberg is back home although still in serious condition, however everybody concerned is hoping for the best and are looking forward to the time when she will be up and around again. Dr. Koester is the attending physician, we are pleased to see Mrs. Gruneberg home again.

Our streets are being badly torn up but the drainage work is progressing with quite a bit of speed and that is what we want both the Kruse and Reese people are working full blast.

Now Milburn Bros.. come into town and have already unloaded their new Rex Mixer, this gives us three big improvements progressing at one time some record for our village which will be hard for many villages to keep up with.

The week of Nov. 1 to 8th Fred Meeske will have a Pure Food Demonstration which will be worth while attending, he will also have an extra special sale in connection with this.

The county highway department has issued new maps on the 15 million dollar bond issue and these maps indicate the Northwest Highway to be widened to 40 feet which we hope will help relieve traffic congestion.

Watch the advertisement of our local merchants that appear in this paper and you will be able to tell instantly where to go for the best values for your dollars and cents. Reliable and progressive merchants advertise in a reliable and progressive paper—the Herald—It pays to tell the people what you have to sell.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

Have you built any "Tin Gods?"

Do you crave money, success, fame?

Have you allowed "Tin Gods" to trample over you?

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25, 26.

Karl Struss, First National cameraman, has perfected a new double exposure effect that bids fair to revolutionize present methods. The new trick is seen in "Forever After," due at the Arlington theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29.

During the making of "Watch Your Wife," Virginia Valli who is co-starred with Pat O'Malley in this Universal - Jewel showing at the Arlington theatre Saturday, October 30 had an unusual honor conferred upon her. From far off Cairo, Egypt, came a letter telling her that her admirers there had formed "The Virginia Valli Club" with Ahmed Rifat Rachid, one of the prominent men of Cairo as its president.

We all rejoice with them and their family in the many blessings received during the past twenty five years and wish for them many more years of happiness in their family circle.

NEW CATHOLIC SCHOOL HOUSE IS DEDICATED

The new school house erected by St. James Catholic congregation of Arlington Heights was dedicated with impressive ceremonies last Sunday. Rev. Mons. Peter Bierman of Evanston officiated, assisted by Rev. Frank Mattes of Buffalo Grove.

The dedication proper, was held in the afternoon, yet the entire day was given over to celebration of the event. There were many visitors from neighboring parishes. Thirty men from former parishes served by Rev. Peter Gall also some classmates and school chums were present to give honor to the occasion in memory or old times.

At the morning Rev. Gall gave a special sermon on "Rendering an Account of Thy Stewardship," recalling the duty of parents in making provisions, not merely for the bodily needs of their children, but also for their spiritual needs. "The good work has begun, now remain faithful until the end and the sacrifices that a school naturally imposes upon a parish, will bring its own reward."

Dedicatory Ceremonies

The dedicatory services started from the parish home, the children singing as they marched to the church. The invocation and opening prayer were given by the celebrant. The procession then reformed and marked to the entrance of the new school building, through a lane formed by the men of the parish who acted as escorts. The children sang as they marched. At the entrance, the choir sang and the outside ceremonies were held, including the blessing of the exterior of the building.

The ceremonies held in the assembly hall on the second floor of the building included singing and the hanging of the cross, the emblem of a Christian school.

The procession returned to the church with the children singing, a special hymn was given by the choir and children in honor of the patron saint, the Apostle James. The ceremonies closed with the benediction given by the visiting dignitary. All joined as the bells rang, in singing "Holy God, Thy Name."

Following the dedicatory exercises, the school building was thrown open to all visitors. The assembly hall was opened for the first coming together of all members of the parish for a social time and luncheon in their own home and upon their own grounds. The net receipts of the evening were early $250.00.

Building is Complete

St. James school building is probably as complete as any other such structure in the Chicago area. There is no building that could be better constructed. It is solid thru out, staunch and true in every respect. Expense was not spared in providing the best possible materials and workmanship. Local contractors, materials and laborers were used through its construction.

The hall are all commodious, entrances and exits are provided at each end of the building, doing away with the otherwise necessary unsightly fire escapes. The building is fire proof throughout and large fire extinguishers are provided on each floor.

A special improved safety lock is provided for the doors, making entrance and exist equally as easy for the children. The school rooms are standard in every particular and even better than are found in many new schools. The blackboards are all built in. Double acting curtains are at the windows. The school seats are all the product of the Arlington Seating Co. A special music room has its place and a special sister, well qualified in teaching music, will have charge of such work. The sanitary conveniences are of the highest class.

Four school rooms are outfitted and are in use at the present time. A school assembly hall is provided upon the east end of the building of the second floor. This hall as the pupils increase in number, can be divided into two school rooms. The blackboards are already in place.

The building is heated from an adjoining building, which is equally as well constructed. This is in compliance with the most improved fire protection rules and is an added safeguard for the protection of the pupils of the school. The basement, 54x72 ft. is unobstructed and will later be finished off into a hall for the community purposes.

The sisters have commodious quarters upon the first floor, including a dormitory, parlor and kitchen. They are very much pleased with their work here. Four of the sisters are engaged in school work. Another has charge of the music and the sixth is the housekeeper. Joseph Moran is the janitor of the building.

Business Men to Have "Big Eats"

Thursday, November 18, is the date set for the annual banquet of the Arlington Heights business men's association. The Lutheran school hall is the place. The committee in their announcement mailed to the members this week promise good eats. Plenty of music, entertainment and a program. Every member has the privilege of bringing a lady with him, preferably his own wife, says the committee.

Methodist Church Makes Plans for The Coming Year

The pastor's cabinet met at the home of Rev. Billman last week and planned the work of the year. Naturally, the most important item in the program was the building project. The parsonage is being moved into place back of the church this week. The parsonage lot, north of Zimmer's store, is for sale, and plans are made for the building of a community house or more properly, the present building will be converted into a community house, and a new church auditorium will be built to the north of the community house.

The object of the community house is to provide a place and equipment for community games, and entertainments. It is a step toward providing wholesome amusement for the young people of Arlington Heights.

The spirit of the meeting is typical of the spirit that has been developing in this congregation for some time. It isn't the spirit of providing selfishly only for the members of the church, but the purpose of the building program is to provide for as many others as possible.

It is the hope that a program of some sort of entertainment and recreation and education can be provided for several nights of each week, when the new equipment is available. There will then be more room for Sunday school classes and for suppers and banquets.

Other plans for the year include giving the services of the pastor to the work of the Boy Scouts. This is a most important work and is also for others than church members. The pastor's wife is to perform similar service for the girls of the town by working with the Campfire girls. She has one group and Miss Laura McElhose has another. These groups contain girls from all denominations.

The Tri-Sigma work will include educational features this year. Now that the school board has taken over the night school for foreigners, the Tri-Sigma will start other classes for other folks. The one already announced is a class in Journalism which will be taught by Mr. Beaty. Others may be announced later.

The Tri-Sigma work will also feature educational trips for children. It is hoped that these may be started before long. The trips will be open to all children above a certain age, and will be made to Chicago to visit certain places of interest to children and of real educational value.

The organization of a men's club was conducted two years ago with great success.

A go-to-church month was also planned. The work of the choir was discussed and improvements planned.

This is the first time for many years that the Arlington Heights Methodist church has had a full time minister, and great things are expected this year. There are many willing workers and there is no trouble in finding plenty of work to be done.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLD DISTRICT CONVENTION

The fourth annual Sunday school teachers' convention of the Arlington Heights Pastoral Circle of the Evangelical Church, comprising 22 schools was held October 17 at St. Paul's Evangelical church, Palatine, Ill., John C. Voeks, pastor. 140 teachers were present and 100 visitors from the different schools.

After the opening devotions and exercises the convention divided into groups for discussion of various phases of work. Two of the teachers of St. Paul's Sunday school made a special contribution in these simultaneous meetings. Mrs. E. Foster leading the boys junior department and Rev. Voeks as chairman of the adult group. A plenary session followed in which each group reported.

All delegates felt that a very profitable and inspiring afternoon, was spent. Eats were served by committees of the St. Paul's Ladies' Aid society, Mrs. Roy Born acting as chairman. The ladies said we owe that to our Sunday school teachers and certainly served a fine lunch. Eats were donated by mother's of St. Paul's Sunday school members.

At 6:45 the convention service was held, conducted by Pastor Louis Kleeman of Barrington, Ill. Musical numbers were rendered by Theo. Voeks at the organ, Mrs. E. Foster, vocal solo, and St. Paul's choir, an anthem. The address was given by Prof. H. Katterjohn professor of religious training at Elmhurst college. He spoke very impressively on "The Teacher's Task." "There are three kinds of teachers; good, bad, indifferent, what kind would you like to be?" New officers for the ensuing year installed were Mr. Kirchoff, Bensenville, president; Mrs. E. Foster Palatine, secretary; Everybody went home with the assurance of having had a blessed day and a very nice time.

WARNING

Any outside person soliciting in the name of any Catholic cause, institution , or purpose and using the name of the pastor of St. James church is not to be trusted. In case anyone approaches you on such a plea, call 332-R, before allowing yourself to be imposed upon.—Signed, Rev. Peter F. Gall.

WIDENING OF STREETS EARLY NEXT SPRING

Engineer's estimates have been prepared covering the widening to forty feet of streets of Arlington Heights "new business section." The legal proceedings will not begin until after January as there is no time for the construction work before winter sets in. The improvement includes Dunton Ave., from the railroad to the corner of the Presbyterian church; Evergreen and State road from the railroad to Miner St. Miner street, from Dunton to State road. This includes the new business district that has developed within the past two years. One block on the south side is also included, viz: Vail St. from Davis St. to Campbell. The improvement is greatly needed. The present 18 and 24 ft. streets are entirely inadequate.

Bjorndahl Takes Over Pine Ave.

The job of paving of Pine Ave. that was recently awarded to an outside contractor, has been taken over by the Bjorndahl Construction Co. This is a small job and Mr. Bjorndahl is at work on it now, as the original contract would not afford to "move in."

More Paving Next Year

Applications for considerable more paving on the south side are in the hands of the Board of Local Improvements. The rapid development of that part of the village has created a demand for "all improvements," and the village board is providing them as speedily as possible.

Zoning Ordinance Ready Soon

Arlington Heights zoning ordinance is "in type." It has been revised and will no doubt be ready for submission to the village dads very soon. There has been a lot of work necessary in the preparation of this ordinance, but its needs are becoming more and more apparent as each day passes.

Board in Regular Session

Regular meeting of the board of trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights was called to order by President Mors Monday evening, October 18, with all trustees present.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Finance committee reported favorably on bills and payroll to the amount of $1027.22 which on motion were ordered paid, partly by time and partly by regular warrants.

Street committee reported they were patching pavement and clenaing streets also that the ditch had been cleaned near the south side school.

Police committee reported fines of past two weeks.

Treasurer's report showing a deficit of $6,323.13 was read and referred to finance committee.

A canvas of ballots of special election held on the 14th showed a total of 15 votes cast, 14 in favor of and 1 against the proposition of annexation, the plat of E. J. Lennartz "Thomas Highland Ave. subdivision," was presented and referred to engineer for checking.

On motion meeting ajourned.

A. L. McELHOSE,
Clerk.

Conservatory of Music Confers Honor on Reed

Mr. Roscoe Reed, a graduate of the American Conservatory of Music receives special recognition of his work from Mr. John J. Hallstaedt, president the school who writes to announce that any one who receives instruction from Mr. Reed will be given credit for their work at the conservatory.

The American Conservatory was founded in 1886 by its president John J. Sattstaedt under the patronage of citizens of Chicago prominent for their generous and untiring interest in the betterment of musical art, the brilliant record of the Conservatory makes comment unnecessary. But it is to be noted that each year has demanded enlargement of the faculty, and of the United States is represented in its student body in increasing numbers, and its registration is exceeded by few music schools in the world.

The American Conservatory is in a position to offer facilities and advantages unsurpassed by any music school in the country.

The music pupils of Mr. Reed's classes are indeed fortunate, thru this honor conferred on him, as graduate of The Conservatory, to be able to secure credit for their work under him, to secure credits in this well known music school.

Former Republican Governor to Speak at Democratic Meeting

A. O. Eberhart, former republican governor of Minnesota, will be the principal speaker at a democratic mass meeting to be held at Palatine Wednesday evening, Oct. 27. Mr. Eberhart has a national reputation as a speaker and the committee feel that they were very fortunate to secure such a speaker for this meeting. Other speakers will be Democratic candidates for the county officer. There will be an orchestra and perhaps two of them. The meeting starts at eight o'clock. The ladies are especially invited. This meeting is held at Palatine as the most centrally located place for western Cook county.

Why He Never Gets Anywhere

ENTERS NEW POSTOFFICE NEXT WEEK

Arlington Heights will have a new postoffice next week. Postmaster W. F. Meyer, Jr., expects to move into the new quarters within the next few days. The fixtures, all steel, are now in place in the Krause building and represent the very latest in postal equipment. Labor saving devices and accessories will conserve the time of the postal employees and give better service to the patrons. Adequate room is provided for the future growth of the department. The public lobby is not alone commodious, but it is attractive. Large windows and an arrangement of lighting fixtures provides the maximum of light for both the employes and the public.

People who have inspected the new office, declare that it is far ahead of any other upon this division of the Northwestern.

Uncle Sam Recognizes Office

The installation of such an office is a realization of a dream that has been held many years by Postmaster Meyer. He brought to the attention of the postal authorities the needs of Arlington Heights upon every occasion. Mr. Meyer does not know whether it was his insistency or just "luck" that when the postal people began to recognize the justness of the claims of Arlington Heights that the postal officials came "all the way." Uncle Sam is providing the latest postal automatic computing scale for the parcel post service. An electric cancelling machine has also been promised. The modern equipment would also not have been possible were it not for the public spirit displayed by W. F. Krause, who spent several thousand dollars to purchase the fixtures that would be a credit to the City of Good Neighbors.

The fixtures are all steel, finished in mahogany upon the lobby side. The private office of the postmaster is in the same finish. The work room is divided into three sections viz: sorting section, the mail carriers department. The former the financial quarters is devoted to the sale of stamps, supplies and the receipt of parcel post packages. Here each one of the clerks will have individual stamp and cash drawers. The clerks will not have to stand while waiting on a patron, special stools being provided for their convenience.

The mail sorting section consists of two sorting tables and cabinets. A special large section is for use of the parcel post service. Commodious storage cabinets and cupboards provides a special place for almost anything that is used in the postal service. The filing cabinets are especially complete.

No longer will the postmaster be required to "dig" letters out of the drop boxes. The letters and papers are dropped by the patron into chutes that carry them to large trays. As one tray is removed, there is another beneath it, to take its place.

The mailing table and sack rack will speed up the dispatch of mails fully fifty per cent. The carriers, both city an rural will have plenty of room in which to work and will be free from disturbance or inconvenience of others.

For the present the incoming mail will necessarily enter the post office from the front door. Changes will be made in the alley which will permit the mail truck to reach the rear entrance.

CHICKEN SUPPER AND BUNCO PARTY

Evangelical church will give a chicken supper and a bunco party at Long Grove, Union Hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, beginning at 6:30 until all are served. 50 cents a plate, chicken mashed potatoes, pie, cake and other good things to eat.

Educational Committee Outlines Year's Work

The educational committee of the League of Cook County Women's club at its committee luncheon last Friday decided upon a plan of work with a well defined objective for the coming year.

The plan when carried out will be far reaching in its privilege of giving children in the country districts the benefits of well balanced school training.

The luncheon was held at the Woman's City club with Mrs. Meta H. Matson, chairman of that committee, presiding.

The League of Cook County Women's club is made up of representatives of more than ninety clubs throughout the county, and the work of this particular committee will be based upon a complete survey of the country schools made last year with the help of the Cook county social service department.

The plan is one of unusual constructive co-operative in that the chairman, Mrs. Matson has called into service representatives from the various townships, who, understanding conditions of their individual communities will be able, while availing themselves of the excellent opportunities offered for individual advancement, to render immeasurable assistance to the committee's plans.

The untiring work of the Cook county public health nurses under the supervision of Miss Harriet Fulmer in raising the physical standard of the county schools, has brought about the unity between outlying country neighborhoods with those of the more thickly populated residential sections, and it is largely due to the recognition given the work of that department that the educational committees is mapping out its future work.

A very interesting afternoon was spent in discussing plans for acquainting residents of the county with the wide scope of the work undertaken and it was with a feeling of definite action taken that the committee adjourned to meet Saturday, October 23, following the first regular meeting of the League at the Chicago Women's club.

Those in attendance at the meeting Friday in addition to the chairman, Mrs. Matson, were Miss Harriet Fulmer, supervisor of the Cook county nursing service. Miss Mary Murphy of the Rockefeller-McCormick Foundation; Mrs. H. S. Vaile, chairman of the social service, Mrs. Wetzell, secretary of the committee, Mrs. Peter Krohn, representing Bloom township and Mrs. B. M. Van Steenberg representative of Northfield.

It is the hope of the committee to awaken a widespread interest in the country districts that will lead to constant betterment of educational conditions and with the backing of the Cook county League of Women's clubs, that betterment is assured.

The novel plan adopted by the league of bringing into co-operation, women unaffiliated with clubs has already awakened the interest of other clubs and they await with eager expectation the results of the plan.

With the aid of the nursing service Mrs. Matson has asked the following women to act with her committee: Mrs. Carl Starck, River Grove; Mrs. A. M. Krahl, Palatine; Mrs. J. Montgomery, Oak Lawn; Mrs. W. L. Brown, Flossmoor; Mrs. F. A. Powell, Palos Park; Mrs. C. F. Pankonin, Mt. Prospect; Mrs. C. E. Mueller, Morton Grove; Mrs Mary Mitchell Lalor, Franklin Park; Mrs. Bertha Van Steenberg, Glenview; Mrs. P. Krohn, Chicago Heights; Mrs. C. Balling, Wheeling; Mrs. D. Coppage, Belmont Heights; Mrs. R. G. Plagge, Barrington; Mrs. J. Kvistad, Elmwood Park; Miss Louise Kennedy, Tinley Park; Mrs. E. Kelly, Bartlett.

WM. BUSSE IS CANDIDATE FOR RE - ELECTION

AN EDITORIAL

Wm. Busse is candidate for re-election to succeed himself as a member of the county board of commissioners from the country towns of Cook county. The election will be Nov. 2.

Mr. Busse needs no introduction to the readers of this paper. His long and faithful service in the interests of the public is so generally recognized that he needs no defense for his acts of the past or pledges as to his future conduct. In normal times his election would be assured, but with the upheaval that has wrecked Cook county politics, it is important that all friends of Wm. Busse, all friends of good roads, all friends of good government, should give every support possible to Mr. Busse.

There are many side issues to be voted on Nov. 2. There are many candidates on the republican and democratic tickets that are practically unknown to the rank and file of their respective parties. Wm. Busse is one that we all know and we should not make any mistake about casting our vote for county commissioners.

Many Take Schick Test Guard Against Disease

The physicians at Arlington Heights report that they are having many calls for the administering of the Schick test as a safeguard against diphtheria. Reports of diphtheria cases in Arlington Heights are greatly exaggerated, the present number of cases being few, but the experiences of a year ago are still fresh in the minds of local people and they are taking steps to prevent a similar epidemic. There has been a tightening up of the quarantines and every effort is being made to prevent any further spread of the disease.

Need of Schick Test

The general public is urged to co-operate in the safeguarding of the health of Arlington Heights people. The Schick test is recognized and administered (at a very small cost) to find out whether a person is susceptible to diphtheria. If the test proves that the person will not take diphtheria, nothing further is done and that party is safe from the disease. If the test shows that the party is susceptible, a course of three treatments are given which makes him immune from diphtheria the rest of his life. The charges that the doctors are making for this work is reasonable and every child and grown up should be tested.

Diphtheria can be prevented. The doctors are placing the matter of protecting the lives of the children squarely up to the parents.

Mrs. Garland is Guest of Honor

Mrs. Harry Garland entertained a group of eight friends Thursday afternoon last week in honor of Mrs. Garland Sr. She very humorously imparted to the guests the reason why it was not as much of a surprise to her as her family imagined. Her daughters accelerated movements, the frequent clicking of her heels on the stairs and in other rooms and a certain air of some impending event of importance.

Mrs. H. M. Blum and Mrs. Chas. Scherf assisted in conveying the guest from and to their homes. A choice table luncheon was served by the hostess, and there was happy converse, and much merry laughter. The luncheon was choice and generously served, but it was not the most enjoyable part of the feast, for all were glad to listen to the cheerful anecdotes and experiences related by the guest of honor, who, though shut in and unable to walk still is a cheerful worker, and carries on in a most helpful way her full share of the household and family duties. All enjoyed the hour spent with her and the royal hospitality of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Garland, and voted it a delightful party.

Diphtheria Causes Death of Son of Methodist Pastor

Richard Krahl, four year old son of Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Krahl, of Antioch, late of Palatine, died last Saturday afternoon at the Waukegan hospital from diphtheria. Burial was at Palatine Monday afternoon. Rev. Morgan Williams of Evanston officiated at the services. A number of other pastors were present.

Richard had accompanied his mother and little brother to Connecticut to visit relatives. On Monday he was taken with a slight cold which gradually grew worse. Friday noon when his mother reached Antioch, where Rev. Krahl had just been assigned. Richard's condition was unimproved and a physician was immediately called. Diphtheria symptoms did not develop until Saturday when the lad was taken to the hospital at Waukegan, where a fight was made to save his life. The heart proved unequal to the task and the boy passed away a few moments after an operation had been performed.

Bright Lights Cause Death of Roselle Boy

Local Youth Injured

Elmer Biesterfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Biesterfeld, who was injured in an auto wreck early Monday morning, has been brought home from the hospital in Elgin.

Young Biesterfeld, a painter was driving on Lake street about two miles west of Bloomingdale near the Sam Meyer farm, when he was blinded by the glare from a spotlight of an approaching car. His car left the pavement and before he could regain control of it, it had smashed into a culvert. Biesterfeld was knocked unconscious and it was some time before he recovered sufficiently to signal a passing car, which stopped and took him to an Elgin hospital. It was learned that he suffered a broken leg and probably internal injuries.

KRAUSE BLOCK WELCOMED BY MANY TENANTS

The Krause blocks are filled. That statement means more than it seems upon the surface. With the postoffice entering their new quarters next week, there are no "open spaces" in the three buildings that comprise the Krause blocks. The demand for the flats exceeded the supply. The offices are rented and there are no vacant stores. The wisdom of Mr. Krause in erecting the buildings has already been proven.

The total number of flats are fourteen; offices three, stores 8. The newest building, three stories high in which the postoffice will be located, has just been completed. It is the most complete flat and store building that has been erected so far in Arlington Heights. The readers of the Herald are no doubt acquainted with the store rooms, but the flats have to be seen to be appreciated. They represent compactness itself, comprising four rooms each, with every convenience, including refuse chute for all wastes and garbage, individual ice boxes filled from the hallway, windows for every room, etc. The kitchens are especially unique, containing as they do an all-steel unit that comprises the gas range, sink, ice box and kitchen cabinet. They extend the full length of the kitchenette. There is no waste room in the flats, but each one has two closets and has a store room in the basement. These flats give the newly-weds an opportunity to start housekeeping with a minimum of furniture.

The occupants of the eight flats in this building are: Paul Arneman, Dr. Dunn, Albert Juhnke, Orville Baldwin, Henry Gaare, Wm. Niemeyer, Mr. Shenk and Mr. Weber. The stores are occupied by the postoffice and the National Tea Co.

The block Mr. Krause constructed last year is two stories in height and has three stores occupied by the Reese Hardware, Arlington Sweet Shop and Koehler, tailor. On the second floor are three flats and three offices. The tenants of the offices are Dr. Dunn, Dr. Geisel and Dr. Collison. In the older building on the corner are the Foley Barber Shop, the Atlantic & Pacific store and the Arlington Paint store. The three flats upon the second floor are occupied by Messrs Breese, Carl Behrens and Dr. Eitzenmueller.

These buildings entailed an investment in the neighborhood of $100,000. They are not the only buildings of their kind in Arlington Heights, yet they are representative of the "big business" that is being transacted in this growing city. They likewise add much to the general appearance of the business section, which goes a long ways to advertise a live town.

Local Couple Celebrate Their 25th Anniversary

It was a happy occasion when the sisters and brothers with other relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Scharringhausen met at their home on Saturday evening, October 9th to remind them that already twenty five years had passed since some of them had met at the same place to wish them joy on the day of their wedding.

When all guests were assembled Myrtle, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scharringhausen played the familiar strains from Lohengrin and the "young bride" was once more given by her father, Mr. Louis Schnell to the "happy groom." Mrs. Sengstock of Des-Plaines, a niece, sang "I Love You Truly" after which Rev. Ellerbrake gave a short address including a renewal of the marriage blessing. A delightful dinner was served at a late hour to about 65 guests. The guests then departed leaving as a reminder of the pleasant evening and significance of the day many beautiful and useful gifts in silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. Scharringhausen have lived their entire married life at their present home in Elk Grove and have made many friends during this time. The faithful performance of his duties as Town Clerk for Elk Grove township for a number of years has also won for Mr. Scharringhausen a wide acquaintance and many valued friendships. We all rejoice with them and their family in the many blessings received during the past twenty five years and wish for them many more years of happiness in their family circle.

TWO PAPERS EACH WEEK TO SUBSCRIBERS

Subscribers to this paper will receive two issues a week hereafter. The first issue in the week is the Cook County Herald, which becomes a rural school and farm newspaper. The Friday edition will carry the community news. Both issues will consist for the present of eight pages. We expect to enlarge both editions as advertising patronage increases. The purpose of the change is to give a better service to each of the communities that are covered by our newspapers. The Tuesday edition (Cook County Herald) will contain many new features. It will be a newspaper that will be equally interesting to all of our subscribers. Its circulation is 5,000. Three hundred new subscribers have been added during the past ten days.

Fifty new subscribers have been obtained in River Grove alone.

The change will give the editors the opportunity to feature in the Friday edition the various communities that are served.

Arlington Heights will have a new newspaper, "The Arlington Heights Herald" which makes its first appearance this week. Towns hitherto receiving the Cook County Herald will receive the Arlington Heights Herald on Friday.

The publishers hope that the readers will soon become accustomed to the change and will recognize the benefit to be derived. The publishers will be glad to receive suggestions at any time.

TRAIN HITS MR. CHAS. SIGWALT OLD VETERAN

Mr. Chas. Sigwalt, 87 years old, a veteran of the Civil war and official of the Village of Arlington Heights many years, was struck by a C. & N. W. train at the Arlington Heights depot Saturday afternoon. Fortunately, the only injuries received were bruises to the back of his head and shock to the nervous system. With the same courageous spirit that he has displayed all of his life, the old gentleman is fighting his way back to health and there is a marked improvement as each day passes. Mr. Sigwalt was on his way to Chicago to meet his son John. None seem to know exactly how it happened. Mr. Sigwalt is a little hard of hearing and was unaware of the approach of the train. He had apparently crossed the tracks and was too near the engine when it approached. The pilot hit him and threw him down with sufficient force to stun him. He says that he remembers nothing from the time that he was at the depot until he found himself in his own bed at home. Mr. Sigwalt was carried into the depot and the family called. A nurse was secured and he is receiving the best of care. He did not regain his fullest faculties until Wednesday and is now bright and cheerful, his usual self.

Charley Sigwalt occupies a place of his own in the hearts and minds of Arlington Heights people. He is one of the very few Civil War veterans remaining in Arlington Heights. The position he occupies in village affairs of his home village was recently the subject of two historical articles that appeared in this paper.

The biggest value in vacuum cleaners ever known——

formerly $62.50

The thorough cellar-to-attic

Standard ROYAL

now $48.50

Complete with attachments

FOR years the high cost of manufacturing the superior Standard Royal Cleaner made it impossible to sell it at one penny less than $62.50. Now, at last, the price is reduced to $48.50, including attachments.

You ask how is this possible? Production on a larger scale, due to the greater demand, is the answer.

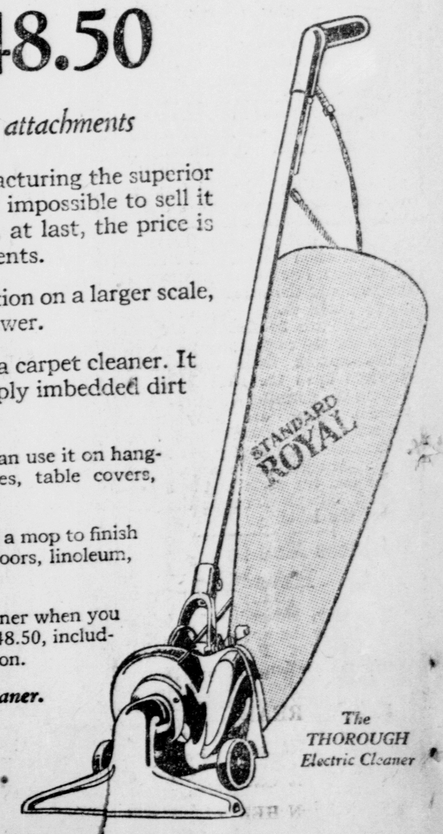

The Standard Royal is unexcelled as a carpet cleaner. It takes up threads and lint and also deeply imbedded dirt which a brush cannot get.

But it does more than clean carpets. You can use it on hangings, upholstered furniture, picture frames, table covers, books, etc. Even the inside of motor cars!

It dusts floors completely. No need of using a mop to finish hard-to-reach corners. It also cleans bare floors, linoleum, and concrete. It does everything well!

Why buy a cheap one-purpose vacuum cleaner when you can get one with all these advantages for $48.50, including attachments? Ask us for a demonstration.

Not merely a RUG cleaner but a HOUSE cleaner.

Editorial

For the last few years the people of Arlington Heights have had a great desire to know more about the affairs of their high school. This year we are endeavoring to fulfill that desire. The pupils of the high school have decided to write a column of notes each week and have it published in this paper. They have elected their editorial staff which will carry the greater portion of the work. In this way each week townspeople will know of the activities of the school.

We have an athletic reporter who will discuss the football games and, later, the basketball games. Each class has elected a reporter who will tell the news of that certain class. Then, the joke editor will furnish the necessary and much-loved school-room humor.

We sincerely hope that the public will enjoy our column which, we are sure, will contain items of interest for all.

Northerners Rip Arlington Line in Football Contest

Not So Good

A northern wave swept over Arlington, Saturday, October 16, in the form of a football team and crushed the home team by a score of 38 to 0. Antioch had possession of the ball most of the time and ran the ends, slashed off tackle and passed almost at will. Antioch was held to two touchdowns during the first half and Arlington in the second quarter out played Antioch but let up in the second half. Antioch is rated as the best team in the Northwest Conference.

Arlington was powerless to smash the Antioch line, being outweighed about 20 pounds to the man. The big Antioch forward smeared all efforts at an Arlington offensive and slammed open huge holes at guard and tackle for their gains. The Arlington backs, however, did run the ends with a slight degree of success. Jahrling, the Arlington quarterback bore most of the burden of the running and passing and was the big gun of the Arlington attacts. Pate, at fullback, played a creditable game, his punting is improving with every game.

The game was featured by good and bad football; Antioch's weight and superior experience showed in almost every department of the game. Arlington suceeded in completing four passes while Antioch completed one .

Arlington in Pate, Jahrling, Urik and Warl have a fast aggressive backfield but without a hard charging, experienced line their speed is wasted effort. Coach Cressey is doing his utmost in grooming the linemen and getting them to work as a machine. By Saturday a much better team, both in ability and mental attitude, will take the field.

Libertyville Next

On Saturday, October 23rd, Libertyville invades Arlington Heights Coach Cressey is pointing the squad for this game and Saturday will find the fellows in a fighting mood. Libertyville is rated as being powerful, so a great battle is expected. Everybody out next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 if you want to see a rip-roaring game of football.

Come! Come! Come!

Everybody come out to our carnival, the first event of this kind ever put on by the students of A. H. T. H. S. This carnival is to be held October 30th, 1926, in the high school

The main feature will be a vaudeville, consisting of an act presented by each class. It wouldn't be fair to cheat you out of all the pleasure of these stunts by telling you about them beforehand. Just be sure not to miss the good time awaiting you. Besides the main vaudeville there are to be concessions—just heaps of them—cake walk, chamber of horrors, freak shows, fish pond, dancing and many others.

The popularity contest is to be another interesting feature. The Senior Class is presenting a five pound box of delicious chocolates to the most popular student in the high school. I suppose everyone is wondering how it is to be managed. Well, it's to be like this: beginning Tuesday, Oct. 19, everybody has the privilege of helping determine the most popular pupil. The votes are to be one cent each, but no name is to be posted the first two days until fifty votes have been cast for it. After these two days it will require one hundred votes to nominate any individual. Every vote over this amount is to be recorded. A board will be posted in the down town section where every one will be able to see it. The contest is to close at eleven o'clock the night of the event, when the box of candy will be presented to the most popular student.

There are many other interesting features that you surely would not want to miss. The side shows will furnish you with laughs never to be forgotten. We are trusting that you will come out and support the high school and at the same time spend an enjoyable evening. Don't forget the date, Saturday, Oct. 30.

Watch for further details in our news of next week. Remember the date, Oct. 30.

JOKES

Cressey: (to football captain) Hartman, do you play half back?
Hartman: (dully) No, I play way back.

Fitzwater: (in exams) How can you discover a fool?

High School Teachers Refer Scholars to the Community Library

Two of the high school teachers who have classes in literature and history recently made a survey of the books in the community library and have urged their scholars to use the books it contains.

All the world's best literature is to be found in the library. There are several sets of books that include the best of writings, and then of course, there are many books of travel, mostly recent, and many good novels.

The book committee has been unusually careful in selecting books so that no questionable titles would be included.

The library now has many magazines as well as books and people are using the library for a reading room more than formerly. More adults are taking books than a few weeks ago. In fact, the number of adults taking books is now greater than the number of children. At first, the library was used quite largely by children.

The appeal for more funds made in these columns a few weeks ago is bearing fruit. Several new contributions have been received. This money will be used for more books. Still more is needed.

If those who formerly made pledges would pay these promptly, that would help greatly. The treasury is not empty by any means, but the board feels that it must keep a reserve in the treasury, and not spend the pledges until they have actually been paid.

Gifts of books or magazines will be greatly appreciated, also. If anyone has books to give, they should notify any member of the library committee as follows: N. M. Banta, president; John Y. Beaty secretary; Arthur McElhose, treasurer, F. J. Sachs, Mrs. W. W. Guild Miss Lillian Russel.

More chairs and two or three more tables for reading could well be used. This library above the People State Bank is for every person in the vacinity of Arlington Heights. If you do not make use of it, it is your own fault. There are books available on most every subject.

While the library is supported this year by private subscriptions, next year the village library tax will support it. But even this will not be a large sum and everyone should count it an opportunity to contribute to this good work.

Miss Ellen Lackner Becomes Bride of Mr. John Albrecht

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lackner was the scene of an ideal prettily conducted wedding reception when their daughter, Miss Ellen Wilhemine was married to Mr. John Albrecht Saturday, October 16, at six o'clock in the evening in St. Peter's church, the pastor, Rev. C. Noack, solemnizing the sacred rites.

The bridesmaid was Miss Vera Geffert, the best man was Mr. Willie Lackner, brother of the bride; Miss Zelda Tesch, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Irving Meyer, were also attendants.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white satin and georgette crepe, wore a long white veil, capote design with shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas and was a winsome lovely bride. Miss Vera Geffert wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette, and Miss Zelda Tesch a handsome gown of yellow georgette, their bouquets were chrysanthemums, orchid and yellow, harmonizing with their costumes.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The house was artistically decorated with flowers of pink and white, and garlands of oak leaves and ferns. A sumptuous supper was served to thirty guests, from a prettily decorated table. The place of honor given to a wonderful bride's cake made by the bride's loving mother.

Early in the evening a charivari party in reality serenaders, composed of the St. Peter's choir and other musical fun loving friends joined the happy company. The evening was merrily spent in games and music. A trio composed of Willie Lackner, Walter Tesch, Curt Noack, sang many pleasing numbers. Teacher Kolp, gave a greeting and word of welcome to the bride groom, a member of the choir and comparative stranger here who came from over seas, about three years ago, leaving his parents, sisters and brothers, to find a new home and a bride in this community, where he has made hosts of friends and is held in high esteem by all who have come to know him.

The pastor, Rev. Noack and teachers made up a part of this family group, and did their share in contributing to the joy of the occasion.

There were many beautiful and useful gifts, notably one sent by the bridegroom's family, a wonderful piece of hand wrought embroidery, a table cover worked by the loving mother and sisters of Mr. Albrecht over in Germany. Fine linen done in colors, a most beautiful gift.

At midnight the bride's cake was cut and served with other refreshments. It was just a happy home reception and congratulations were hearty and sincere.

The bride is one of our favorite home girls, and has hosts of friends in Arlington Heights. Since her school days she has had employment in the city.

The bride groom, Mr. John Albrecht is well educated and skilled electrician, and readily found work and recognition here since coming to this country.

The newly-wed Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will make their home for the present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lackner, where they have the sincere good wishes of many friends for their bright future.

TRI-SIGMA

Study — SERVICE — Sociability

Visit Norwood Park

The Epworth League of the Methodist church of Norwood Park invited the Tri-Sigmas to join in their service last Sunday evening. This is Mr. Waltmire's church. The Epworth Leagues of Park Ridge and DesPlaines were also invited.

The Norwood Park League served refreshments and a helpful devotional meeting was held. Those attending from Arlington Heights were: Herman Meyer, Mary Knox, Ralph Cressey, Joe Cordulac, Mrs. F. R. Doland, Annabel Cordulac, Viola Janney, Opal Powers, Mrs. Prelberg, Mrs. John Y. Beaty and John Y. Beaty.

These trips to other societies are both pleasant and inspiring. Several others are scheduled for the coming season.

Several Tri-Sigmas will attend the District Rally of the Epworth League in Grace church, Chicago, Friday night of this week.

Tri-Sigmas Present Church, Sign

A new movable-letter sign was presented to the Methodist church last Sunday by the Tri-Sigmas. This has been wanted by Pastor Billman for some time. The chief use will be for sentence sermons. Every two or three days, a new sermonette will be put on the board. Until the new church is built, this sign will be displayed in the case that is now built into the front of the church. After the new building is completed, it may be necessary to purchase a special case for it.

Special Music for Tri-Sigma Meets

In addition to the supper which is always a most important part of the Sunday evening meetings of the Tri-Sigma, special music is being arranged for every meeting. Next Sunday, Mrs. Stewart Alden, soprano, and John Y. Beaty, bass, will sing a duet.

A week from Sunday, Ralph Cressey, tenor, will sing a solo. Others will be announced from time to time.

Every young man and every young woman who wants companionship and opportunity to serve, or who feels the need of religious inspiration is most cordially invited to these meetings. New members are always made "one of the family" the first Sunday.

Recent New Members

Several new members have been received during the past few weeks Among these are: Ralph Cressey and Thomas R. Wilson, both new high schol teachers; Mrs. Garland, Opal Powers, Viola Janney, Mrs. Fred Erret, Dallas Puffer, Mr. and Mrs. Prelberg, and Grant Lafavre.

Studies in Christian Living

The lessons being studied in the Sunday morning sessions are on the general topic, "How to live a successful Christian Life." The first few lessons are being devoted to the making of a plan of living. So few people actually make plans for their lives that much time is being given to this part of the subject.

The aim of these lessons is to emphasize the important things in life and to encourage members to develop those things to the utmost. The teaching is of a positive nature rather than negative. Mr. Beaty, the teacher, believes that if a person gives proper consideration to the important things, unimportant matters will be crowded out for lack of time.

The lessons are conducted by the discussion plan. Each member is given opportunity to express an opinion, and many important matters are brought up. For example, one young man said that when he worried about the money he would like to have, he never felt as well as when he forgot what he wanted to get and put his mind on what he might give.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Right honestly I do admire
That one who never does aspire
To show off the knowlege
He got in some college
While getting his "keep" from his sire.

—o—

A college education is fine if it educates. But a college education used as an ornament to "show off," as as useless as a fine 1926 model with all its machinery complete and no gas to run it. Or a perfectly built radio with dead batteries. Education is like a reaper set in a field of ripened grain. And if it does not gather a harvest of what use is it?

—o—

School and college give you the key, and it is yours to use in unlocking the whole wide world's store house of knowledge. Your life is the term given in which to complete this vast course of education; commencement means its beginning, after college.

—o—

Someone has said, The Midwest is the heart of the nation. Chicago, the great arterial center, and should be the capitol. Well, if that is so, Arlington Heights is bound to be the greatest suburb pulsating with all that sustains the life of a great nation. Arlington Heights, alphabetically first, touching Mount Prospect on the east, and reaching out long tenacles to gather in Palatine on the west. More I think about the bigness of us, the more I think even Chicago better watch her step.

By the way, wasn't it fine to read in that account of our village officials trip of inspection, of other towns. I say wasn't it fine to note their loyal appreciatoin of the old home town, when they got back to it. Its noble trees, its healthful location and all that goes to make it such an ideal place of homes. It was gratifying to read that apprecition and feel sure all loyal citizens, who are exerting their influence and abilities to make this all a real home town should be, will agree in the sentiment of our loyal village officials.

It was a surprise to learn from Mrs. W. J. Hausam, speaking of her Arizona interests, that beside successful cotton growing in that state, they have fine crops of sweet potatoes, and many other easily grown crops, which many suppose impossible of cultivation in that generally believed desert country. Mrs. Hausam says the great difficulty is the disposal of their crops, as transportation facilities are inadequate; the soil in many localities is productive, and many varieties of fruit and vegetables can be successfully grown.

In another direction we are told of fruits in great abundance, going to waste in the orchards of Michigan and even in our own state, all for lack of suitable means of getting to market. Producer and consumer, why do not some of our enterprising young men establish truck lines to reach the places of production and bring the fruit and vegetables to the consumers. Surely there would be sufficient profit in such a transportation to warrant the undertaking. Bring us fruit and potatoes, and try it.

Was it your little boy I heard about the other day, who came home from school and told his mother he was going to quit going to school and be a teacher? Well it was a little boy, said it if not yours some other body's. "Be a teacher," the mother said; "why you don't know enough to teach."

"You don't have to know anything to teach, said the young hopeful; "All you have to do is to ask questions." Well, isn't that about the way with most of us? No matter how little we know about God and creation we use up and question the highest authority. Any one may ask questions. A wise man cannot answer.

Well, its a good thing to ask questions sometimes; and if we hadn't asked Mrs. MacNab about old Arlington Hall, we had never found it, that it hasn't always stood on its present site. She informs us, the old temperance, or Good Templars Hall was built in South Evergreen and over 35 or 37 years ago was brought to its present location. There are few if any in Arlington Heights who know the old town history better than Mrs. MacNab who has lived in the village or near it all her life.

Suppose you are suffering from a blam o your "bean" or "cocoanut"—or whatever in modern parlance, or our revised American edition, the place our brains are supposed to be; and the result of that sudden coalition with a jagged piece of paving block was a knobby protrusion on your left temple and over your eye, and a broad sable band about that same eye; It was Sunday, and the sun didn't shine, and even a "cheerful idiot" would feel a bit depressed under those conditions; Get a sort of gloomy feeling, as if he didn't belong honestly, wouldn't you?

Then all of a sudden somebody opens the door, and in breezes the dearest young woman ever, her arm full of the glory of the autumn woods, Crimson, and bronze and golden leaves of oak, maple and dogwood. With scarlet hawthorn berries, and the white red stemmed dogwood. And all the friendly world entered with her. It was the same little girl who used to ramble the woods with us, in search of just such autumn treasures. What a change in mental atmosphere her coming made. All the world belonged to me and I know I belonged."

—o—

There is some agitation going on in regard to a law, or stringent measures to restrain lawlessness and vandalism on Hallowe'en. Our village, I am proud to say, has no vandals, or lawless youths to perpetrate evil tricks. And I'm sure our boy scouts will lead into wholesome and helpful sports on that as well as all other holidays. I once knew of a group of boys who were trying to devise some new way of keeping Hallowe'en when one of their number suggested that they do something kind and helpful, as a surprise instead of playing tricks.

A certain poor cripple in their town had raised a crop of potatoes; when, at the approaching of colder weather, he was unable to dig them and so this lad proposed to go and harvest the poor man's potatoes; and he added, "Mother says if we will do this good piece of work instead of senseless tricks, she will give us all a jolly supper and party when it is finished. Well the boys surprised the poor invalid and had a lot of joy out of his gratitude, and then the supper, and the happy sensation a good deed brings, and you may be sure, plenty of fun.

When certain things take place in our town, in violation of our civilized and Christian code; One says, "why don't the churches look into the matter?" And another says "why don't The Woman's club or The Welfare Committee see to it?" And another "Why don't the Lions do something about this outrage?" And so on even to thinking some "Klan"—or kindly krinkle might take a hand. Don't you know all of this shifting of a thing that should be done is simply moral laziness?" If some thing in violation of right and Christian principles is taking place in our town we are each and every one individually responsible?

I think it was Dr. VanDyke, who said:
"For new, and new and ever new
The golden bud within the blue,
And every morning seems to say
There's something happy on the way,
And God sends love to you."

—o—

So we know this Autumn morning, something new and some bright bud out of the blue is on the way for each one of us—who trusts in God's love: There are so many doubts and so many tangles. Yet out of the good in the worst of us, and the bad in the best of us, the Great Architect of our life plan is able to see the end from the beginning and the working out of ultimate good to all, and so "God sends Love to You," this autumn day.

The plumber said he would be on your job next week didn't he? And "next week" is four times past and no plumber. And the plasterer was to be there just as soon as the house he was at work on was finished, and four have been finished since that promise was made; and the painters and decorators, O, what sons of annamias they are everyone! And you swear in all the "dead languages" and the modern dialects all to no purpose. Our town is growing brother, and our builders are overworked. Don't you understand? Patience is a noble virtue—we must all be patient and watch our town grow.

Little worry the birds have, no fall house cleaning or worry about heating plants for them. They hie away with the first hint of cold and only come back with the spring. It would be fine to "hitch your wagon" to the flight of birds, and change climate as they do.

That reminds me of a pretty bird story, Mrs. A. W. Taylor told us of her witnessing a flock of humming birds, in a rocky retreat, in some of her travels, at play. There were a number of the bright little creatures, and she said unconscious of her nearness, they were going through a play or dance on air, circling, darting, floating and falling in regular rhythmic motions as perfect as the movements of the most perfectly trained dancers. It was a beautiful sight and one rare ly witnessed by even birdologists. Mrs. Taylor appreciated her rare experience.

You may not have the privilege of knowing Mrs. G. F. Garland, the mother of two of our plucky business men. Well, if you have not met her, you've missed a fine original and interesting character. She was an early resident of Chicago, and vicinity and can relate many things of the beginings of now prosperous business men. Among these was the older Wittbold of the family successful florists. Yes, this most prosperous of all Chicago florists began business with a small hand delivery plant shop, and worked his way from the lowest round, to the top of the ladder—in Floricultural experience and prosperity. A fine example for our young men of today.

So now we are to have but five working days out of seven. Won't that be fine. That would give us a whole day to get our cars ready to get out on the highway and in the jam earlier Sunday morning. In the first flush of old time influence I thought when I heard of this proposed second day off each week what a fine chance that will be for the man of the family to get his car stunts done and be ready to go to church Sunday. But will he? There will be just so much more to be done, to get in the extra day will not be half long enough to get it all in, will it?

And what can you do
If you go about—
All in and out of our town,
And cannot scare an item out—
That is worth while setting down?
And what will you do
When you hear a score
Of things you dare not tell,
Startling things all very true
That should have been told before?
But you dare not—
Lisp a word, Oh, well—
What is the use to Observe
Great flares all over this town?
From rigid lines I dare not swerve
And it isn't because I haven't the nerve
For I'm dying to write them down!

—o—

Remember when Mr. James Shirra gathered together a fine garden of peonies and used to market them by hundreds of dozens? Now Mr. Schaeffer is offering those same peony bulbs at low prices, because he must make way for new buildings. That is what growth means. One man enters into his home projects with enthusiasm, serves his allotted time and his place falls into other hands. Other plans, and other schemes must erase and destroy before they can build up and so our growing goes on over the wrecked plans of another's ambitions. "Onward, onward onward, ever!" Human progress ever may stay."

—o—

Somebody told of a Florida sign that read "Hot Lunch," "Gas and Oil," and thought it a good diet for politicians. Don't suppose that even a diet of gas and oil could have helped Mayor Dever to hold that vast crowd he tried to address in Chicago Saturday, when the storm and confusion broke up all semblance of an audience and his efforts and his eloquence were scattered on the winds. The Booster Week speakers had much the same experience in Arlington Heights, only it was glittering attractions beckoning everywhere that kept the crowd from listening to speakers.

O! yes—we are all a year older than we were this time last year. Yet some of us are kept so busy all the time, there is little leisure for counting the years or for dreading the approach of age. And if one keeps health, God's greatest blessing, and by constant use retains their faculties age has no dread for such. If we are given length of days, then we should use them as God's gift, and endeavor to use them for some good purpose. There is always work to do, why shirk or say, I am too old.

—o—

How old am I? O, friend of mine,
There is no age known to the heart;
Across the sky new moons still shine
And stars in diamond brilliance dart.

The flowers brighten autumn ways
And green leaves bear a touch of gold:
The birds ring out anthems of praise.
How shall I say that I am old?

Who recks of age as years pass on,
The stars that joined creation's song
Who knows what radiance they have won
As ages old they move along?

The sun this morning rose as fair,
And dawn its banners gayly flung,
And life was throbbing everywhere
As buoyant as when I was young

And the dominion given man,
Circling through eons, without end,
And who shall say when time began?

How old am I? O, friend of mine—
This hand still finds so much to do,
So many duties, reach and twine
About my way the whole day thru.

And shall I falter, or look back
While God is calling me to live?
On the long trail there seems no lack
Of need for help that I must give.

There comes to me no fear of age,
There may come weakness to this shell
That holds me, still I must engage
My latest power to live life well.

God given life within the soul
That on, and ever onward fares,
This house of clay cannot control,
Age for the soul no terror wears.

New days, new years forever bring
Fresh interest in life problems here
The world advance and everything,
While hope and faith grow yet more clear.

Weakness and pain too oft arrest
The fullness of a life below:
I thank God for continued zest,
In each day's journey as I go.

How old am I? O, friend of mine—
Age in my life has yet no part,
It brings no fear, for 'round me shine—
And in me God's eternal heart!

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

Methodist Notes

Monday of this week the first dirt was excavated for the basement of the remodeled parsonage. Mr. Roy Dobbins donated the first days work. Mr. Puffer has also been seen getting close to nature. While the remodeling is in progress Mr. and Mrs. Billman will occupy the Pfingston home.

Last Sunday Mr. Billman spoke on Modern Martha's who spend so much of their energy and time on household things that they have no time for the realities of life. He applied the thought to husbands so immersed in their things that there is no spiritual fellowship. Creeds too instead of becoming mere things may become a tyranny. Civilization has laid its emphasis on things and when things became too great to manage they resulted in a world war. Reference was made to the Anti-Saloon Leagues action in endorsing a candidate who the Anti-Saloon League admits can never be seated because of corruptness. Such action places things before the end in view.

Next Sunday afternoon the Junior League will hold its first devotional meeting.

The High School League discussed "Fair Winners and Losers" last Sunday afternoon. The ethics of cheating in school and its relationship to life was discussed. After the meeting the girls served cocoa and the boys as usual had to wash dishes. The Knox team proved too much for the Dobbins in a game of indoor ball which ended in a 24-21 score.

The Tri-Sigmas journeyed to Norwood Park where they with young people from Park Ridge and DesPlaines were entertained by the Epworth League. Miss Adelaid Paxton leads the meeting next Sunday evening.

The Board of Stewards met with Mr. Billman Wednesday night of this week to discuss ways and means of financing the church's program.

Some 35 ladies of the Aid society enjoyed the lunch served last Friday in church. It was voted to purchase three new gas ranges for the kitchen. Some of the ladies met in church Thursday to tie quilts for the bazaar.

A week from Sunday is 100% day when every member and friend of the church is asked to attend the morning service. Standing room only is the slogan.

Watch It Grow
F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Anna Beigel was surprised Sunday when Geo. Thies and Louise Hahne from Schaumburg, Ella Sievers from Wooddale, Aug. and Adolph Sievers from Melrose Park, Mabel Seegers and Christina Mesklin and Hulda Kehrke from Chicago came and helped her celebrate her birthday (sweet sixteen). A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodges are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy. Mother and baby are doing fine and the proud Daddy is elated. We extend congratulations.

Mt. Prospect has a new legal voter in the person of Walter Mulso son of our chief, Walter is now a full fleged man having celebrated his 21st birthday with a party at his fathers home Saturday night.

Nurse Helen Jackson, reports that the letter sent out by our Health department to mothers regarding the Infant Welfare station was well received by the mothers. At the last session of the Infant Welfare 16 babies were brought in by their mothers. True it is we want the station and so do the mothers and we will keep it as long as the mothers want it.

Mr. Arnold Schram is fully recovered from his severe illness and Mr. W. Israel is also reported on the road to health.

From all indications Milburn Bros., will get started paving in Prospect Park subdivision before bad weather starts and it is possible that this job will be completed before the end of the year as they will start paving on Saturday if the weather permits.

Mr. Louis Hasz had his car stolen while in Chicago last week, it has been recovered by the McHenry Chief of Police, however it had been stripped of all accessories and tires.

Some rascals entered the Lutheran school bent on doing damage they succeeded in ruining some of the pupils books. It seems a pity that these fellows were not caught in the act as surely they did not realize the seriousness of their crime for such it was and to consider the lowness of it. When you try and hinder the education of our young American pupils you are putting something in the way of the nation as a whole for they will be the citizens and rulers of tomorrow.

Mrs. Chas. Grueneberg is back home although still in serious condition, however everybody concerned is hoping for the best and are looking forward to the time when she will be up and around again. Dr. Koester is the attending physician, we are pleased to see Mrs. Gruneberg home again.

Our streets are being badly torn up but the drainage work is progressing with quite a bit of speed and that is what we want both the Kruse and Reese people are working full blast.

Now Milburn Bros., come into town and have already unloaded their new Rex Mixer, this gives us three big improvements progressing at one time some record for our village which will be hard for many villages to keep up with.

The week of Nov. 1 to 8th Fred Meeske will have a Pure Food Demonstration which will be worth while attending, he will also have an extra special sale in connection with this.

The county highway department has issued new maps on the 15 million dollar bond issue and these maps indicate the Northwest Highway to be widened to 40 feet which we hope will help relieve traffic congestion.

Watch the advertisement of our local merchants that appear in this paper and you will be able to tell instantly where to go for the best values for your dollars and cents. Reliable and progressive merchants advertise in a reliable and progressive paper—the Herald—It pays to tell the people what you have to sell.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

Have you built any "Tin Gods?"

Do you crave money, success, fame?

Have you allowed "Tin Gods" to trample over you?

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25, 26.

Karl Struss, First National cameraman, has perfected a new double exposure effect that bids fair to revolutionize present methods. The new trick is seen in "Forever After," due at the Arlington theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29.

During the making of "Watch Your Wife," Virginia Valli who is co-starred with Pat O'Malley in this Universal - Jewel showing at the Arlington theatre Saturday, October 30 had an unusual honor conferred upon her. From far off Cairo, Egypt, came a letter telling her that her admirers there had formed "The Virginia Valli Club" with Ahmed Rifat Rachid, one of the prominent men of Cairo as its president.

Among the Theatres

Chicago Theatre will Celebrate Fifth Year

Balaban & Katz are to celebrate the fifth anniversary of their "flagship" the great Chicago Theatre during the week of October 25th with a program befitting the firm's pride in "the wonder theatre of the world."

A tremendous stage show with a gigantic birthday tableau and scenic and music spectacle will pay tribute to the theatre's fifth birthday, Kharum the Persian Pianist will be seen in a specially staged number, Jesse Crawford will pay his respects to the theatre in an organ specialty and "The Miracle of Youth" a lavish production with illusions and spectacle will employ some 25 artists.

On the screen Norma Shearer in "Upstage" will again play under the direction of Monta Bell, the megaphone man who seems to best understand her, having lifted her to fame in "Broadway After Dark" "The Snob" and "Lady of the Night."

"Upstage" is a story of a vaudeville dance team and reaches its climax when Miss Shearer, playing the deserted and hopeless chorus girl rushes on the stage to take the place of the girl in a knife throwing act, placing herself on the target board in order that the original girl may run to her sick baby. Oscar Shaw, Dorothy Phillips and a large cast are to be seen in this humorous and sympathetic story of life backstage.

Elinor Glyn Drama "Love's Blindness" at Norshore Theatre

The Elinor Glyn touch, which changed Lew Cody from a villian into a romantic leading man, established John Gilbert as the great lover of the screen, and made Aileen Pringle, has now Anglicized Antonio Moreno. In "Love's Blindness," the Metro-Goldwn-Mayer production of Elinor Glyn's novel, which comes to the Norshore Theatre on Sunday, Moreno is a thorough Englishman, even down to his name, which becomes Hubert Culverdale. Pauline Starke has the leading female role.

"Love's Blindness" is by far the most stirring of all Elinor Glyn productions, having an absorbing plot which has been unfolded skillfully.

Huge Symphony Concert With "Ace of Cads"

Michael Arlen, whose sensational story "The Green Hat" made one of the most amazing plays in modern history, has again achieved a sensation with another story "The Ace of Cads," which has been filmed with Adolphe Menjou in the character role, for presentation next week at The Uptown theatre.

The story concerns the life of a youth whose only ambition was to destroy womankind. It is produced with all of the satirical flavor of the original story because of the fact that Adolphe Menjou is the only actor alive who could plausibly portray the role.

"Under Venetian Skies," produced for the stage in New York by Paul Oscard, with a host of Broadway singers and dancers will be one of the stage events, and gems from the opera "Faust" with Marie Herron and Walter Pontius singing the principal roles, will be another.

H. Leopold Spitalney, conductor of the Uptown Theatre Symphony orchestra, will offer another program of short symphony classics, with prominent vocal and instrumental soloists as assisting artists.

"Rah! Rah! Rajah!" Shows at Oriental

Chicago's famous "Rajah of Jazz" will be in his native element next week when he takes his merry mad musical gang to the Orient to stage a show that will probably make the Sphinx rise and do the Charleston. "Rah! Rah! Rajah!" is the title of the new show in which a storm of jazz will hit the Sahara desert. Paul promises to keep the sands of the desert from growing cold. Palpitatin' pyramids! Old King Tut will probably regret more than ever that he didn't live in this day of modern sheiks and shebas. Senia Gluck's dancing girls will become maids of the harem for the new show, with Felicia Sorel doing her famous Oriental dance.

On the screen of the Balaban & Katz Oriental theatre next week will be a snappy, jazz-time comedy drama, "Subway Sadie" with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall of "Chickie" fame as the stars. Charlie Murray and Gaston Glass also are in the cast. This is the kind of photoplay that the Oriental theatre patrons enjoy the most—full of ultra-modern romance and swift action. The New York subway is the scene of much of the love-making in this comedy-drama, with Cupid hanging to the strap.

Repertoire Theatre Company Takes Over Studebaker

The Repertoire Theatre Company will present Mrs. Samuel Insull and her company in a new American comedy, "The Runaway Road", by Gretchen Damrosch Finletter, at the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, for an indefinite engagement beginning Monday nite, Nov. 1st. Back of this plain announcement is something of more than passing interest to theatre-goers of this city. It will be recalled that a year or so ago, Mrs. Insull, formerly so favorably known on the professional stage as Gladys Wallis appeared both here and in New York in an elaborate revival of "The School for Scandal." Her success on her return to the stage was quite out of the ordinary—not alone in Chicago but in New York as well, where she appeared in the play 95 performances, establishing a record run for the Sheridan masterpiece. This outstanding achievement has had a significant result. The Repertoire Theatre Company, an Illinois corporation, has, as it is well known, taken over the Studebaker Theatre for a term of years. Here, during a portion of each season, Mrs. Insull and the best company players obtainable, will appear in new plays, chiefly by American authors, and occasional revivals of standard plays and classics. It is not in any sense a "high-brow" movement' nor an effort to "uplift the drama." It is just meant to give that section of the public, who still love the spoken drama, the best that can be obtained, so far as seasoned professional judgment goes, in plays and players.

It is hoped, indeed confidently expected, that Mrs. Insull's season at the Studebaker will become an established feature of the theatrical year here. Stress is laid upon the fact that popular prices will be charged. In New York the prices for first-rate attractions at the theatres of the better class have gradually risen until now nearly every legitimate theatre in New York for any kind of a popular success charges from $5.00 per seat upwards, while, for opening nights of importance, as high as $10.00, $25.00, $50.00, and, in one instance, $100.00 has been charged. This, in most cases, has been out of all proportion to the value of the offerings. There will be no advance over the usual Studebaker scale of prices for Mrs. Insull's season, either at the opening performance or during the entire engagement, which are, from Monday to Friday nights, from $2.50 on the lower floor to $1.00 in the second balcony, and Saturday nights, from $3.00 on the main floor to $1.00 in the second balcony, plus the war tax of 10%. A popular Wednesday matinee has always prevailed at the Studebaker and will continue.

The effort is to bring people back to the theatre, and not to drive them away. In time, who can tell, Chicago may take its proper place as a theatrical producing center. As a matter of fact, in this instance, all of Mrs. Insull's productions will be built, costumed, right here in Chicago.

Secret of Vitaphone Not To Be Disclosed To General Public

The influx, during the last week of new shows, some of them with the endorsement of New York on them and others making their first bid for favor in this city, had no perceptible ill-effect on the interest in Vitaphone and John Barrymore's new production "Don Juan", the programme Warner Bros., are presenting at McVickers. This bill keeps apace of the so-called legitimate theatre and steadily forges ahead of most of the so-called movies.

Beginning its fifth week, this dual show remains what it was the night it opened, namely, one of the greatest inventions since the telephone and the most revolutionizing developemnt in the history of the theatre.

That the huge success of Vitaphone, scientifically, musically and histronically, has penetrated to the fartherest reaches of the four corners of the country, is at once evident in the hundreds of requests that have poured into McVickers for information on this new "screen with a voice." The letters, literally stacks of them in every mail, come from men and women in every walk of life. The commonest query is for information on Vitaphone mechanism with a detailed description of how, why and what, etc. To these queries, there is but one answer, set up by Warner Bros. themselves, and that is: No.

While Vitaphone is thoroughly protected by patents granted to the Western Electric Company and the Bell Telephone Laboratories, makers and inventors of Vitaphone, the Warners permit nobody to see the delicate mechanism that produces in life-likeness a snging and musical screen. Nobody is permitted "back stage," a liberty granted the curious which all but killed the illusion of the legitimate theatre.

The purely technical aspects of Vitaphone and its principles of coordinating sound and action will ever remain a secret so far as the public is concerned, a policy which the Warner Bros. established at the outset and which will ever remain in force.

New Delinquent Home For Boys and Girls

With the borderline hospital at Oak Forest completed and with the equipment installed, the members of the borderline commission, made a final inspection on Oct. 14th. It provides that children between the ages of 6 and 18 shall be admitted after they have been passed upon by the institute for Juvenile Research. The personnel recommended by the Commission includes one superintendent, one teacher, one head nurse, seven family instructors, one secretary-stenographer, and three male attendants. The equipment provides for handwork, academic and gymnasium work; the handwork includes weaving, carpentry, sewing, etc. There is also being worked out a recreational program, which will teach group recreation, team work, scout and Americanization, and the entrance of a child to this school will result through the recommendation of the Commission and the order entered by one of the Juvenile Court Judges, and the chief probation officer will be asked to place the child in this particular institution. Commitment will be indefinite, depending upon the recovery of the child under their expert training. Under perhaps the greatest demonstraton of civic cooperation the new school will be run—the Juvenile Detention Home furnishing one psychiatrist, one psychologist, one social worker from the Juvenile Research. The County is to supply heat, light, and food, beds and bedding, all laundry work, furniture and furnishings, plumbing and house repairs, and the Probate Court of Cook County cooperating will do its part, through Judge Horner, in making the continuation of the school possible.

Fall All-Day Meeting of I. F. W. C. Held in DesPlaines Thursday

The Fall all day meeting of the 7th district of the I. F. W. C. was held in DesPlaines Thursday, October 7.

In the morning the Chairman of the various departments of work gave an outline ofor the coming year. Some of the State Chairmen were present. Mrs. Henry A. Briggs, district chairman of Community Service said that her state chairman had asked her department to stress the censorship of our moving pictures, also to ask their neighborshood theatres for good music and good well acted motion picturess. Mothers are urged not to "park" their children in the Motion Picture Houses. Mrs. Briggs' department has under its care the building of club houses and playgrounds.

The speaker was Dr. Lena Sadler, State Chairman of Public Health and Child Welfare, who urged all women to gossip a little bit this year about health. She stressed the need of annual health audits, the same as annual audits of the books of concerns, not that there is anything wrong with one but to prove that one is alright. She urged club women to keep up the physical examinations of the pre-school child and the oral and medical examinations of the school child.

Lunch was served by the DesPlaines Woman's Club. Musical numbers were furnished by Miss Margaret Borchers, pianist and the DesPlaines Woman's Club Quartette. Miss Annette Wolfram danced and Miss Ruth Decker of Park Ridge gave a reading.

The afternoon meeting opened with roll call and announcements. The speakers of the afternoon were the State Chairmen. Mrs. Martin Kent Northam, State Chairman for Junior Membership urged all clubs in the state to have a Junior Auxiliary or in their Club was not large enough to accommodate an Auxiliary to have a Junior membership. Her slogan for this year is "A Junior Membership in Every Club."

Mrs. Constant Church Hopkins State Chairman of the American Home, asked that all clubs have an American Home Day once during the year and have an exhibition of labor saving devices, either home made or factory made. She also suggested that we use as our slogan "Slow Up." Mrs. J. Marc Fowler State Chairman of Indian Welfare, said that although we had no Indians in Illinois we were a key state and as such we should use our influence to back bills for the betterment of our First American Citizens.

Mrs. William J. Grotenbuis State Chairman of Literature has as her program for the coming year, "Read with a Purpose." We are urged to learn about our American authors and read some of their works. She told of a course that the Chicago University is conducting at the Art Institute, this winter; Tuesdays "The Appreciation of Literature"; Thursdays "Business"; and Fridays a "Contemporary Course." Lectures begin at 6:45 p. m. Fee for either of the courses is $3.00. Mrs. Arthur G Jackson, State Chairman of music wants us to do more community singing, she asks us to sing wherever and whenever we can. In some places the vaudeville houses are having community singing Mrs. Jackson's slogan for this year is "Make Popular Music Good and Good Music Popular."

Meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock after having sung one verse of "Auld Lang Syne."

Marie C. Ford, Press Chairman

Illinois Minister Uses Utility Transport to Swell Attendance

Believing that the application of modern principles of transportation will increase the attendance at his institution, an East St. Louis preacher has inaugurated a regular Sunday morning bus route to round up the distant members of his congregation and Sunday school.

Although the idea is not original with the local minister, the six-weeks' trial being given the plan is thought to be the first in Illinois.

A coach has been chartered from the East St. Louis and Suburban Railway for the trial period and if the excitement proves to be the anticipated success, the Sunday School Special will become a regular part of the Sabbath schedule.

Mrs. Laura Sutherland of Butler Corps, Chicago, held the inspector's chair. A large number of Butler Corps members came with Mrs. Sutherland as visitors, also several from Barrington swelling the attendance which already was large. The work of the evening and the inspector's little speech of praise of the work and accomplishments were enjoyed and gratefully received by all. A fine lunch closed this memorable evening. Five new members were initiated.

A correction: Last week's article about the charity work of the auxiliary, should have read that $50 was spent for slippers for the boys at Dunning and Speedway and not "fifty pairs." The organization also gave $25 to the boy scout fund early in the year.

Miss Alma Beckman, Chas. Beckman and Henry Beckman motored to Fond du Lac Saturday and visited their sister, Mrs. Alma Dwyer, returning Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Brinkmeyer and son S. F. Brinkmeyer, of Loyal, Okla., came to Palatine to attend the funeral of Mr. Christ Blohm. It was the first time that Mr. Brinkmeyer has visited Palatine since he moved to Oklahoma. He says that he is pleased with the improvements that are being made in the old home town. However, he claims that he prefers Oklahoma to Illinois. The warm climate down south during the winters especially appeal to him. When asked if the summers were not pretty hot down there, he replied, "it does not get warmer than 125 to 130 in the shade." That may sound rather warm to northern people, but the Oklahomians do not mind it and it is not felt as much as would be naturally supposed. We were surprised to learn that farmers are prosperous down there and have not had any disastrous crop losses. The stock is now upon the wheat fields, where they remain until March 1st when they are taken off and the wheat is allowed to mature. Very little hay is raised, says Mr. Brinkmeyer. He and his mother left Palatine Monday afternoon to return to their home.

An Amazing Lumber

Sets new standards of home comfort and economy

IT stops heat and cold three times as effectively as wood. It is stronger in walls, costs little or nothing extra and year after year will save about one-third your fuel money. For EVERY home, new or old.

THIS amazing lumber was produced to meet the great need for a building material that would resist the passage of heat and cold better than wood lumber, masonry and other wall and roof materials.

Celotex Insulating Lumber is not cut from trees. It is manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. Because of the great bracing strength of these broad boards, Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber. It is many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money!

NEW COMFORT FOR OLD HOUSES. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

AS SHEATHING

UNDER PLASTER

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

There was a small fire at the school house last Thursday. John Mach was the first to see it, and he stated the fire was started by a tramp. John had been in the basement to wash his hands. While there he saw a man light his pipe and throw the burning match into a barrel of dishes, packed in straw, belonging to the Community club. John informed Miss Bryan, and with the assistance of the older boys, the fire was put out. The tramp was nowhere to be seen. He disappeared as quietly and mysteriously as he appeared. He was a tall, dark man, shabby in appearance, and wore a hat full of holes. If anyone knows anything about this "holey-hatted" individual, please inform the school board.

Chicken thieves stole 75 chickens and 8 ducks last Friday night from Mrs. August Schmidt. Mrs. Schmidt and her family attended the bunco party at the school house. It is getting time for Wooddalers to oil up their shotguns and sharpen the dogs' teeth, and start warfare on these thieves.

Friends of freight conductor King Brown, were much surprised two weeks ago to learn that he had been taken suddenly ill while enroute from Savannah to Bensenville on the freight train he was running. He was taken back to his home in Savannah and later reports were to the effect that he was improving. However word comes that he has suffered a relapse and doctors pronounce his condition most critical.

Mr. Butler who went from Bensenville to Franklin Park as depot agent for the Milwaukee R. R. last year, returned to Bensenville station Tuesday morning as agent while Mr. DuPois took over the Franklin Park station. The change was agreeable to all concerned as Mr. Butler is a married man and lives at Bensenville, while Mr. DuPois being a single man had nothing to hold him here any more than any other place. Friends of the Butlers were pleased to see the change as it means that they will now remain in our town. Mr. Butler says it means 30 minutes more sleep each morning as well as a hot dinner.

About 1500 feet of new sidewalk on Pine avenue is now completed and it will be appreciated by all living along this beautiful residental avenue.

The Public Service Co., are making great changes and improvements in Bensenville. Poles are being removed from the streets and placed in the alleys and a higher voltage wire put up. The rapid growth of our village made it necessary for higher power to be furnished and while installing it they are following the instructions of the village board and placing their poles in the alleys. Another big improvement for Bensenville.

People for miles around know that our baker puts out the best bakery goods it is pssible to buy but few knew that he was also an expert cook until the C. M. & St. P. Womans club and the Boosters club gave their big feeds when Mr. Loesch tendered his services in roasting their meats And was it done to a Queens taste? Well just ask anyone who was there and see what they say. But believe us, it was the best we ever tasted.

The new coat of paint on the Shoppe home on York street makes it look like a different place. They have also had it made into a two flat residence and have rented the upper flat to our baker, who will soon occupy it.

NO MATTER what the weather is outside, you can keep the inside of your home at a comfortable, even temperature with storm doors and windows.

And they soon pay for themselves. Cases are known where from five to twenty-five percent has been saved on coal bills by storm doors and windows. Remember that the coal you'll burn this winter can't be used again, but your storm sash will last for years.

A Combination Storm and Screen Door

A Curtis combination storm and screen door is illustrated above. You just slip out the screen and put in the glass—not five minutes work. This door is made of durable white pine and will last a long time. It is priced quite reasonably, in fact, you get two doors for the price of one.

We carry a complete stock of Curtis storm doors and windows. Call us up and we'll come and take the measurements of your openings. Better do it now so you can begin to save money on this year's coal bill.

W. R. RIDGE LOCAL EDITOR

The new owners of the drug store at Thatcher and Grand ave., have adopted a new policy by which they strive to please the people at all times.

Mr. Breen, having sold his property will soon move to Chicago.

The police of Maywood staged a mammuth benefit show at the Lido theatre, Oct. 13, 14, 15. The proceeds will go towards caring for injury or fatality in service of the Maywood policemen.

The Vocational society of Shutins will hold their pre-holiday sales for this month at the residence of Mrs. A. S. Hook in Oak Park.

The bus problem in River Grove has got to the stage where it will even jeopardize the education of the children. As you know, there are many children in River Grove who attend the Franklin Park parochial school. They are taken to and from school free, the pastor paying the fares on a contract with Mr. Wilcox. Wednesday morning Mr. Wilcox had these buses stopped but his efforts to ring 25c a day out of each child were futile; Judge Dennis E. Sullivan ruling in favor of Mr. Wischna the busses continued the next morning.

Owing to this change of transportation, it has been decided that the new catholic church being erected will be the school building as originally planned. Services will be held in the school hall. The mothers of the children who attend Franklin Park can rest assured that if a new ruling stops the buses now carrying the children, they will be taken there free by the local editor; franchise or no franchise.

Perhaps the most convincing evidence of the ability of Judge McNerney is the fact that nearly all the hearings of the many men and women that have been arrested by the department of registration and education for practicing medicine without a license have been heard before him with perfect satisfaction to both state and defendant. These cases come from all over the county. Upon the completion of the hearing of Dr. Rein's case. Mr. Follmer of the department of registration is quoted as having said "I have never heard any judge execute a decision in a more complete judicial manner than this young man."

Dr. Rein, who was held over to the grand jury under $1200 bonds said to the editor, "If there is anybody capable of tempering mercy with justice I'm sure Charley is the one that will do it, and I'm convinced that I have been given as fair a show as any judge of a higher court could have given me." The latest of these cases were Nina and Elmer Spencer who were bound over to the grand jury, Friday, under $2,000 bonds.

Mrs. M. E. Kaban's case was continued until, Oct. 22.

I have no object in publishing these testimonials other than to substantiate the past articles printed here that some think are without foundation. River Grove needs men like McNerney, who boosts his home town by accomplishing deeds worth while.

Millard Westenhaven, 14, 1820 S. 1st ave., Maywood died Friday at Oak Park hosiptal from injuries received a week ago when he fell down the stairs at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Long of Oak Park are the proud parents of Twins, a boy and a girl.

Mr. Wetzel has moved his house furnishings to his home in River Grove so it looks as though our wonderful bakery will be permanent.

Charles Madsen, 45, of River Grove was killed when Sam Ademsen, driver of the car he was in, swerved to miss hitting a woman pedestrian, striking a light post. The accident occurred at 79th and Fullerton ave., Elmwood Park. He is survived by a widow and 8 children.

The public school teachers held their first meeting of this school term, Monday. The children were given the day off.

At a special meeting of the village board, Monday eve., bids for the installation of sewer and water taps along Spruce street and Belmont avenue were opened and read. Henry Geobles was awarded both contracts, he being the lowest responsible bidder.

The Polarine Bear Cats beat the Chiselers, 2 out of 3 games at their scheduled tournament, Monday night at the Elmwood Park alleys.

Clarence Norten leads on the black board with a high score of 232 pins. Can John D. bowl? and how!

The bunco party to be given at the Progressive club, Nov. 2, will probably be one of the best yet given in River Grove. Numerous prizes are already prepared as well as a number of novelties for the kiddies. Don't fail to attend.

It's Easier to Talk Than Write, Telephone Statistics Demonstrate

Twenty-two billion telephone conservations, fifteen billion letters and postal cards, one-fifth of a billion telegrams, annually—that's how the American people keep in touch with one another. The telephone transmits half again as many messages as the first-class mail, and one hundred and ten times as many as the telegraph.

Even these comparisons understate the service of the telephone, for every telephone conservation is a two-way communication. Each telephone connection is therefore equivalent to two letters, post cards or telegrams. The relative use of the telephone is really double that shown by a mere comparison of the total number of telephone conservations, letters and telegrams.

No other nation has developed the "telephone habit" to such an extent as we Americans have. But no other nation has anything like as many telephones as the United States, either in actual numbers or in proportion to population.

Relatives of President Coolidge have organized an orchestra. Perhaps the publicity agents had convinced them that the president is too modest to blow his own horn.

Anyone desiring to inspect the machine may call and we will be glad to demonstrate.

Storm sashes have been purchased for the north and west sides of our school and are being fitted these days. No doubt they will be of a great advantage.

An Amazing Lumber

[not cut from trees]

Sets new standards of home comfort and economy

IT stops heat and cold three times as effectively as wood. It is stronger in walls, costs little or nothing extra and year after year will save about one-third your fuel money. For EVERY home, new or old.

THIS amazing lumber was produced to meet the great need for a building material that would resist the passage of heat and cold better than wood lumber, masonry and other wall and roof materials.

Celotex Insulating Lumber is not cut from trees. It is manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. Because of the great bracing strength of these broad boards, Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber. It is many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money!

NEW COMFORT FOR OLD HOUSES. In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Let us tell you more about Celotex before you build or buy.

AS SHEATHING

UNDER PLASTER

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

Dr. McLaughlin is limping a bit. He wants it understood, however, that he has not been in an auto accident. It was something worse, a football game.

The meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps held on the 15th of October boasted of a large attendance, the occasion being inspection. Mrs. Laura Sutherland of Butler Corps, Chicago, held the inspector's chair. A large number of Butler Corps members came with Mrs. Sutherland as visitors, also several from Barrington swelling the attendance which already was large. The work of the evening and the inspector's little speech of praise of the work and accomplishments were enjoyed and gratefully received by all. A fine lunch closed this memorable evening. Five new members were initiated.

A correction: Last week's article about the charity work of the auxiliary, should have read that $50 was spent for slippers for the boys at Dunning and Speedway and not "fifty pairs." The organization also gave $25 to the boy scout fund early in the year.

"It's a Gay Life in Palatine"

No. 1:

Motor cop makes arrest of a "window peeker," fight ensues, cop saves himself by use of "billy," a case of mistaken identity, cop and prisoner shake hands and all is well.

No. 2:

A little gang warfare broke out on Bothwell Street, girl as the cause; so man combatants that the cop had difficulty to keep track finding them all; war subsided.

No. 3:

Palatine man runs amuck of officers of the law at DesPlaines; was on his way home on a Northwestern train, spending his time terrorizing passengers; a heavy fine and the Palatineite was allowed to continue on his journey.

No. 4:

"Button, button, who has got the button?" The police do not know and nobody else knows. The slot machines recently gathered up in a raid and reposing under lock and key in the village jail, have disappeared; trouble arises from the fact that one owner did not get his machine back.

Truly, a policeman has a gay life in Palatine.

Bowling Notes

Walter Senne rolled 248 the other night, which he thought was a very good score. Shortly afterwards, Al Mills rolled 258 which Mills thought was a better score. Walter had just placed the wreath of victory upon the brow of Mills, when in walked E. Willman and rolled 268. Mr. Willman apologized to the young fellows with the statement that he was of course many years older than the others and could be expected to know a bit more about bowling than they.

A box of two of 25 ElProducto cigars is the prize for high score this month.

Mrs. Jessie Schroeder won the prize for the weekly high score for ladies last week with a score of 148.

Former Residents Visited Palatine; Were Enthused

Mrs. Geo. Brinkmeyer and son S. F. Brinkmeyer, of Loyal, Okla., came to Palatine to attend the funeral of Mr. Christ Blohm. It was the first time that Mr. Brinkmeyer has visited Palatine since he moved to Oklahoma. He says that he is pleased with the improvements that are being made in the old home town. However, he claims that he prefers Oklahoma to Illinois. The warm climate down south during the winters especially appeal to him. When asked if the summers were not pretty hot down there, he replied, "it does not get warmer than 125 to 130 in the shade." That may sound rather warm to northern people, but the Oklahomians do not mind it and it is not felt as much as would be naturally supposed. We were surprised to learn that farmers are prosperous down there and have not had any disastrous crop losses. The stock is now upon the wheat fields, where they remain until March 1st when they are taken off and the wheat is allowed to mature. Very little hay is raised, says Mr. Brinkmeyer. He and his mother left Palatine Monday afternoon to return to their home.

Palinois Camp Fire Have Good Time

The Camp Fire officers elected this year are as follows: Edith Morris, president; Julia Filips, secretary; Alice Smith, treasurer; and Dorothy Oltendorf, was appointed press correspondent.

On Monday, October 11, we Camp Fire girls held our weekly meeting. Afterward we went up to the auxiliary where we were royally entertained. Marjorie Zinn won a pumpkin and a lovely "hanky" bag for guessing most accurately the number of seeds in the pumpkin. Edith Morris received a "make-up box" of cosmetics for acting out her future vocation in pantomine the best of the crowd. Then, after delicious refreshments were served we all went home having had a very enjoyable time.

Last Tuesday evening we had a Chinese banquet at the school house. All who came brought good appetites to keep them company. Afterwards we had our regular business meeting and the social end was in the form of a "hop" a la Victrola. This banquet was given as a welcome for our new members who are in person: Evelyn Oltendorf, Margie Paddock, Fairie Belle Bennett, and Clara Culverson. We were sorry that the fifth new member, Lillian Reuse, could not be present because of illness.

We expect to make rugs this winter and would be glad to get some "gunny sacks," old silk stockings and discarded velvet skirts, dresses, or old corduroy bath robes of any color. If you have any to spare please give them to one of the Camp Fire Girls or send them up to school to Miss Corzine.

The Palatine Commercial Association started its fall and winter activities at a meeting at the Village hall Monday evening. There are many things which such an organization can do for a community and the Palatine organization started out to try and help do some of those things at its Monday meeting. There is great need for a shelter on the south platform at the railroad station especially so since the new fence has been erected between the tracks. The association authorized the appointment of a committee which will meet some of the C. & N. W. officials and talk over some of the things which Palatine needs and is entitled to. Among the things to be discussed will be not only a shelter house on the south platform but a new station as well. President Peck appointed the following committee to meet the C. & N. W. officials. The committee will be accompanied by representatives from the village board and by the real estate operators of Palatine: C. D. Taylor, T. C. Hart, H. H. Schoppe, Fred Buenzaw, Dan Bergman, W. H. Hokemeyer and as many others as can go.

The association also discussed holding another rousing community gathering such as was held last spring and the following committee was appointed to work out the details of some sort of rousing get together meeting at which the children will play an important part.

F. F. Danielsen, T. C. Hart, W. S. Williams, G. C. Butler.

The new pastor is very much pleased with the fine spirit of the people of Palatine. The generous reception which has been given to him and his family is a source of great satisfaction. Methodist Church Makes Plans for The Coming Year

The pastor's cabinet met at the home of Rev. Billman last week and planned the work of the year. Naturally, the most important item in the program was the building project. The parsonage is being moved into place back of the church this week. The parsonage lot, north of Zimmer's store, is for sale, and plans are made for the building of a community house or more properly, the present building will be converted into a community house, and a new church auditorium will be built to the north of the community house.

The object of the community house is to provide a place and equipment for community games, and entertainments. It is a step toward providing wholesome amusement for the young people of Arlington Heights.

The spirit of the meeting is typical of the spirit that has been developing in this congregation for some time. It isn't the spirit of providing selfishly only for the members of the church, but the purpose of the building program is to provide for as many others as possible.

It is the hope that a program of some sort of entertainment and recreation and education can be provided for several nights of each week, when the new equipment is available. There will then be more room for Sunday school classes and for suppers and banquets.

Other plans for the year include giving the services of the pastor to the work of the Boy Scouts. This is a most important work and is also for others than church members. The pastor's wife is to perform similar service for the girls of the town by working with the Campfire girls. She has one group and Miss Laura McElhose has another. These groups contain girls from all denominations.

The Tri-Sigma work will include educational features this year. Now that the school board has taken over the night school for foreigners, the Tri-Sigma will start other classes for other folks. The one already announced is a class in Journalism which will be taught by Mr. Beaty. Others may be announced later.

The Tri-Sigma work will also feature educational trips for children. It is hoped that these may be started before long. The trips will be open to all children above a certain age, and will be made to Chicago to visit certain places of interest to children and of real educational value.

The organization of a men's club was conducted two years ago with great success.

A go-to-church month was also planned. The work of the choir was discussed and improvements planned.

This is the first time for many years that the Arlington Heights Methodist church has had a full time minister, and great things are expected this year. There are many willing workers and there is no trouble in finding plenty of work to be done.

ARTHUR A. HEBSCH

For State Senator
By Vernon Nickless, LaGrange Citizen

Arthur A. Huebsch was born in Wisconsin, Oct. 11, 1884, the son of Anton and Louise (Stein) Huebsch and the fourth of eight children. He was educated in the common school of his native town, the Alma high school, Buffalo Training school, Platteville Normal school University of Wisconsin and Chicago Kent college of Law.

Mr. Huebsch exemplifies to a remarkable degree the opportunity which our country presents to every boy who is intelligent and willing to work. He worked on a farm in his boyhood, worked in a lumber camp until the age of sixteen when he began to teach a country school. At the age of nineteen he was principal of a graded school and at the age of twenty-two was principal of a high school. In 1918 he began the practice of law in the city of Chicago, since which he has represented several villages of the district as attorney and is now president of the Village of Brookfield. He is a governing member of the Chicago Zoological society, a member of the Elks, Moose, German Club and Hamilton Club of Chicago and of the La-Grange Country Club. A director of the Lyons State Bank and other wise intimately identified with business, social and official activities of the district. The home life of Mr. Huebsch is beautiful and ideal and a source of inspiration and encouragement. With his charming wife Helen Moore Huebsch, and three stalwart sons, he resides at 266 Madison avenue, Brookfield, Ill.

The citizens of this district we are sure will feel proud that they cast their vote for Mr. Huebsch and we predict that he will win on election day by a huge majority.

Vote for Arthur A. Huebsch Republican Candidate for State Senator, Seventh District.

Miss Ellen Lackner Becomes Bride of Mr. John Albrecht

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lackner was the scene of an ideal prettily conducted wedding reception when their daughter, Miss Ellen Wilhemine was married to Mr. John Albrecht Saturday, October 16, at six o'clock in the evening in St. Peter's church, the pastor, Rev. C. Noack, solemnizing the sacred rites.

The bridesmaid was Miss Vera Geffert, the best man was Mr. Willie Lackner, brother of the bride; Miss Zelda Tesch, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. Irving Meyer, were also attendants.

The bride was prettily attired in a gown of white satin and georgette crepe, wore a long white veil, capote design with shower bouquet of white roses and sweet peas and was a winsome lovely bride. Miss Vera Geffert wore a pretty gown of orchid georgette, and Miss Zelda Tesch a handsome gown of yellow georgette, their bouquets were chrysanthemums, orchid and yellow, harmonizing with their costumes.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and guests were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The house was artistically decorated with flowers of pink and white, and garlands of oak leaves and ferns. A sumptuous supper was served to thirty guests, from a prettily decorated table. The place of honor given to a wonderful bride's cake made by the bride's loving mother.

Early in the evening a charivari party in reality serenaders, composed of the St. Peter's choir and other musical fun loving friends joined the happy company. The evening was merrily spent in games and music. A trio composed of Willie Lackner, Walter Tesch, Curt Noack, sang many pleasing numbers. Teacher Kolp, gave a greeting and word of welcome to the bride groom, a member of the choir and comparative stranger here who came from over seas, about three years ago, leaving his parents, sisters and brothers, to find a new home and a bride in this community, where he has made hosts of friends and is held in high esteem by all who have come to know him.

The pastor, Rev. Noack and teachers made up a part of this family group, and did their share in contributing to the joy of the occasion.

There were many beautiful and useful gifts, notably one sent by the bridegroom's family, a wonderful piece of hand wrought embroidery, a table cover worked by the loving mother and sisters of Mr. Albrecht over in Germany. Fine linen done in colors, a most beautiful gift.

At midnight the bride's cake was cut and served with other refreshments. It was just a happy home reception and congratulations were hearty and sincere.

The bride is one of our favorite home girls, and has hosts of friends in Arlington Heights. Since her school days she has had employment in the city.

The bride groom, Mr. John Albrecht is well educated and skilled electrician, and readily found work and recognition here since coming to this country.

The newly-wed Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht will make their home for the present with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lackner, where they have the sincere good wishes of many friends for their bright future.

For the greatest "actual operation" exhibit of heat treating at a steel convention in Chicago, nearly a million dollars worth of gas furnace equipment was installed.

Born 82 years ago at St. Augustine, Stephen and Hugh Babbitt are said to be the oldest living Civil War veteran twins, having served with the Illinois Volunteer Infantry.

Final Plans for New Courts and Jail Now Ready

Final plans for the new Cook county Criminal courts, jail, and administration building to be built at 26th street and California ave. were made.

The three buildings will cost $7,500,000. The voters have already authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $4,500,000, and the issuance of $3,000,000 more in bonds is asked at the Nov. 2 election.

Plan Huge Court Building

The Criminal courts building is to be seven stories high. On the first floor will be the sheriff's office and the office of the clerk of the Criminal court. The office of the state's attorney will be on the second floor. The third floor has not yet been assigned to an office. The chief justice of the Criminal court and the grand jury rooms will occupy the fourth floor, and the fifth, sixth and seventh floor will be occupied by court rooms, four to a floor.

The administration building will be five stories high. The jailers' offices and squad rooms will be on the first floor. A dining room and a kitchen where food will be cooked for jurors will be on the second floor. The third, fourth and fifth floors will be occupied by suites for jurors.

Plan for Woman Jurors

These jury suites will be so constructed that they may hold both men and women jurors according to plans. There will be three rooms to a suite, one room for men, one room for women, and a common room where both may meet and debate. This arrangement was made in anticipation of the time when women will be called for jury service.

The jail will be four stories high and constructed in wings like a modern beach hotel. Each wing will hold 78 prisoners and the jail will have a total capacity of 1,250 prisoners. Ground has been purchased so that more wings may be added, giving the jail a possible capacity of 3,162 prisoners. The jail and the Criminal courts building will be connected by a tunnel which will be used only by guards and prisoners.—Chicago Tribune.

NILES CENTER

Mrs. Louise Meyer entertained 12 ladies at Cinch, Oct. 14. High scores in order were Mrs. Edna Baumhardt, Mrs. Emma Wolters and Miss Mae Stielow.

Raymond C. Klehm is serving on the grand jury in the Federal Building, Chicago. He finds it interesting and says it is very instructive, giving a person an insight into the workings of the law as well as an added respect for the law.

Miss Erna Koellner entertained the bridge club Friday evening at her home, Kildare Ave., Chicago. Several Niles Center ladies belong to the club and when one entertains the husband or gentleman friend of each member is included in the party.

Mr. Jacob Franz has had a hot water heating plant installed in his home and with his family will enjoy the comfort of an evenly heated house this winter.

Wm. Wolters, Jr., was surprised by a party of his friends Saturday evening. Games played were Boston, Wink, Bunco and Wisk broom. The sixteen had a jolly time and were loathe to leave when home going time came. William was pleased with the numerous gifts he received.

Mrs. Flo Freund entertained at her Wilmette home Oct. 10, as guests two members of the Schiller the Florist family: Mrs. Bertha Schiller McDonald and Mr. Reinhold Schiller as well as their immediate relatives to the number of nine. The Schiller family who are so prominent in the floral business were formerly residents of Niles Center and had the green house plant recently dismantled by Mr. A. Lies, village trustee.

Mrs. Myrtle Klehm gave a luncheon and party Friday afternoon. The guests of honor were her mother, whose birthday it was and Mrs. Edna Harrer Jackson of Great Falls, Mont. Hallowe'en decorations and favors gave a cheerful aspect to the rooms and tables. In the game of progressive "500" the high scores in order were Mrs. Irene Harms, Mrs. Lydia J. Harms and Mrs. Ruby Galitz; Mrs. Victoria Harrer accepted consolation.

The Albert Krell family have moved into the Abbink flat on Floral avenue.

Mesdames E. T. Klehm, John Jarmuth and G. C. Klehm attended a quilting party Tuesday held at the home of Mrs. A. Heiby in Austin.

The chilly days are here. You can get nice cozy garments for the little tots at The Elite Shop.

The modern store front being constructed on Paroubek's bakery will make it look like a new, 2 flat and will also add greatly to the appearance of the street.

Dr. A. Louise Klehm and Dr. R. V. Sintzel attended the Tri-state Medical convention at Cleveland, O., this week. They left other doctors in charge here to care for immediate needs of their patients until Saturday, Oct. 23, when they will both be back on duty.

Future generations of Niles Center and vicinity will revere the memory of Rev. Father A. J. Wolfgarten for his wisdom and faithful labors in their behalf. That new parochial school building which he has planned and superintends the constructive of and for which he has raised the funds to pay for will be a monument to Father Woltgarten's sagacity, in years to come. This edifice will be a source of pride to all citizens of this community. It will be a handsome, substantial modern brick building 72x108 feet with a basement 14 feet deep for a general hall and two stories above each 13 feet high with ten school rooms. The structure complete is estimated to cost about $140,000. St. Peter's Catholic school now has 250 pupils and six sisters as teachers. Both will be greatly increased in number as the population grows.

WIDENING OF STREETS EARLY NEXT SPRING

Engineer's estimates have been prepared covering the widening to forty feet of streets of Arlington Heights "new business section." The legal proceedings will not begin until after January as there is no time for the construction work before winter sets in. The improvement includes Dunton Ave., from the railroad to the corner of the Presbyterian church; Evergreen and State road from the railroad to Miner St. Miner street, from Dunton to State road. This includes the new business district that has developed within the past two years. One block on the south side is also included, viz: Vail St. from Davis St. to Campbell. The improvement is greatly needed. The present 18 and 24 ft. streets are entirely inadequate.

Bjorndahl Takes Over Pine Ave.

The job of paving of Pine Ave. that was recently awarded to an outside contractor, has been taken over by the Bjorndahl Construction Co. This is a small job and Mr. Bjorndahl is at work on it now, as the original contract would not afford to "move in."

More Paving Next Year

Applications for considerable more paving on the south side are in the hands of the Board of Local Improvements. The rapid development of that part of the village has created a demand for "all improvements," and the village board is providing them as speedily as possible.

Zoning Ordinance Ready Soon

Arlington Heights zoning ordinance is "in type." It has been revised and will no doubt be ready for submission to the village dads very soon. There has been a lot of work necessary in the preparation of this ordinance, but its needs are becoming more and more apparent as each day passes.

Watch It Grow

F. L. H. LUEDERS, Editor

Anna Beigel was surprised Sunday when Geo. Thies and Louise Hahne from Schaumburg, Ella Sievers from Wooddale, Aug. and Adolph Sievers from Melrose Park, Mabel Seegers and Christina Meskin and Hulda Kehrke from Chicago came and helped her celebrate her birthday (sweet sixteen). A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodges are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy. Mother and baby are doing fine and the proud Daddy is elated. We extend congratulations.

Mt. Prospect has a new legal voter in the person of Walter Mulso son of our chief. Walter is now a full fleged man having celebrated his 21st birthday with a party at his fathers home Saturday night.

Nurse Helen Jackson, reports that the letter sent out by our Health department to mothers regarding the Infant Welfare station was well received by the mothers. At the last session of the Infant Welfare 16 babies were brought in by their mothers. True it is we want the station and so do the mothers and we will keep it as long as the mothers want it.

Mr. Arnold Schram is fully recovered from his severe illness and Mr. W. Israel is also reported on the road to health.

From all indications Milburn Bros., will get started paving in Prospect Park subdivision before bad weather starts and it is possible that this job will be completed before the end of the year as they will start paving on Saturday if the weather permits.

Mr. Louis Hasz had his car stolen while in Chicago last week, it has been recovered by the McHenry Chief of Police, however it had been stripped of all accessories and tires.

Some rascals entered the Lutheran school bent on doing damage they succeeded in ruining some of the pupils books. It seems a pity that these fellows were not caught in the act as surely they did not realize the seriousness of their crime for such it was and to consider the lowness of it. When you try and hinder the education of our young American pupils you are putting something in the way of the nation as a whole for they will be the citizens and rulers of tomorrow.

Mrs. Chas. Grueneberg is back home although still in serious condition, however everybody concerned is hoping for the best and are looking forward to the time when she will be up and around again. Dr. Koester is the attending physician, we are pleased to see Mrs. Gruneberg home again.

Our streets are being badly torn up but the drainage work is progressing with quite a bit of speed and that is what we want both the Kruse and Reese people are working full blast.

Now Milburn Bros., come into town and have already unloaded their new Rex Mixer, this gives us three big improvements progressing at one time some record for our village which will be hard for many villages to keep up with.

The week of Nov. 1 to 8th Fred Meeske will have a Pure Food Demonstration which will be worth while attending, he will also have an extra special sale in connection with this.

The county highway department has issued new maps on the 15 million dollar bond issue and these maps indicate the Northwest Highway to be widened to 40 feet which we hope will help relieve traffic congestion.

Watch the advertisement of our local merchants that appear in this paper and you will be able to tell instantly where to go for the best values for your dollars and cents. Reliable and progressive merchants advertise in a reliable and progressive paper—the Herald—It pays to tell the people what you have to sell.

Next Week's Pictures At Arlington Theatre

Have you built any "Tin Gods?"

Do you crave money, success, fame?

Have you allowed "Tin Gods" to trample over you?

Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25, 26.

Karl Struss, First National cameraman, has perfected a new double exposure effect that bids fair to revolutionize present methods. The new trick is seen in "Forever After," due at the Arlington theatre Thursday and Friday, Oct. 28 and 29.

During the making of "Watch Your Wife," Virginia Valli who is co-starred with Pat O'Malley in this Universal - Jewel showing at the Arlington theatre Saturday, October 30 had an unusual honor conferred upon her. From far off Cairo, Egypt, came a letter telling her that her admirers there had formed "The Virginia Valli Club" with Ahmed Rifat Rachid, one of the prominent men of Cairo as its president.
